"SERVING VIRGINIA'S FASTEST GROWING COUNTY"

Home Society Cares for Eight Area Children

Eight babies from Norfolk County, Norfolk City and Princess Anne County were in the care of the Children's Home Society of Virginia last year.

The total number cared for throughout the State was 391, according to the annual report of J. W. Stuart Gilchrist, General Secretary of the Society. Of these babies 305 were in adoptive homes for all or a part of the year. Eight of them were in Norfolk County, Norfolk City and Princess Anne County and the Community Chest area homes.

One hundred and thirty-eight new babies were received into care of the Society last year and 117 were placed in adoptive homes, he said. Both figures are near-record marks.

The difference between the number placed for adoption and the number taken into care is explained by the fact that some babies are returned to their mothers and the Society helps these parents to make a responsible plan for their offspring. Other babies are still in the care of the Society, awaiting placement in adoptive homes.

Expansion of services has increased faster than current income, Gilchrist reported, but new bequests and special gifts in recent years have more than equalled the total of amounts withdrawn from the Society's reserve account to meet operating deficits.

Grants totalling $11,000 were received from the Edgar A. Thurman Charitable Foundation for Children last year. These grants made it possible for the Society to care for a larger number of children. A grant from the Old Dominion Foundation focused attention on what could be done for hard-to-place babies with special problems, when there was money from the fund. Of the 10 babies who had help from this fund, 10 have already been placed in adoptive homes.

The overall income of the Society in 1958 was $210,616.78, Gilchrist said—an increase of $25,528.55 over 1957. This included allocations from 46 Community Chests and United Funds in the State of Virginia and contributions from about 30,000 individuals.

Writing Event Sets April 15 As Deadline

The Virginia Division of the American Association of University Women is sponsoring its fourth Creative Writing Contest. The contest is open to any resident of Virginia who is not a professional writer.

Contestants are asked to send a fee of one dollar with their entries. This fee entitles them to enter two manuscripts in any one of the prose categories, or five poems. A contestant may enter more than one category if a fee is sent for each category.

The writer's name and address must be placed in a sealed envelope, on the outside of which is written the title of the manuscript and the category for which it is intended.

Manuscripts, fee and sealed envelope must be sent by April 15, 1959 as follows:
Poetry to Mrs. Victor A. Vaughn, 6229 North 23rd St., Arlington, Va.
Short stories (word limit 3,000) to Mrs. Robert Mason, 2735 Stephenson Ave. S. W., Roanoke, Va.
Short-story stories (word limit 1,000) to Mrs. Henry Chenguit, Brook Drive, Danville, Va.
Children's stories (word limit 2,500) to Mrs. George McHenry, 6018 Craig St., Springfield, Va.

Non-fiction stories and essays (word limit 1,500) to Mrs. V. B. Tate, 220 Penguin Drive, Virginia Beach, Va.

The best three manuscripts in each category will be announced and the writers given certificates of award at the Virginia Highlands Festival at Abingdon in August. Resident of this area are invited to enter this contest.

Attorney General to Address P.A. Woman's Club Meeting

Albert S. Harrison, attorney general of Virginia, will address the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County and their guests at their Men's Night banquet at the Princess Anne County Club, Virginia Beach, Feb. 10 at 7 p.m.

Mr. Harrison, a native of Warwick County, Virginia, was educated in the public schools of that county and at the University of Virginia, receiving his law degree in 1928. He served in the United States Navy in World War II and as member of the Virginia State Senate from 1948 to 1957. Among other public services are noted sixteen years as Commonwealth's Attorney of Brunswick County, service as president of Commonwealth's Attorneys Association of Virginia, membership on the Governor's Commission on Public Education, the Virginia Advisory Legislative Council, the Legislative Council of Southern Regional Education Board. He was elected attorney general of Virginia on Nov. 5, 1957, and assumed office Jan. 11, 1958.

Mrs. Harrison, the former Lucy Virginia Barkley of Lawrenceville, will accompany her husband to Virginia Beach. The program is under the direction of Mrs. Foster I. Gilbert.

A program of instrumental music by Jay and Jack Ward, accordionists and guitarists, will be under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Dorris, club music chairman.

RETIRED CIVIL SERVICE EMPLOYEES TO ORGANIZE

All retired civil service employees in Princess Anne County are invited to a meeting to organize a local chapter of the National Association of Retired Civil Service Employees at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 11 at 525 Highpoint Ave., Virginia Beach, Va.

New Movie of Beach Will Be Shown Tuesday

A new 15 minute 16mm color film on Virginia Beach will have its initial showing at The Virginia Beach Convention Center on Tuesday evening, February 10 at 8:30. The premiere has been arranged to coincide with a 3-day meeting of The Virginia Motor Club Association and those attending will be special guests for the occasion. Invitations are being extended through The Chamber of Commerce to promotional people throughout the state, to board members of The Confederacy and to all local administrative promotional and civic groups. The public is also invited to see this exceptionally fine new movie.

The film produced by Guided Tour Productions, Incorporated of Ocala, Florida is titled "Historical Landmark" and covers the multiple historical attractions in Tidewater as well as the resort's vast diversity of recreational pleasures, scenes from "The Confederacy," shots of the convention center and night time entertainment in the center as well as various clubs. The movie includes a water ballet, aerials of the beach front with its new look and aerials of the waterways behind the oceanfront.

According to Laura Lamb, of Laura Lamb Advertising who assisted the Florida movie firm in the story board and the setting up of scenes and models, all the people in the movie are local with the exception of one or two vacation guests.

After the premiere the movie is contracted to be shown on 100 TV stations in markets from which this resort attracts its vacation business while other film will be available through The Chamber of Commerce for civic clubs, schools and large organizational offices.

The new film is a promotional property of The Chamber of Commerce and the Virginia Beach Advertising Committee.

Virginia Motel Groups Holding Convention Here

The annual State convention of the Virginia Motel Association will convene in Virginia Beach starting Saturday, according to A. B. Crews, manager of the Holiday Sands Motel here.

Opening Saturday with registration the State meeting will continue through February 11. Headquarters for the convention will be the Convention Center.

Crews announced that all hotel and motel operators in the Virginia Beach area are invited to attend the meetings of the convention.

One of the highlights expected for the four day meeting will be a panel discussion covering such topics as housekeeping, decorations, front office procedure and sale-leaseback operations.

Winter Rough On State Roads

State highway engineers are apprehensive about the extent of damage caused to roads throughout the state by severe weather this winter.

Already there are signs that the damage might equal or even exceed that of last winter when the Department had a $6,500,000 repair bill—the costliest in its history.

The combination of extremely cold weather, large amounts of moisture in the ground, and occasional thaws have weakened road bases in many areas and surfaces are beginning to break.

Much of the damage so far, engineers said, has occurred on secondary roads that have not been resurfaced for several years because of the lack of funds.

Although no accurate damage figure is available now, the Department said reports from field engineers indicate that break-ups on primary and secondary highways so far will cost several million dollars to repair. Much depends, they say, on what happens during the remaining portion of the winter.

Field reports show that the damage has occurred on roads in all sections of the state and has been especially severe in the northern and western sections. As in past years, lightly surfaced secondary roads are the hardest hit.

Outstanding Young Farmer

Mothers March in Chesapeake Beach Reaches $2500 Total

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach, who directed the March of Dimes Campaign in Bay-side, has announced that $2,511.50 was collected in that area on the Mother's March.

Mrs. L. E. Ledington declared the entire campaign had been one of Community participation and cooperation. Other organizations assisting the Chesapeake Beach Club were the Thoroughgood Garden Club, The Lake Shores Civic League, The Lake Joyce Garden Club, The Ocean Park Woman's Club, The Bay-side Junior Woman's Club and the Lakeview Shores Woman's Club.

Individuals handling the Mother's March in their areas were Mrs. Oscar Bornstein, Diamond Springs, Mrs. John Wade and Mrs. E. K. Penninger, Aragona Village, Williamsburg, Mrs. John Day.

Following the Mother's March, the stated groups from surrounding areas gathered at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center to count money at tables assigned to them.

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach provided a second official money counting team and coffee and doughnuts for everybody.

Mrs. Frederick Rieder, her usual thrifty self, searched the dollar bills for the "top dollar" on the chance that Polio could be further enriched.

The Woman's Club was assisted by the hard working Polio Campaigner, John K. Dunning. Mr. Dunning helped to organize areas all over the County, and then reported to the Community Center to help Mrs. H. W. Fulford, Club President, to greet the ladies at the door and helped them count their money.

Counting money were Mrs. W. E. Meekins, Mrs. L. E. Ledington and Mrs. Rieder. At the serving table were Mrs. A. H. Burns and Mrs. J. N. Scarborough, Mrs. Henry Hedley and Mrs. J. P. West.

Preceding the March, the Chesapeake Beach Fire Department, under Chief B. E. Monroe, conducted a parade through the Bay-side Area. Loud speakers reminded residents to turn on their porch lights. The Mothers declared this to be a wonderful help.

Mrs. L. E. Ledington was chairman of the Polio Campaign for the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach in Bay-side with Mrs. W. E. Downs, Mrs. Frederick Rieder and Mrs. Elwood A. Hudson serving on her committee.

The Couriers Quartet will appear at the Oceana School Auditorium, Front Street, Oceana, Va., on Friday night, Feb. 6, 1959 at 8:00 p.m.

This famous quartet together with their gifted pianist will conduct a concert of sacred hymns and gospel songs. They have made personal appearances in many cities across the nation besides many television and radio programs. They make their home in Harrisburg, Pa., where they conduct a daily radio broadcast.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

The fifth annual Fraternal Order of Police-Federal Order of Police Associates banquet next Tuesday night will be different from those of the past. It will be an all-male affair, that is, a stag party.

The men only party is scheduled for next Tuesday night at 8:30 p.m. at the Cape Colony Club. Featured speaker for the affair will be Congressman Thomas N. Downing.

W. B. Hall Jr. is serving as general chairman of arrangements for the F.O.P.-F.O.P.A. banquet.

Ray Newman Named Princess Anne's Outstanding Young Farmer

A 25-year-old native of Princess Anne County, Ray E. Newman of London Bridge, has been judged "Princess Anne County's Outstanding Young Farmer" in a contest sponsored by Princess Anne Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Young Newman won out over ten finalists in the contest, according to Walter R. Menden, campaign chairman for the county Jaycees. The 25-year-old farmer was born in Princess Anne County and attended Oceana High School. He is a member of the London Bridge Baptist Church, the Princess Anne Farm Bureau and the Young Democratic Club.

Newman has been farming on his own for about five years. He farms some 280 acres and he is primarily a grain farmer. The outstanding young farmer's principal crop is soy beans of which he farms about 150 acres each year. Other crops include wheat, corn and oats.

Newman farms on a modern scale practicing crop rotation, soil conservation, soil analysis and other modern methods. In winning the local contest Newman will now compete in the State contest.

Young Newman is married to the former Miss Joyce Elizabeth Menden of Princess Anne.

Key Clubs Announce Scholarship Program for Area Schools

Mayor Frank A. Dusch has proclaimed next week as "Scholarship Week" in Virginia Beach in recognition of the program being sponsored by the Key Clubs of the Tidewater area to establish scholarship funds in each high school.

The Key Clubs are high school service organizations sponsored by the Kiwanis Clubs of the area. "Scholarship Week" runs from February 8 through February 14 and is designated to spotlight the year-round scholarship drive of the Key Clubs.

The week will get underway officially with a scholarship fund-raising dance to be held at the Original Club at Newport News on Saturday night.

A principal source of income for the scholarship fund is expected to come from the sale of colorful decals in the form of a key with the inscription "I Helped A Scholar With A Dollar." These decals are now on sale and the sale will continue to the entire school year.

Each school will be assigned a teacher to act as school commencement exercises in June. The recipient will be selected by a committee of the school made up of faculty members and representatives of the Key Club.

It was pointed out that it is planned to approach the various clubs in the area for the sale of the decals.

The Key Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne High Schools are a part of Division 13 which also includes Suffolk, Norfolk, Norfolk County, Warwick, Newport News, Hampton, Williamsburg and York County.

This is the first year for the scholarship program in this area.

VFW Presents Flags to Local School Rooms

An outstanding feature for the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post Ladies Auxiliary 7166 of Virginia Beach was in the presentation of 20 American flags, one for each class room in the Lankhorn Park School, Laskin Road, on Monday night, February 2, at the P.T.A. meeting.

Presiding was Mr. H. L. Caynes, president of the P.T.A. who today presented the flags to the P.T.A. chairman, Mrs. Thomas A. Ayres, president of the ladies auxiliary, accepted the flags on behalf of all the teachers and students. He also told some of the history of our flag. After which everyone stood and repeated the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Those participating from the VFW besides Mrs. Walker were: Mrs. Abner Steuler, chairman of the Ladies Auxiliary; Mrs. Glenn Dill, vice chairman; Mrs. Ruth Mangos, hospital chairman; Sgt. and Mrs. Parsons, Mr. Durrell Walker, and Mr. Gordon Bascome, principal of the school.

Seahawks Lose To Academy in Basketball Game

Norfolk Academy recorded its seventh straight basketball victory Tuesday, a 40-30 decision over Virginia Beach. In hisking their record to 7-3 the Bulldogs reversed an earlier loss to the Group Two quintet.

Coach Bill Harvie's operatives were without their high scoring center, Mike Morris, who is ill. However, Fred Baydush rebounded splendidly in his stead and contributed 11 points. Teammate Tom Supak with 10 was the only other double-figure scorer in a tight-fisted defensive battle.

Virginia Beach was held scoreless until the last 12 seconds of the first period and had no player with more than five points.

The Academy Jaycees also won, 56-46, with Kenny Miller scoring 23 points.

All persons from Virginia Beach, London Bridge and Bay-side area are invited to be at the chapel. Training Officer William T. Bennett will preside and handle registration. For further information, call Mr. Brown at GA 8-1159.

Nominees for First Citizen Closes Feb. 13

February 13 is the deadline for nominations for Virginia Beach's First Citizen award presented annually by the Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce.

All nominations must be postmarked no later than February 13 and should be mailed to C. Linwood Clements, chairman of the awards committee, at post office box 574, Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Those nominated may be recommended on deeds or accomplishments covering several years and not necessarily for 1958.

Miss Humphries, H. J. Gerken Jr. Exchange Vows

The Kempsville Methodist Church was the setting Saturday at 3:30 p.m. for the marriage of Miss Shirley Ann Humphries and Hubert John Gerken Jr. of Berryville.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Arthur P. Roach, pastor of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Flora Humphries of Kempsville. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John Gerken of Leesville, and the late Mr. Gerken.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown, which she designed and created, of tulle, taffeta and Alencon lace. Her head-dress was fashioned of seed pearls and net with a short veil of illusion from Brussels. She carried a nosegay of white carnations and lily of the valley, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Doris Humphries was maid of honor for her sister. The bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Cawley of Richmond, Mrs. Harry Miller and Mrs. Robert Davis, both of Lynnhaven, and Mrs. Leonard Barnes of Virginia Beach. Little Miss Ann Wideman, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Barry Knight was ring bearer.

Benjamin H. Weddle of Front Royal was best man. The groomsmen were Harry Groves of Williamsburg, Earl Groves of Leesville, George Russell of Hyattsville, Md., and William McClure of Steele Tavern.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the social hall of the church. Later, the couple left for a southern wedding trip. Upon their return, they will reside at 322 W. Main St., Berryville.

Diagram 4-Door Sedan shows the Fisher Body beauty of Chevrolet's lowest priced series for '59.

CHEVY'S NEW HI-THRIFT 6

More miles are back in a gallon of regular-grade gas—up to 10% more—and Chevy's new Hi-Thrift 6 engine puts them there. It also gives you more "zip" in the speeds you drive the most.

Here's an engine that always seems able to coax extra miles out of a tank of regular-grade gas. In fact, if you're one of those drivers who keep tab on things like gas mileage, you'll soon see for yourself that this new Hi-Thrift 6 gets up to 10% more miles a gallon.

Another thing you'll like about this 100-h.p. 6 is the extra pep it gives you for passing and climbing hills. This is due to higher torque at normal speeds.

It may be hard to believe anything that looks and moves like this '59 Chevy can be such a stickler for economy. But—whether you pick the Hi-Thrift 6 or a v-8-packed V8—this is just one more reason Chevy's the car that's wanted for all its worth. Stop by your dealer's and see.

The smart switch is to the '59 Chevy!

Southeast Cited as Area with Greatest Growth Potential

Savannah, Ga.—Despite continuing economic recovery, there will be no "Free Riding" for American business in 1959, said William H. Neal, senior vice president of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, Winston-Salem, N.C., as he addressed more than 200 officials of Colonial Stores Incorporated here today for their 19th annual management conference. "Conditions will be favorable," he added, "but the tide of business will not carry us along—we shall have to row our own boats."

Mr. Neal, former president of the North Carolina Bankers Association and twice a representative of the United States Government on special missions overseas, also made these points in his address to the supermarket chain executives:

1. Consumers will have plenty of spending money but they will not be in a hurry to buy;

2. The profit squeeze will be on, and management must find ways to increase productivity and cut costs;

3. The Southeast has the greatest potential for growth and development of any section of the country.

The Colonial Stores' officials—who operate more than 470 stores in 11 states east of the Mississippi—were told that the South's "post-war industrial revolution" had resulted in the establishment of more than 22,000 new businesses in the area since the end of World War II. This "revolution" is giving greater diversification to our industry and adding stability to industrial production," Mr. Neal said. More than 800 new types of industries are coming into the area, he declared.

"In the past, too large a percentage of people in the Southeast have been employed in plants requiring only unskilled or semi-skilled workers. If we are to raise our per capita income, we must have more workers in jobs requiring greater skills, and this means establishing the type of industry that provides such jobs."

Farm income in the South is being stabilized through a simultaneous "agricultural revolution," Mr. Neal pointed out. Crop diversification and mechanized farming means larger farms, more capital and fewer farm workers, he said. "The result is a higher standard of living for the farmer, and this means more money in the area, where growing industry is providing new jobs at higher pay," Mr. Neal said.

The North Carolina banker cited the following "very dramatic" gains in the collective economic growth of the Southeastern states from Maryland through Alabama, including Tennessee and Kentucky, in the period 1947-57:

1. Manufacturing increased 88 per cent against an increase of 74 per cent for the rest of the country;

2. Wholesale trade was up 89 per cent compared with 60 per cent in the other states;

3. Bank deposits increased 52 per cent while the increase outside the area was 42 per cent;

4. Personal income up 50 per cent, compared with 42 per cent;

5. Per capita income, "where the South has traditionally lagged behind," increased 54 per cent, while a 47 per cent gain was recorded for the rest of the nation.

Mr. Neal represented the United States as a member of a Defense Department mission to Western Europe in 1952 and served overseas again last year as a special representative of the Treasury Department.

Mutual Federal Opens New Branch on Little Creek Road

Hailed by business and civic leaders as heartening evidence of substantial faith in Norfolk's continued progress, an additional branch office of the Mutual Federal Savings and Loan Association will be opened for business on Wednesday morning, February 4.

The home of this newest addition to Virginia's largest savings and loan institution is a splendid, modern structure recently completed for Mutual Federal, at 1909 East Little Creek Road.

Strategically located to serve Norfolk's growing population, in a section that already boasts thousands of new homes, this ultra-modern, new facility is the fourth Mutual Federal office now located in the Tidewater area. Other branches are found at Portsmouth and Virginia Beach, with the home office located at Boush and Bute Streets, in downtown Norfolk.

Frederick business use of their new quarters, President Clayton Q. Nugent and the other officers and directors of Mutual Federal will be hosts at a formal opening, scheduled from 7 until 10 p.m., Tuesday, February 3.

Prizes and gifts to all in attendance, are announced. These latter include copies of a 40-page illustrated brochure which graphically recounts the story of Tidewater's growth over the 70 years of Mutual Federal's life.

A special recital on the Mutual Federal carillon will be heard from the new branch office on the evening of Monday, February 2, from 8:30 to 9 o'clock.

Located adjacent to the entrance to Larrimore Lanes, the new branch office is on a 12-acre site with a frontage of 134 feet along Little Creek Road. The suburban nature of the property has been preserved through landscaping of the wooded terrain.

The structure itself is of limestone and autumn-blend brick, fully air-conditioned, and with partments. He received the Distinguished Service Award of the Treasury Department in 1950 for work in support of the Department's sound money program.

Schemes to Victimize Public Are Growing

Postmaster Merrell M. Nash Jr. announced today he has been advised that all United States Attorneys have been alerted to a growing number of schemes victimizing the public, and have been instructed to press prosecutive action whenever violations of federal criminal statutes have been disclosed.

In publicly disseminated statements, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and Attorney General William F. Rogers have indicated concern with this problem, Mr. Nash said.

Mr. Nash added that both the United States Attorneys and Postal Inspectors will coordinate their efforts under the guidance of the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice.

Malcolm Anderson, Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Criminal Division, has forwarded to all United States Attorneys a letter outlining the problem and suggesting actions to be taken. In the letter, Mr. Anderson said:

"United States Attorneys should consult freely with the Postal Inspectors and the Fraud Section in the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice."

"The increasing danger to the public from these fraudulent schemes demands the immediate attention of all United States Attorneys. In view of the concern of the Attorney General and the Postmaster General, the Criminal Division should be kept promptly and fully advised of the status of all cases in this area which come to your attention."

Among the schemes that may be of special interest to members of this community, as outlined by the head of the Criminal Division in the letter, according to the postmaster, are these:

Need To Act As Agents: Fraudulent obtaining of money from

The gist of these schemes is the swindler's offer to perform impressive services which will aid the victim in his attempts to negotiate a particular transaction. Performance of the service is always contingent upon payment of an advance fee; once the fee is paid, however, no services of appreciable value are ever rendered.

The most common use of this scheme is where a small businessman desires to sell his business. In a variation of this scheme, businessmen desiring loans are induced to employ the swindlers to obtain financing. In another variation, persons owning real estate in a state other than that of their residence are induced to employ the swindler to aid in the sale of the real estate.

There is another type of scheme involving sales of accounting services. In the main, the services are of little, if any, value. Some instances are reported where the swindlers, having gained access to the books of their client, utilize the information for blackmail.

vending machines. The prospect of obtaining large profits in return for a relatively minor investment and no physical labor is often irresistible. Swindlers, therefore, find it relatively easy to sell vending machines by grossly overexaggerating the profits that can be realized by the sale of candy, peanuts, and similar vending machine items. These fraudulent schemes are often furthered on this lure by promising to obtain profitable locations and to repurchase the machines if the venture is unsuccessful. Of course, these promises remain unfulfilled and, in some instances, the misrepresentations form the basis for a successful prosecution.

The general approach of this type of scheme is to create the belief that there is a ready and substantial market for certain goods which can be produced at home. The swindler, of course, sells the machine and produces these goods. The victim is convinced by the swindler's assurances that he will purchase and resell any goods produced. In reality, payment for the machine assures only the disappearance of the swindler. This scheme is particularly vicious because it is most appealing to those who can earn a livelihood only at home, e.g., the aged or infirm.

Easy-to-Win Contests. The general format of these contests usually consists of an open invitation to the public to win a "prize" by the performance of a relatively simple task. For example, an advertisement shows a woman attired in a polka dot dress; a cash prize is to be awarded to the person who correctly counts the number of polka dots, a feat requiring no more than a mastery of elementary arithmetic. All entrants, of course, are winners and are told to call for their prizes at the business address of the advertiser. The winner then learns that his "cash prize" can be obtained only as a credit against the purchase of merchandise.

EDITORIAL SPEAKING

We Welcome the Motel Operators

This weekend Virginia Beach is expecting a majority of the leading motel operators from throughout Virginia to begin arriving for the annual State convention of the Virginia Motel Association to be held in the new Convention Center. We welcome this fine group to our community.

Playing host to the Virginia Motel Association presents a marvelous opportunity for Virginia Beach and its motel and hotel operators to build for the future. It will give these members of the association an opportunity to view first hand the tremendously attractive new motels we now have and to see for themselves the great improvement in tourist accommodations here. What better advertising could a group hope for than to have these operators recommend Virginia Beach to their guests.

An attractive program has been arranged for these guests to our city by our motel and hotel people. Besides the business session of the convention there will be numerous side trips for those attending the convention.

We are proud to have the Virginia Motel Association meeting here in our city and we trust that they will have a most successful convention and one that will want them to come back again and again.

A Worthy Project

The Key Clubs of this area have announced a fund raising campaign to aid in establishing a scholarship at both Virginia Beach High School and Princess Anne High School. The Key Clubs are student service organizations sponsored throughout the world by Kiwanis International.

The scholarship program among Key Clubs is not a new program but it is being undertaken in this area for the first time. This week Mayor Frank Dusch issued a proclamation calling attention to the Key Clubs' program and declaring next week to be "Scholarship Week".

The principal source of money in the campaign is expected to come from the sale by Key Club members and civic clubs of colorful decals in the form of a key. Inscribed on the decals is the wording: "I Helped A Scholar With A Dollar."

At the end of the school year the scholarship will be presented to a senior in each high school. The award winner will be selected by a special committee made up of members of the school's faculty and representatives of the sponsoring Key Club.

The scholarship program of the Key Clubs is a most worthy project and we urge full support of all our citizens to make it a success. The Key Club members will do their part. It is up to us to do our part.

Dr. Kahn Attends Army Reserve Re-organization Optometry Meet

Dr. Howard D. Kahn, of Virginia Beach, is among those registered for the 30th Annual Southeastern Educational Congress of Optometry to be held on Sunday through Tuesday, February 8-10, at the Biltmore Hotel in Atlanta.

A member of the summer faculty of Georgetown University, Dr. Robert A. Krasnik, of Washington, D.C., will cover the relationship of reading difficulties and vision, including the role of the vision specialist in correcting reading problems.

The other speaker, Dr. P. N. Devereaux, Morganton, N.C., president-elect of the American Optometric Association, will address the congress on the subject, "The State of the Profession."

More than 600 persons from the states of Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Kentucky, West Virginia, Tennessee, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida are expected for the congress. The highlight of the three-day event will be an Awards Banquet on February 9 at which the "Layman of the Year" and "Optometrist of the Year" for the South will be announced.

SHOWER TUESDAY PANCAKE SUPPER ELATED FEB. 10th

The Annual Shrove Tuesday Pancake Supper will be held at the Eastern Shire Chapel on Tuesday, Feb. 10th, at 6:30 p.m.

It is sponsored each year by the Women of the Church, and has become one of its traditions. The supper will be held in the Parish House on Lusk Road, and will consist of pancakes, sausage, fried apples, coffee, and assorted pies. All families in the area are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Peyton May spent last weekend in New York City.

Plan Will Affect Virginians

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa.—Army Reservists of the XXI U.S. Army Corps (Reserve) area — Virginia, Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia, will be affected by a reorganization of the Reserve, announced here by Major General H. J. Vander Heide, Corps Commander.

The reorganization within the XXI Corps area is expected to be completed by the end of July (1959). It carries out a previously announced Department of the Army program for nationwide reorganization of the Reserve to make it a stronger and more effective fighting force.

The peacetime concept involves streamlining of combat divisions and supporting units. It is the result of study, research and experiment designed to develop more effective ground forces for national security.

The 80th Infantry Division, commanded by Brigadier Gen. Morgan M. Wallace, with headquarters in Richmond, Va., will become a specialized training division and will be trained and equipped to conduct basic and advanced individual training of replacements.

More than 35,000 officers and men in Active Reserve units in the Corps area will come under the plan. Active units train one night a week or on weekends at local Army Reserve Centers or SubCenters. They also undergo two weeks of intensive field training at a military installation each summer.

Assigned students at Army Reserve schools and reservists participating in unpaid training units will not be affected by the reorganization program.

Overall manpower will not be decreased, however, there will be an internal redistribution of personnel. The Corps' present 727 active Reserve units will be consolidated to about 570. The reorganization will include the liquidation and consolidation of some units. Certain units will receive new designations. A number will be moved to new localities. New units will be formed and a small percentage will remain the same.

The maximum number of reservists from released or inactivated units will be assigned to units that are retained in their present locations.

Special training units will be organized for Reserve officers and enlisted men who find themselves living in communities without an Army Reserve unit for which they are qualified. Participation will enable them to continue their support of the Reserve program and will give them the opportunity to accumulate points toward retirement. Also, both reserve officers and enlisted men may accumulate retirement points through attendance at an Army service school or by taking Army extension courses.

During the reorganization, Corps Reserve units will continue their training. As it progresses, increased training emphasis will be given to instruction on new weapons and advanced military concepts.

As a result of the reorganization, better overall facilities, including equipment and training centers, will become available for reservists.

Under the program, 1,172 U.S. Army Reserve companies and detachments, comprising the total number of units in paid drill status, in the Second U.S. Army (Headquarters Fort George G. Meade, Md.) area will be streamlined into a new total of 870 units. The XXI Corps is a senior command under Second U.S. Army, U. S. Army Reserve organizations in the other States under jurisdiction of Second U. S. Army — Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia, are administered by the XX U. S. Army Corps (Reserve) with headquarters in Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio.

There are currently 13 active Reserve units in Norfolk, comprised of approximately 480 active Army Reservists.

The following units will be discontinued: Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, Batteries A, B, C, and D of the 315th Field Artillery Battalion and Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, Batteries E and F, 2nd Battalion of the 151st Infantry, 80th Division; also the 420th Transportation Company and a Transportation Company Aerial Tramway.

Those units scheduled to remain the same are: the 314th Ordnance Battalion; the 972nd Quartermaster Company (Laundry); and the 850th Army Postal Unit.

Duplicate Bridge Club Winners Announced

All bridge players are invited.

Country Day School Will Present Two One Act Plays

The Dramatic department of The Country Day School will make its first Friday night, February 6, with two sparkling one act plays which will be staged in the auditorium of The First Presbyterian Church.

Under the skillful direction of Mrs. William Bille, the student cast will present "Opening Night," a dramatization by Roland Forward of Cornelia Otis Skinner's delightful short story on, as the title indicates, an "Opening Night".

The second play on the program, "When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet," is a comedy for the fair sex by Charles George. With apogees to the hard five of Shakespeare's heroines propose to teach Juliet about love only to find this young lady knows all the answers.

In "Opening Night" Miss Skinner is played by Mary Lou Kjeldner, Martha Reno plays Miss Skinner's maid, Susan Thomas has the only male role, as the husband, Penny Bell portrays a flutty friend, Jeanne Payne and Caroline Horton "whoop it up" as old college friends on a spree. Betty Gilman, Hunter Rauls and Mary Lou Burrow are convincingly cast as three teen age girls. Martha Anne Reed plays Dottie while Becky Wetton takes the part of Janice Upson.

For the comedy, "Opening Night," the stage manager is Abby Starke—costumes are by Lynne Church.

Following a brief intermission the second of the fast moving and amusing plays will be presented with Laura Jean Lambie playing Juliet, Wing Todd is Ophelia, Sally Jogle is Katherine, Julie Whitehurst has the role of Portia, Mary Douglas plays Desdemona and the sixth of Shakespeare's heroines is Cleopatra played by Irene Manos.

Stage manager for "When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet" is Ernest Killen, costumes are by Midge Anderson, sets by Kate Talliferro, stage settings by Linda Snow and Anita Strickland. Props are the responsibility of Libby Bonner, Diane Croonenbergh and Judy Huck.

Virginia Lee, Susie Parker, Kay and June Early, Alis Orsini and Betty Scott will handle make-up.

The programs for The Country Day School's first theatrical endeavour of this year will be by McCarrell Weller and Betty Addison.

Curtain time is 8:00. Parents and friends of students of The Country Day School are invited.

AMERICAN HOME DEPT. OF OCEAN PARK WOMAN'S CLUB
The American Home Department of the Ocean Park Woman's Club met Wednesday, January 28, at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Morris. A delicious lunch was served at the meeting. Members Mrs. Morris showed movies of the past "birthday luncheon" of the Ocean Park Woman's Club, which was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. C. Nottingham, chairman of the American Home Department, presided at the meeting. Members were urged to enter the sewing contest which is being sponsored by the State Federation of Women's Clubs. Dresses will be judged at the February meeting of the Ocean Park Woman's Club. The first place winner will go to the Tidewater District meeting of the Women's Clubs, which will be held in March.

Mrs. Nottingham announced the winners of the "Christmas doorway contest." Mrs. Earl Askey was first place winner and received a gold ribbon; Mrs. C. J. Miller was second place winner and received a blue ribbon; Mrs. R. G. Holloman was third place winner and received a red ribbon.

Mrs. Morris wrapped Christmas gifts for the Shore Drive Convalescent Home. Mrs. C. W. Athey and Mrs. C. W. Hiller made miniature trap arrangements for the home.

As a project for the American Home Department it was decided to tear down an old shack and stop and try to improve that particular place.

Mrs. D. B. Hill, program chairman, told the group that in this age in which we are living, we do not have enough time for affection for our children so they have little respect for the parents. We should think about this point seriously in our homes. Mrs. Hill asked members to tell of incidents either funny or serious about their children.

Members had been asked to bring their favorite recipes to the meeting so they could exchange them.

Miniature match boxes were brought to the meeting and decorated.

The American Home Department will hold their next meeting February 23 at the home of Mrs. C. W. Athey with Mrs. A. W. Athey as co-hostess.

ROUND-UP TIME FOR VOLUNTEER SERVICE BUREAU

Do you have an hour a week, month, or year that you could devote to the Volunteer Service Bureau? If you couldn't use it to a better advantage, this is the month that the Volunteer Service Bureau signs up volunteers.

The Volunteer Service Bureau furnishes all sorts of personnel for all sorts of tasks.

For instance, blind parents need someone with eyes to go shopping with them for children's clothes. Volunteer help is needed at Mental Health Centers, Norfolk Municipal Hospital and lots of other worthy places.

If in your travels you fail to find a "sign up station" for the Volunteer Service Bureau, Mrs. Salsky at MA 2-2771 will be happy to take your name and phone number. The bureau does not expect you to take each and every call, if it is not convenient for you. They just ask you to serve when you can.

Volunteers will carry a program this week about the work of the Volunteer Service Bureau.

BAYSIDE JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB HELD A COFFEE WEDNESDAY

The Bayside Junior Woman's Club held a coffee Wednesday, January 28 at the home of Mrs. J. E. Hoots on James Street. Mrs. J. E. Hoots was co-hostess. Guests numbered 17 and 810 was raised for the March of Dimes.

TWO FORT STORY UNITS ENTER TOURNAMENT

Two Fort Story units, the 417th and the 461st Transportation Companies are presently participating in a 17-day, company level basketball tournament at Fort Ewell.

The tournament, consisting of all units of the Transportation Training Command, was won last year by Story's 155th Transportation Company. The units going this year placed first and second at Story with the 461st out front.

Opening date for the tourney was Monday, Feb. 2.

PLANS APPROVED FOR YOUTH CENTER

Proposed plans for a youth center here were approved last week by Col. George E. Woods, Jr., Post Commander.

Plans for the center, which were submitted two weeks ago, will cover all age groups up through the age of 18 and will be completed this week to discuss opening dates.

The center will be completely self-supporting.

VEHICLE AWARD GIVEN AT FORT STORY

A letter of recognition and a metal plaque were presented to an amphibious truck (DUKW) which had been having the best maintenance record in the 10th Transportation Battalion for January.

Lt. Col. E. A. P. McCarthy, Battalion Commander presented the award to the vehicle. The award was presented to the vehicle by Walter D. Russell and his assistant Pvt. Howard J. Kehoe, Jr.

The DUKW will bear a plaque for a month reading "10th Battalion, Best Vehicle."

Russell is a native of Marion, Virginia, and has been in the Army since 1933 and served in Korea.

SAFETY AWARDS GIVEN AT FORT STORY

Lt. Col. E. A. P. McCarthy, commanding officer of the 10th Transportation Battalion, received an award for his battalion's motor vehicle accident prevention record. This is the battalion's second consecutive win.

Another plaque was given to Lt. Col. Leonard Olsson of Headquarters Company for the best personnel injury prevention record during the quarter.

CANADIAN BRIGADIER VISITS FORT STORY

Brigadier Graeme P. Gibson, Commander of the Canadian Army Staff and the Canadian Joint Staff in Washington visited Fort Story on Jan. 27.

The itinerary for the Brigadier consisted of a briefing of Story's Command activities by Lt. Col. Seaborn H. Mosely, Chief of Staff followed by a tour of the installation.

Briefings were given on the BARC, the landship and the landing Craft, Retriever.

Following the tour, Col. George E. Woods, Jr., post commander was host at a luncheon at the Officers Open Mess.

FORT STORY UNITS EXCHANGE COMMANDERS

Two companies here participated in an exchange of company commanders this week.

Capt. Joseph K. Walker, formerly of the 155th Transportation Company, was transferred to the 854th Transportation Company and Capt. Joseph P. Kitch was transferred from the 854th to the 155th.

Reason for the switch is because the 155th is due to go on a Far North mission this summer and Capt. Walker is due for an overseas assignment at that time.

Seminar Professor to Open Beach Preaching Mission

The Rev. John Newton Thomas, D.D., Professor Systematic Theology, Union Seminary Richmond, will open the Second Annual Preaching Mission at the Virginia Beach Convention Center on Sunday, March 8 at 7:30 p.m.

A man of very exceptional ability, especially in the speaking field, Dr. Thomas brings considerable warmth to his addresses which are inspired by sound and scholarly understanding of the Christian Gospel. His stature and ability makes him a fortunate choice to begin the week long Mission in which distinctive men from all supporting churches will be heard throughout the week.

The format of meetings is similar in nature to those of last year. Noon day meetings will be held Monday through Saturday at the Virginia Beach Methodist Church. Evening meetings in the Convention Center will be held nightly Sunday through Saturday, March 1 to March 7 beginning at 7:30.

One added feature this year will be the observance of Servicemen's Night on Thursday of the week long Mission. With the large concentration of service personnel in the area The Ministerial Association of Greater Virginia Beach is very hopeful that members of the armed services will feel welcomed to attend throughout the week.

Mrs. H. W. Love, Mrs. Hannah Miller To Lecture Sunday

Mrs. Hanel Wenzel Love, of New York and Mrs. Hannah Miller, of Norfolk, will lecture Sunday, Feb. 8, at the Association for Research and Enlightenment, Virginia Beach.

The lecture will be presented by the Forum Committee of the Association, as one of a series scheduled for the winter season. It will be held at 4 p.m. and will be open to the general public as well as to members and friends.

Subject for the lecture will be "Prayer and Meditation". Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Love have lectured to many interested A.R.E. groups in the past on that theme, and use the psychic readings of the late Edgar Cayce as the basis of their talks. They are both active members.

The A.R.E. headquarters is located at 67th Street and Atlantic Avenue.

Don't drop paper and other debris on the streets. If you can't find a proper receptacle for your trash, remember... you CAN take it with you. Let's all help keep America beautiful.

Fred K. Betts III Elected Head of Ruritan National

Fred K. Betts, III

Today Ruritan National, America's sixth largest Civic Organization, wound up its five day Annual Convention by electing Fred K. Betts III, of Harrisonburg, Virginia as president for 1959.

Since 1946, Fred Betts has been an active Ruritan and has held the office of Club President, and Lieutenant Governor and District Governor of Ruritan National. He is a member of the Keezletown, Va., Ruritan Club.

He is owner and operator of the Betts Quarry, producing crushed stone and ground limestone products; President of Betts and Frazier, Incorporated; National Director of National Crushed Limestone Institute; a member of Virginia Manufacturing Association, National Agriculture Limestone Association, Rockingham Development Corporation and Rockingham Chamber of Commerce.

Betts served overseas in Europe with the Infantry in World War II and with the Quartermaster in the Korean War.

Other National officers elected were Vice President, Fulton Stokes of White Oak, N.C.; Secretary, T. Y. Downing of Franktown, Va.; Treasurer, R. W. Hotherton of Lynchburg, Va.

Directors: Floyd Lower of Lisbon, Ohio; William B. Wells of Boonsboro, Md.; O. J. Holmiste of Paelet, S. C.; H. L. Amick of Tenor, N.C.; G. D. May of Richmond, Va.; R. E. Thompson of Oceana, Va.; Olin F. Armentrout of Max Meadows, Va.

The Annual Convention, which is now a tradition among all Ruritans, started with a District Officer's School on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 23 and 24. Sunday, Jan. 25 more than 1200 Ruritans registered from many parts of our great nation to begin one of the greatest conventions in Ruritan history.

Speakers for the occasion were Sen. Stuart Symington, Democrat from Mo.; George Venable Allen, director U.S. Information Agency; Win Pendleton, newspaperman from Wash., D.C.; and Dr. Sankey L. Blanton, president of the Crozer Theological Seminary.

Miss America was on hand to provide the delegates and their wives with wonderful entertainment.

The Convention was held in the Sheraton-Park Hotel in Washington. Next year's convention will be held January, 1960, in Louisville, Ky.

THE CAVALIER CLOSES FOR AIR CONDITIONING

Sidney Banks announced today that The Cavalier will be closed Feb. 9 through March 15 for the installation of an air-conditioning and new heating system throughout the entire hotel.

According to Banks, the completion of the installation by Burton's Incorporated is being accelerated for the peak convention bookings in 1959 and will give The Cavalier the distinction of being the first resort hotel this far north to have 100% air-conditioning.

Also scheduled for completion during the temporary closing of the hotel will be the redecoration of the main dining room, the terrace dining porch and many of the guest rooms.

Gordon Shoemaker, managing director of The Cavalier stated that The Cavalier Travel Bureau in the main lobby will remain open Monday through Saturday during the time the hotel is closed.

Civil War Centennial Assembly Called for Richmond, April 16-17

A nationwide assembly of people and organizations interested in plans for the observance of the 100th anniversary of the Civil War has been called by Maj. Gen. U. S. Grant, III, chairman of the National Civil War Centennial Commission, to be held at Richmond, Va., April 16-17.

All sessions will be open to the public. They will begin at noon April 16 and close with a final noon session the following day.

Your Social Security

By J. C. MEIERMOTT,
Field Representative of the Social Security District Office of Norfolk

Most self-employed farmers will pay their 1958 social security tax along with their Federal income tax by February 15, 1959.

All self-employed farmers, including all farm landlords who participate materially in the production on their farm, whose net earnings for 1958 amounted to $400 or more, are required to file returns and to pay the social security tax due on their earnings. This is true even though they may have deductions and do not owe any income tax.

A farmer may use the standard method of figuring net earnings by deducting all operating expenses, including depreciation on all farm machinery, livestock, tile ditches, and farm buildings, from the total gross farm income for the year. Or if his gross farm income is more than $1800 and his actual net income is less than $1200, even a net loss, he may report 4% of $1800 or $1200. If his gross farm income is less than $1800, he may report 4% of his gross farm income as his net farm income. A farmer whose gross earnings amount to $600 or more could, by use of the optional method, show net earnings of at least $400, if he cannot report as much as $400 in net earnings, no social security tax is due. It is important that anyone with income subject to social security tax show his name and social security number on the Schedule F of his income tax return exactly as it is shown on his official social security card.

All tax returns are filed with the Internal Revenue Service. More detailed information may be obtained from the Internal Revenue Service or from the social security office at 220 West Beambledon Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia.

Several hundred persons from all over the nation are expected. Karl S. Betts, executive director of the National Commission, said invitations had been sent out to members of State Centennial Commissions, Advisory Councils, Civil War Round Tables, members of Congress, patriotic organizations, historical groups, travel organizations and others.

"We will welcome anyone who is interested in the Centennial observance, regardless of his affiliation," Mr. Betts said. "The purpose of the meeting is to discuss our plans to date and to coordinate our efforts in such a manner as to be beneficial to all."

Delegates will be welcomed by Jop Virginia state officials and others. Headquarters will be at the Jefferson Hotel.

A dutch treat dinner will be held the night of the 16th, at which time the group will be addressed by a distinguished speaker recognized as an authority on the subject of the Civil War.

One of the most important sessions of the two-day conference will be held the morning of the 17th. Mr. Betts said it will be strictly a business seminar, designed to aid the State Centennial Commissions in developing their individual programs. Talks will be confined to those of specialists from the National Headquarters.

Fashion Show, Bridge Party Set

This is the reminder issued by Mrs. S. L. Lott, garden club president, who stresses the fact that proceeds this year will go to the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad.

Spring and cruise fashions from Florence Wilson will be shown with Mrs. W. R. Huck, Mrs. Wm. Ferrell, Mrs. S. L. Lott, Mrs. R. S. Rydell, Mrs. W. J. Dickens Jr., and Mrs. Ned Langhorn as models. Mrs. R. E. Doyal will give commentary.

"The skirts will be short—very short," says Mrs. Huck of the fashion show. "Lots of white. Wide, flat collars. Figure-hugging sleeveless dresses of silk linen with their own jackets. Sheath and shirtwaist types that were made to flatter."

The Valentine motif that is traditional for this annual party will be used in decorations of which Mrs. A. R. Rosenkrans Jr., is in charge.

Dessert will be served before the bridge-playing begins.

Other committee members are Mrs. Hugh W. Lindsay and Mrs. W. J. Dickens Jr., Mrs. Kelsey G. Darst, Sr. Advance ticket sales: Mrs. E. R. Coffman and Mrs. David Stormont III. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Mort Sabar Joins Viking Construction Corp.

Wm. E. Witt, president, Viking Construction Corp. announced the association of Mort Sabar in the firm, currently building houses in the Tidewater area. Mr. Sabar is a nationally known expert in community development and urban renewal; formerly director of the National Association of Home Builders' "New Home Builders" program; organizing prime resources for urban renewal and community development in cities across the country; directly involved with programs in over 100 cities since 1952, as consultant for official, citizen, and business action to expedite and establish comprehensive programs for balanced community development.

In specific terms this has included analysis of metropolitan problems, comprehensive planning, balanced development, rehabilitation, administrative systems utilizing the many local agencies involved and delineating private resources, and encouragement of university and foundation interest and research.

Mr. Sabar has focused attention on land economics to achieve a better balance between social and economic objectives, since there is no community in the country with financial capacity for the job ahead as we approach a population of almost 200 million, largely concentrated in metropolitan centers.

He has also initiated and served as a member of a five-man government industry team that toured city cities in 1956, to work out bottlenecks in urban renewal and FHA financing programs, and to recommend strategic procedures. He helped initiate and organize both the ACTION (American Council to Improve Our Neighborhoods) and the Operation Home Improvement programs, with the active interest of national and trade groups; coordination of professional, business and government activities in community development; worked with the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the Urban Development Guildbook with emphasis on the total community, i.e., city's economic base, tax structure, and close interrelationship of congestion, traffic and the vital local public finances served as judge in first Look Magazine award for "Community Home Achievement," 1956.

Graduated Johns Hopkins University (M.A. in History, Economics, Writing), graduate work in education and planning in government.

Military service—private, 1942. Infantry service in European theatre, battlefield promotion; other decorations, discharged as an infantry captain; qualified para-trooper, (Combat Infantry Badge), Silver Star, Bronze Star. Also served Occupation of Germany, highlights being conduct of Junior college for servicemen (Dean of school plant known as Nutting Hall) and historian for the 10th Infantry Regiment "GD Devils," published and distributed as "Follow Thru."

Virginia Travel Exhibit to Open in Florida Feb. 8

James Addison, director of public relations, Chesapeake Bay Ferry District, has been named as a Tidewater representative to serve at the Virginia Exhibit of the Virginia Travel Council which will be operated at Florida's Silver Springs, Silver Springs, Florida.

The exhibit will be maintained from Feb. 8 through March 15 by a group of 14 Virginians from all sections of the old Dominion. Each will serve from one to two weeks. Virginia's attractions and outstanding travel facilities will be advertised.

"The Council's purpose is to contact the visitor to Florida as he prepares to leave the state and try to persuade him to stop in Virginia," J. G. Metz, of Richmond, president of the council, said today.

"During the six weeks the Council expects to contact approximately 15,000 Florida visitors a day. It is now having 10,000 folders advertising Virginia attractions and facilities shipped to Florida."

A special crew will be dispatched to operate the exhibit from the Tidewater office of the Council. Featured in the exhibit will be the Norfolk Municipal Gardens, the International Sales Court, Virginia Beach, Williamsburg, the Chesapeake Bay Ferry and other Tidewater scenes.

Look in All Directions Before Crossing Street

Mundane traffic accidents are caused each year by pedestrians who step off the curb after looking in only one direction.

Frank Cox, local director, Tidewater Automobile Association, said: "It is not enough to look right and left before crossing the street, unless the pedestrian looks all ways before stepping off the curb."

Mr. Cox called on all school-age children to follow this simple advice in their daily trips to school. A new safety poster urging pedestrians to "Look All Ways Before Crossing" is now being distributed to schools in Virginia Beach as part of the regular monthly safety education program of the Tidewater Automobile Association. It was designed by Gordon Fanning, 14, a high-school student at the Tidewater High School, Mendenhall, California.

The prize was awarded by a panel of nationally-known judges, and the poster will be reproduced and distributed by AAA Motor Clubs throughout the country.

Oceana Curb Market Expands

The Oceana Curb Market's new section was completed last week and gives this once small market a new look.

The southeast corner of Oceana, which completely burned down a year or so ago, has been rebuilt. One advantage to this corner is the ample parking space. London Bridge offers a little of everything, as does Oceana, for small town business with good service.

The town of Lynnhaven, just a couple of miles south of Virginia Beach Blvd. is so peaceful and quiet, yet as busy as can be. The trees along the winding road are beautiful and nestled beneath their limbs are lovely little country homes, wonderful stores and friendly people. In the outskirts of Lynnhaven a new housing development is almost completed. It is easy to see why this area was picked to build what a wonderful place to rear children.

As far as I'm concerned, there is no place any prettier than Virginia Beach.

Mrs. Gray Shaw and Mrs. Melvin Goodson Sr. formed a new Den No. 1 in Cub Pack 64.

Two new Scouts were initiated Thursday night in the Pack. The two boys were Harry Shaw and Melvin Goodson Jr. of London Bridge.

The Den meeting was held in Mrs. Shaw's home at Route 2, Box 303, London Bridge. For information call Assistant Den Mother, Mrs. Goodson, Garden 2-3780.

New White-Collar Salary Tests Start Next Week

Members of the business community in this area were reminded today by Robert F. Ferguson, Jr., Investigation Supervisor of the U.S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, that the new higher salary tests for exemption of so-called white-collar employees from the Federal Wage and Hour Law's provisions go into effect next week.

"Starting February 2, 1959, executive employees at firms engaged in interstate commerce must be paid at least $1 a week on a salary basis to qualify for exemption from the wage and hour provisions of the Act," Ferguson said. Administrative and professional employees must be paid at least $5 a week on a salary basis to be exempt. Previous salary requirements for exemption were $25 for executive employees and $75 for administrative and professional employees.

"A special provision for employees exempt under shortened duty tests will also be increased from $100 to $125 a week."

Mr. Ferguson explained that the new salary test schedules in most cases reflect changes in salary levels that have occurred since the previous tests were set in 1950. The Fair Labor Standards Act, popularly known as the Federal Wage and Hour Law, exempts executive, administrative and professional employees from the minimum wage and overtime provisions, if they meet certain tests specified in the Divisions' regulations, Part 541. In addition to tests relating to their duties and responsibilities, they must also meet minimum salary requirements.

Except for the higher salary requirements, the tests remain the same, Ferguson pointed out. He invited any businessman who are invited to see how these laws apply to their white-collar employees to seek information from the nearest Wage and Hour Division office, which in this area is located in Room 250, 900 N. Lombardy St., Richmond, Va.

John Bury, of the National Automotive Research Bureau, recommends individual consideration of every extra. For example, power steering is a great convenience if you live in the city. It is helpful where parking facilities are limited and crowded and is worth the investment if it will make this part of driving a pleasure rather than a chore. Automatic transmission, too, is most effective in city driving. If you're primarily a highway driver, however, you may not need either of these extras.

Is the radio and heater necessary? In northern climates the heater is almost a necessity. The radio on the other hand is a matter of desire. It's nice to have but the expected use may not compensate for the additional cost.

Extra that is highly recommended by automotive experts is undercoating. It provides a good preventative that prolongs the life of the car, and has been found extremely effective in coastal areas where salt air will pit and corrode metal.

The best method, according to Mr. Bury, is to list the price of all the available extras and give the entire list to your dealer. The dealer is worth while to you.

When buying a new car the question of extras always comes up during the transaction. To some, the extra cost does not matter, but to many new car buyers, a long list of extras will often bring a low cost automobile out of its price range.

John Bury, of the National Automotive Research Bureau, recommends individual consideration of every extra. For example, power steering is a great convenience if you live in the city. THE CATHEDRAL WE LIVE IN

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor in each for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Something that may never happen again happened when Bill Oliver was crossing the Kempsville Meadows Golf Course—just as Dr. John Lippincott was teeing off in the distance. The drive sent the ball right into Bill's eye. When Bill spied Doc coming toward him he yelled, "You can't get away with this! I'm going to sue you for five hundred dollars." "I said fore," shouted Doc. "I'll take it," replied Bill.

PRINCESS ANNE CORN
DEMONSTRATORS FEAST

Ten of the eleven Princess Anne farmers that were demonstrators in the Corn Net Return Improvement Club enjoyed a tremendous feast given by Mr. Roy Eplek of the Continental Grain Co., Wednesday night at the Cape Colony Club. This was the highlight of the year for the demonstrators. Farmers with Bill Lewis, Extension Agronomist and Kenneth Loope, Agriculture Economist, both from VPI, met with the representatives of Continental Grain Co., our Assistant Agent, and I at the Cape Colony Club at Virginia Beach to go over the demonstrations that were conducted in 1958.

These demonstrations involve producing corn by the latest recommended practices from VPI. Bill Lewis was most complimentary about the work that the farmers were doing.

The farmers participating in this program are: Garland Pentress, Marion Bright, C. D. Cartwright, John Conlos, J. B. Dudley, Ralph Frost, Alva Malone, Ervin Vaughan, Robert White, Everett Sawyer, and Stuart Ives.

As an example of what this demonstration consists of let's take the case of Garland Pentress. Jack had two fields. Each field was treated the same with the exception of the fertilizer and planting rates. Pioneer 309A was the variety used and this was planted at the rate of 13 1/2 stalks per acre in the demonstration. In the alternate field it was planted at the rate of 10,000 stalks per acre. The demonstration was fertilized with 800 pounds of 4-12-12—one half broadcast before planting, the other half was put in the row at planting time. In addition to this the demonstration received 80 pounds of nitrogen. The alternate method received only 400 pounds of 4-12-12 in the row with 60 pounds of nitrogen at side-dressing time.

The yield in the demonstration was 85.7 bushels per acre; in the alternate method the yield was 64.27 bushels per acre. A difference of 21.5 bushels per acre.

The increased yield more than paid for the additional fertilizer that was applied.

Cost figures of production were kept on both fields in order to determine what practices would pay the best net returns.

This demonstration, as well as the other ten, are showing various ways that corn yields can be increased. Next week I will describe another demonstration that was conducted.

AGRONOMY SCHOOL
MOST SUCCESSFUL

The Norfolk-Princess Anne Agronomy School held January 28 was most successful. This school attended by seedsmen, fertilizer salesmen and dealers, professional workers, and farmers had the state's fertilizer experts present the latest information regarding the fertilization of field crops and vegetable crops as well as the use of fertilizer and insecticide mixtures.

Also of tremendous importance was the presentation of the various field and forage crop varieties adapted to Southeastern Virginia. Bill Lewis, Extension Agronomist at VPI, stated that it was imperative that farmers buy seeds that are well adapted to the area, that it is possible for a farmer to do everything right but would not realize the greatest return if the seed be purchased was not adapted to the climatic and soil conditions.

DHIA TOOL FOR IMPROVEMENT

W. S. Griffith, assistant extension dairyman from VPI, said at the annual meeting of the Coastal and Southampton-Princess Anne DHIA's that the DHIA herd book is the greatest tool for improving herds that we have. He urged that all dairymen make complete use of the herd book.

COMMODITY COMMITTEE MEET

Last week and this week we have been holding meetings of our Extension Commodity Committees in planning the Extension Program for 1959.

The farmers on each of these committees study the commodities that they are working with to determine problems that farmers are facing here in the county. Then they set an objective to work towards and various methods that Extension can use to help solve the problems in reaching the objective.

The Extension Program conducted in the county depends upon the tremendous assistance that these farmers are giving me in determining county problems and the best ways of carrying on an educational program to solve these problems.

CORN HYBRID VARIETAL
RECOMMENDATIONS GIVEN

Planning to grow corn this year? Here's the list of recommended corn hybrids, most of them already familiar to Princess Anne farmers, and of them carefully tested by Virginia's Agricultural Experiment Station, at VPI and at outlying branch stations.

South of the James river in the southern coastal plain, VPI agronomists say to plant VPI 428, Ohio C-4, Southern States Pochontas, Funk 591, all yellow early; VPI 648, VPI 646, Funk G134, US 505, Wood 654, Funk G706, all full-season yellow; Pioneer 309A, a late yellow variety, yellow varieties on the "promising" list for this area are Pioneer 301A, Pioneer 1363, Funk G144, VA 339, VA 1807, DeKalb 680, and DeKalb 803A. Medium early white varieties are Wood V125W and US 523W. For silage, use N.C. 1032, Dixie 33, or any full-season or medium early hybrid recommended for grain.

TOPDRESSING WILL HELP
INSURE TOP PASTURES

It's time to topdress pastures—any time now until grass begins growth in the spring.

That's the reminder from John F. Shoulters, pasture specialist at VPI, who says farmers who want a repeat performance of last year's good pastures should help insure it by topdressing.

On tall grass-ladino clover pastures in which there is a good balance of grass and clover, apply 400 to 800 pounds per acre of 0-14-14 or 2-12-12, or from 200 to 400 pounds of 0-30-30, or the equivalent. If the pasture was closely grazed last fall, topdressing with an equivalent amount of 5-10-10 or 10-20-20 will encourage earlier grass growth.

A soil test will help determine the rate and analysis to use, and will also show whether or not the soil needs lime.

POULTRY HOUSE LIGHTING INCREASES FLOCK PROFITS

Poultry house lighting can help increase the profits from your laying flock.

Poultry specialists at VPI say electric lights in poultry houses can boost egg production 20 to 30% during the fall and winter months under favorable management conditions. It's simply a matter of using artificial lighting to lengthen the hen's working day. Three different lighting methods are in use—morning lighting, morning and evening lighting, and all-night lighting. The method used governs the lighting system to be installed.

For morning lighting you need one light for each 200 square feet of floor space in the laying house. For example, if the house is 2,000 square feet in size, 10 lights will be needed. For houses 20 feet wide, one light should be installed for each 10 feet of length. For houses 30 to 40 feet wide, two rows of lights not more than 6 feet above the floor. Use 60-watt lamp bulbs in shallow dome reflectors. These reflectors give a wide spread of light. If reflectors are not installed, use 75-watt bulbs.

Control of the lights is important. Hens should be given a 14-hour working day. This is done by turning on the lights early in the morning. The lights can be controlled with a manual switch or a time clock will automatically turn on the lights at the desired time and turn them off after daylight.

On cloudy days, it gets dark earlier than in clear weather, making it harder to provide the necessary 14 hours of lighting. Morning and evening lighting will provide the desired working day, regardless of weather conditions. This method involves the use of lighting both in the morning and in the evening. A bright light circuit with the same number and spacing of lights as morning lighting is used. In addition, a method of dimming the lights is necessary. Dimming causes the hens to get on the perches before the lights are turned off. It can be done by putting in another lighting circuit with just half as many smaller lights as there are bright lights. Ten-watt bulbs should be installed in these light outlets. A time clock will be needed.

With an all-night lighting system, the lights are turned on at dusk and turned off at dawn. One light outlet is required for each 200 square feet of floor space—the same as for morning lighting. However, smaller lamp bulbs, 10 or 15 watt, are recommended. This method provides just enough for the hens to see their feed and water.

Proper use of any one of these three lighting systems can mean added profits for poultrymen. Additional information is available from the County Agent.

Vepco Revenues,
Income Up Over
7 Per Cent in 1958

Operating revenues and net income of Virginia Electric and Power Company both showed gains of more than 7 per cent during 1958. A. H. McDowell, Jr., president, reported today.

McDowell said that revenues for the year of $139,660,000 were up 7.8 per cent from 1957, and net income for the same period, net of $20,323,000, a gain of 7.4 per cent.

Earnings per share on the 14,500,000 shares of common stock outstanding stood at $1.66 at the year's end, up 8.2 per cent over 1957 earnings of $1.53 per share.

The Vepco president reported at the same time that revenues for December totaled $12,387,000, a gain of 8.3 per cent over December 1957. Net income for the month amounted to $2,361,000, an increase of 4.4 per cent over the last month of 1957.

The utility reported a total of 814,883 customers as of December 31, a gain of 18,989 during the 12 months. Of these, 16,525 were electric customers, bringing the total electric customers to 720,352. In the Hampton Roads area, the Company added 2,464 gas customers for a total of 94,033.

McDowell also reported that new construction had cost the Company $55,000,000 in 1958, compared with $59,000,000 in 1957, and $41,500,000 in 1956. New units completed during the year at the Yorktown and Breho Power Stations, added more than 300,000 kilowatts capacity to the Vepco system. Similar units are under construction at the Chesterfield and Portsmouth plants.

Reserve Officer Group Sponsors Defense Week

With the cooperation of civic, patriotic, educational veterans and other groups, National Defense Week will be observed in Virginia starting on Lincoln's Birthday, and continuing through Sunday, February 22nd, Washington's Birthday.

Lt. Col. Daniel W. Wilkinson, Jr., USNR, of Newport News, Department of Virginia Reserve Officers Association of the United States, sponsor of National Defense Week, has invited every thinking citizen to participate.

"They can do so," he added, "by considering the state of the nation's defense—the principal objective of National Defense Week and by attending meetings of civic, veterans and other groups to discuss our defense and what the average citizen can do about it."

In addition to focusing attention on the nation's security, National Defense Week, Commander Wilkinson continued, "is, traditionally, a period when the citizens of our country also are invited to consider and look closely at the Reserve program—the Nation's Strength in Reserve."

Pointing out that there are more than 4,000,000 Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and Public Health Service Reservists, he declared, in part:

"Our Reserve strength of officers and enlisted men, qualified and ready for immediate service in case of mobilization, means that all of these Reservists stand ready to serve their country in an emergency."

"Our Reserve Forces are now at the all time high in their strength and trained readiness. The emphasis placed on sound training, availability and a balanced strength must not be lost in any effort to reduce the national budget. Training and manpower must be available with and not replaced by the newly developed missiles and other electronic weapons of the atomic age."

"More than mere physical strength, however, the continued maintenance of the traditional 'Minute Man Spirit' of our young men is of vital importance to the National Security of the United States."

Princess Anne Panel to Cover P-TA Program

Dr. Edgar M. Johnson, of Farmville, president of the Virginia Congress of Parents and Teachers, will appear on a P-TA panel at Princess Anne High School Thursday night.

The panel, with four other members of the executive board of the P-TA Congress, will speak on the legislative program of the congress. It will be a part of an informative meeting sponsored by the Tidewater District of Parents and Teachers.

The program starts at 8 p.m. Its purpose, according to a district spokesman, is to inform P-TA locals about legislative matters, with a view to preparing them for the Tidewater district meeting in April.

Hugh W. Johnston, legislative chairman of the district, will preside. Panelists besides Johnson will be Mrs. W. T. Leary, Mrs. Emma Story, Mrs. H. T. Gerry, and Hugh M. Davis. All are members of the congress executive board.

A Salute To Brotherhood

By Mark Maxim

I wish that God's strength in my hands
Could build for students from all lands
A school to learn the glory of
A world renewed in God and love.

I'd like to build a bridge to span
The seas of ignorance that ban
What all men seek, the shining birth
Of brotherhood in God on earth.

I'd like to build a temple grand,
A home of tender joy to stand
Forever in a gentle sun;
Where all mankind in God is one.

I'd like to build a highway where Men freely go in freedom's air,
A road that goes clear 'round the world,
Nesth God's own flag, fully unfurled.

The Chaplain added this note below the poem:

We are indebted to Miss Maxim for sending to us her original poem to be in our bulletin. May God bless her with inspiration.

Pay Boost Endorsed For County Teachers

The Princess Anne County School Board Tuesday gave its approval to a $3,261,408 school budget for the 1959-60 school year.

Included was a $300 base-pay raise for degree teachers.

The budget will now go to the board of supervisors, which has the final say.

The $3,260 base pay for fully qualified four-year teachers will be raised to $3,600 under the proposed budget, Supt. Frank W. Cox told the board.

Because of the Norfolk annexation Jan. 1, there will be 82 less teaching positions in the coming school year, 631 this year to 549 next.

It is estimated that the state of Virginia will be responsible for 43.18 per cent of the overall budget; the federal government 17.48 per cent, and Princess Anne County 34.69 per cent.

The remaining 2.65 per cent comes from such sources as tuition, sale of school buses and so on.

Better than 88 per cent of the budget is slated for salaries, Cox told the board. He said that for the first years since 1944 it was not necessary for the county schools to buy any buses.

Princess Anne County School Board to Give Education Tests

The Princess Anne County School Board is making plans to administer the General Educational Development Test to interested people in this area around the first of March. The State Department of Education supplies these tests for each local school board. People who pass the test successfully are given a certificate.

The certificate is in lieu of the high school diploma. Some colleges and industries accept this certificate in place of the high school diploma.

In order to take the examination, the applicant must satisfy certain requirements. The minimum requirements are: (1) The applicant must be 20 years of age. (2) The applicant must be a resident of the county. (3) The applicant must be a native-born American citizen. (4) The applicant must be a high school graduate or the equivalent. (5) The applicant must be a native-born American citizen.

People who desire to take this test should make application for same by consulting R. H. Owen, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, or apply direct to the School Board Office, Tidewater Professional Association, 101 E. Main St., Norfolk, Va. 23502.

After these applications have been filed out and returned to the School Board Office, they will be processed, and if found eligible to take the examination will be notified of same as well as the date the examination will be given.

Scoutarama Expected to Attract Record Crowd on February 21

NAS Oceana — More than 10,000 tickets have been sold to the Scoutarama according to Captain J. R. Horn, USN, Chairman of the Board District Activities Committee. The Scoutarama is scheduled to be held at the Convention Center, Virginia Beach, on Feb. 21.

Captain Horn stated that all-boy and all-girl Scout activities are entering into the spirit of the Scoutarama to such an extent that it promises to be an annual affair.

An added feature of the show will be an Indian Tribal Dancing team put on by Explorer Post 55, which is under the direction of Ed Ross. These Scouts will present their dance at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

A demonstration of hunting with bow and arrow, fishing techniques and juggling will follow the Indian dance. In addition to these features, Dr. R. H. Tabor, the Navy's Space Man, will appear on the program with equipment that will be used by the Navy for survival in outer space. He will also discuss, with young and old alike, the prospect of living in outer space.

Exhibits in the Scoutarama will cover a wide range of subjects, Cub Pack exhibits will include Cape Henry, Community Service, Alaska, Wholes of Progress, and many other interesting exhibits. Boy Scouts will display such things as Indian Lore, Finger Printing, Camping and a host of other displays.

Each exhibit will be judged during the day, and awards will be made to participating units at the close of the show.

Captain E. G. Konrad, USN, Commanding Officer, Naval Air Station Oceana, will make the presentations.

Scouts Holding Court of Honor Here Tonight

As part of the observance of National Boy Scout Week, Scout Troop 60, sponsored by the Presbyterian Church of Virginia Beach, will hold a Court of Honor and Parents' night, Thursday, February 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the recreation room of the church on 30th St. and Pacific avenue.

John Clancy, patrol leader of the Rebel Patrol and Frank Blanchard, senior patrol leader, will receive Eagle awards, the highest rank in Scouting.

Other Scouts in the troop will receive awards from Tenderfoot to Merit Badges. Mr. Lewis Smith, Troop Committeeman, will handle the awards in the absence of Milton Holland, Chairman of the Troop Committee.

The Apache Patrol under the leadership of John Selmer and the Beaver Patrol led by Tom Ward, both Star Scouts, will present skits demonstrating Scout activities.

Troop 60 has had a display of First Aid Scout Preparedness in the National Bank of Commerce throughout the week. The display was planned and prepared by Troop Scribe, John Dickens.

Avoiding conflict with Communion services, both Cub Pack and Troop 60 will attend church service at the Presbyterian Church on February 15th in uniforms.

Troop 60, the oldest Scout troop in Princess Anne County has many friends and alumni who are invited to celebrate National Boy Scout Week with the troop.

Mrs. A. S. Jordan Heads Everett School at Beach

Mrs. Helena A. Everett, president of the Everett School, an elementary school of Virginia Beach, has announced that Mrs. Arthur S. Jordan will be principal of the school for the 1958-1959 school year. Mrs. Jordan will become assistant principal.

The Everett School, a landmark in the area, was founded by Mrs. Everett 34 years ago. It enrolls children from the kindergarten through the 5th grade.

The new principal has served as assistant to Mrs. Everett since June of 1958. A former journalist, Mrs. Jordan was graduated from the University of Kansas, where she received her A. B. degree. Later she studied abroad for four years, and subsequently did graduate work in education.

Mrs. Goodwin Jordan is at present a member of the faculty of the Country Day School at Virginia Beach. She is a graduate of Sweetbriar College, and did graduate work at the Sorbonne University in Paris as an exchange student.

Downing Tells Police Group Berlin May Bring About Next Limited War

Honored by F.O.P.

America may have lost the "balance of power" in the arms race and Berlin may "bring about the next limited war," Congressman Thomas N. Downing said in an address late Tuesday.

In his speech at the Cape Colony Club before the 10th annual banquet, Fraternal Order of Police, Virginia Beach Lodge 7, Downing spoke on Russian-American relations.

"Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy has said we would not engage in a missile race with Russia. This was a perfectly awful statement to make. We have to engage in a missile race with Russia—a race which has no road ahead," Downing said.

In his opinion, "We are lagging in the missile race and if this is true, we have lost that important balance of power. There have been many demands made on the President to have a drastic chat and tell us exactly what the situation is and he should do it."

As to the Berlin situation, "Based on the unclassified reports I have read and the informed people with whom I have talked, this is the general appraisal as it now stands. The chance of an all-out war—a war of survival—is decreasing while the chance of limited war is increasing. In knowledgeable circles, a feeling prevails that the crisis in Berlin may bring about our next limited war."

Downing said he thought Russia must bring West Berlin under her control for three reasons:

1. She can't afford the comparison of the "have" and "have-not" nations so close together. The effect on morale is too great.

2. Free Berlin may be a "prize source of infection" which could spread to the rest of the world.

3. Russia doesn't need out her military power.

Turning to congressional politics, he said he hoped that the Republican Party would not be so conscious of their moral and political obligations to support a budget-conscious President, that they have underestimated the needs for national defense and national survival.

The F.O.P. Lodge and associates honored Justice of the Peace J. Clarence Hayman with an engraved watch and a brief printed biography because of his "concern for each member of the police force." He was given an honorary lifetime membership in the F.O.P. associate lodge. The presentation was made by W. P. Kellam, president of the Virginia Beach Associate Lodge.

Downing Announces Engineers Will Do Necessary Lynnhaven Dredging

A channel through the Lynnhaven River, Congressman Thomas N. Downing announced Friday, Feb. 12, has been allocated for the project to reopen the shoaled Lynnhaven inlet entrance to navigation. He said work will be started as soon as weather permits.

Recently, entrance to the Lynnhaven Bay has been cut off at low tide due to the filling of the channel by sand. A bar which lay offshore of Chesapeake Bay grew until it blocked the entrance.

The sand shift is believed due to the replacement of two low-level bridges across the inlet by a single high-level highway bridge in recent years.

Recluse Attacked At Hotel Site

A 38-year-old resort resident in Virginia Beach Hospital after a brutal beating Saturday in the old Fitzhugh Hotel.

Isaac Sawyer, whose home is on 19th St., was apparently gathering shingles on the second floor of the hotel, which is being torn down, when an assailant beat him over the head savagely with some blunt instrument and left him lying in a pool of blood.

Detective Sgt. W. W. Davis, who with Detective Henry Curren, is investigating the case, said the man's wallet was taken. It is not known how much money it contained.

Known around the resort as a recluse, Sawyer had been working with the firm demolishing the hotel since Dec. 1. No workmen were on the job early Saturday when Sawyer went to the place to collect shingles. A stack of shingles was found near where the attack occurred.

Sawyer apparently had lain unconscious for quite a while, police said, because of the amount of blood found. Sawyer recovered enough to stagger out to Atlantic avenue. The proprietor of a nearby grill between 22nd and 23rd streets saw him and called the Rescue Squad which took him to the hospital. The victim has been in a semi-conscious condition since then, and police so far have not been able to question him.

The identity of the assailant was not known. Sawyer was always dressed in a dilapidated Army macintosh and a corduroy cap, wore his hair long and seldom shaved.

Mrs. Jeter Heads New Pilot Club

Mrs. J. Randolph (Margaret) Jeter, assistant principal of the Virginia Beach High School, has been elected president of the newly formed Virginia Beach Pilot Club.

The Virginia Beach Pilot Club is a part of the International Pilot Clubs. The club club has been sponsored by the Pilot Club of Norfolk.

Pilot Clubs include executive business and professional women, who participate actively in civic affairs and sponsor a variety of community service projects along the lines of men's service clubs. There are more than 400 Pilot Clubs with a membership of nearly 12,000 in the United States, Canada and several foreign countries.

This year a Norfolk woman, Miss Grace S. Perkins, director of nursing at Leigh Memorial Hospital, is serving as International President.

Safe Recovered In Linkhorn Bay

Police have recovered from the waters of Linkhorn Bay a heavy safe stolen last Wednesday from the Little Blue Restaurant on 17th St.

Detective Sgt. W. W. Davis said that the safe was dumped in the water off the fill on Pinecroft Rd. in Linkhorn Park. A man, resident, Walter Sheen Jr., corner of the safe sticking out of the water and notified police.

After a wrecker pulled it, police discovered that it had been cut open with an acetylene torch and was empty except for $500 in cash and jewelry.

Willie Johnson, owner of the restaurant had reported the safe missing Wednesday morning.

Linier Civic League Elects Campbell

The Linier Civic Association has been formed and J. Owen Campbell is president of the new group. The association held its organizational meeting on February 3.

Besides Campbell, other officers are A. R. Harp, vice president; E. W. Turnbull, treasurer; and W. R. Brewer, secretary.

The group announced that its purpose is to promote the general welfare of the area, in addition to the Linier section.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach was held at the Shore Drive Inn Tuesday, February 10. The American Home Department presented the program with Mrs. Thomas R. Petty, chairman.

Club members competed in a "Vogue Pattern Do-It-Yourself" style showing. The winner will represent the club at the spring meeting of the Tidewater District. The contest is sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs in cooperation with the Vogue Pattern makers. In conjunction with the fashion showing, Rose Hall presented new spring hats.

Participants in the fashion show were Mrs. Betty, Mrs. R. J. Velles, Mrs. Gordon Oliver, Mrs. Joseph Hyder, Mrs. U. L. Harmon, Mrs. W. B. Meekins and Mrs. O. T. Edmondson. Judges for the contest were Mrs. Elizabeth Deal, Home Demonstration Agent for Princess Anne County, and Mr. Collin Studd of Rose Hall. Following the show, Mrs. Studd presented a spring hat showing.

International Flower Show Set March 7-14 in N.Y.

The 42nd Annual International Flower Show to be held in New York Coliseum March 7th through March 14th, 1959, has attracted many Tidewater flower lovers. Plans for a chartered bus (non-profit) and rooms for three nights in a hotel in New York City March 7th through 10th, are being made.

A few reservations are still available. Anyone in the Tidewater District who is interested, may call the following members for information:

Brotherhood Week, Feb. 15-22

The week of February 15 through February 22 has been designated as Brotherhood Week throughout the Nation, Brotherhood Week observance is sponsored each year by the National Conference of Christians and Jews. It has been sponsored in this way for the past 26 years.

Brotherhood Week is only a part of the work of the National Conference which is a civic organization engaged in an educational program for better human relations 365 days of every year. The work of the National Conference has been called "as American as the 4th of July."

The idea for Brotherhood Week is credited to a Colorado priest, Monsignor Hugh McMenamin, who made the suggestion in 1934. Since that time the National Conference has sponsored it.

We should seek opportunities to support Brotherhood Week, and to take inspiration from it towards renewed efforts in developing the practice of brotherhood everywhere.

A peaceful world depends upon better understanding and respect for each other in a spirit of brotherhood and an adherence to ethical principles. If these are lost, civilization gradually disappears.

Your Social Security

By J. C. McDERMOTT

Field Representative of the Social Security District Office of Norfolk

While social security is a retirement system, it is that only up to the age of 72. At age 72 it becomes, in effect, a straight annuity and a person can earn any amount without loss of any of his social security benefits in calendar years after the year in which he attains age 72.

The purpose and application of the earnings test to those beneficiaries under age 72 is, perhaps, the most misunderstood feature of the whole program.

Social security provides a protection against loss of earnings when the breadwinner reaches old age, dies, or becomes so severely disabled he can no longer engage substantially in gainful work. However, these benefits are intended only as a partial replacement of lost earnings when one of these events occur.

The earnings limit is applied in order that funds available may be paid to those who need it most—that is, those who find themselves in the circumstances mentioned above. Based on population and trend statistics, it full benefits were paid to everyone who reached age 65 with no retirement provision, one of two alternatives would have to be applied. First, lower benefit amounts which would defeat the purpose of the program by not providing the basic security it is designed to do, or, secondly, raise taxes to supply sufficient increase in the Trust Funds to cover outgo to the additional beneficiaries. This, of course, would be most undesirable; especially

Supply Corps Officers

Wives to Hold Bake Sale

A bake sale and a program on interior decorating will be featured at the February luncheon of the Supply Corps Officers Wives Club. The affair will be held on Thursday, Feb. 19 at the Armed Forces Staff College.

The event will get under way with bridge at 10 a.m. Anyone interested in playing bridge should contact Mrs. E. V. Clifton at AF 3-0194.

A social hour will precede the luncheon beginning at 1 p.m. All members are asked to bring a baked item for the bake sale.

The highlight of the luncheon will be a program on interior decorating by Willis Wayside.

For luncheon reservations contact Mrs. G. S. Young at AF 5-0772 before noon on Monday, Feb. 16.

When the tax increase would only be to pay benefits to fully employed or self-employed persons. Any beneficiary may supplement his income from social security benefits with any amount of investment income, such as rentals, pensions, annuities, dividends, interest, etc. In addition, he may still earn as much as $1200 a year and still be eligible for benefits. These earnings may be from wages paid to him or profits from self-employment or a combination of both. If the earnings exceed $1200 in a calendar year, certain other provisions apply which he may still not lose all month's payments. The local district office, located at 220 West Brambleton Avenue, Norfolk, Va., will be very happy to discuss further how the earnings test will apply in any individual case.

Cayce Receives Silver Beaver Scouting Award

Hugh Lynn Cayce of Virginia Beach was one of six men who received the Silver Beaver Scout Award Monday night at ceremonies held by the Tidewater Council of the Boy Scouts of America in Norfolk.

The Silver Beaver Award is the highest award that a Scout council can confer. Cayce is a veteran in Scouting.

Cayce is presently scoutmaster of Virginia Beach Troop 60. He became assistant scoutmaster of this troop two years after leaving college. In 1933 and 1934 he conducted two official roving Scout camps to the Chicago Fair, National Parks and the West Coast.

The recipient of the Silver Beaver Award served as scoutmaster of Troop 60 from 1938 until he entered military service in World War II. In 1933 Cayce returned to Troop 60 and in 1934 became scoutmaster again. In the meantime he devoted much work to Cub Scouting.

Besides his scout work Cayce is active in the First Presbyterian Church here. He has served as Sunday school teacher and has served as superintendent of the school.

Cayce is manager of the Association for Research and Enlightenment in Virginia Beach. He conducts lectures throughout the United States.

Mothers Auxiliary Formed

By Scout Troop 65

London Bridge Boy Scout Troop 65, led by Fred B. Cooke and assistant Donald E. Gregory now have some able help in Mr. Seth Moore, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Moore is a Junior Assistant Scoutmaster, and in the Assistant Scoutmaster, Patrol Advisors, Mr. Malhot, Mr. Davis, Mr. Fisher and Mr. Reader.

A Mother's Auxiliary has also been formed. Its purpose is to promote scouting and Scout ideals and also to achieve better cooperation through the combined cooperation of whole families. The Mother's Auxiliary in no way determines troop operations and the members may belong only so long as their son or husband is affiliated with the troop.

A Christmas Party, a bake sale, and neckerchiefs for the boys were some of the projects completed since the Auxiliary was formed last November 26. Future plans include working for a Scout cabin, merit badge books, and any other needed items.

Temporary officers are chairman, Mrs. F. B. Cooke, vice chairman and publicity, Mrs. D. E. Gregory; secretary, Mrs. F. L. Ackerman; treasurer, Mrs. J. D. Malhot.

The Standing Committee is headed by Mrs. J. D. Malhot, entertainment, Mrs. H. C. Ruppert and Mrs. C. J. Kelton, service committee and Mrs. F. L. Davis, ways and means.

A. B. Crews New State Officer of Motel Group

A. B. Crews, manager of the Holiday Sands Motel here, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Virginia Motor Guest Association, according to an announcement by the group as they considered their annual state meeting at the Convention Center Wednesday.

Al Helander of Williamsburg was elected president of the association. He succeeds Ray Hanley of Charlottesville. William Moore of Richmond was elected vice president.

Approximately 100 persons attended the three-day meeting of the association, Tuesday night the group was guests of the city for the world premiere showing of the new Virginia Beach film, "The Virginia Beach Story."

J. Linwood Rice of Richmond was re-elected executive vice president of the association. He has served in this capacity for the past several years.

Edna Pennell Speaks Before Bay Colony Club

Flower arrangements are more than show pieces at a flower show, they are an integral part of interior decoration. This conviction led Edna Pennell to a new career as supervisor of flowers for the famed exhibition buildings of Colonial Williamsburg. Miss Pennell spoke to the Bay Colony Garden Club at a luncheon meeting held at the Princess Anne Country Club on February 4.

As a child Miss Pennell planted her first garden, never suspecting gardening would become her profession. When it came time to go to college she already had collected all her interest, so she entered the Pennsylvania School of Horticulture. After graduating, she took advanced studies at Cornell University and Pennsylvania State University in horticulture and history of art and architecture.

When she was asked to come to Williamsburg to supervise the colonial-style arrangements in the 18th century Governor's Palace, Wythe House, Raleigh Tavern and other exhibition buildings, Miss Pennell was first interested in the challenge of creating a variety of arrangements which fitted the character of each room. Flowers are one of our best ties with people of other generations. Colonial Americans had real gardens and enthusiasts had a wide variety of native and imported plant material, Ivy having been brought to this country in little pots by the first settlers. Using only the varieties known in the 18th century, Miss Pennell creates new arrangements in the colonial manner, guided by old prints, paintings and the journals of such men as Thomas Jefferson.

During the winter months many dried arrangements are used, and Miss Pennell is always experimenting with flowers which are not usually dried. Recently she found that larkspur held its color beautifully, and so this winter visitors enjoyed this favorite in the Williamsburg dried arrangements. For best results, gather material for drying early in its season, beginning in June, and tie together in bunches of only eight to ten pieces.

Blue Ribbons were awarded for arrangements interpreting "Freude to Spring," and all green arrangements, as follows: Mrs. D. E. Hood, Mrs. Lloyd H. Burton, and Mrs. E. A. Buxton. Mrs. A. T. Moore won a blue ribbon for a horticultural specimen.

RANGE FIRING WARNING

Mrs. Jennie Louise Wesley

Mrs. Jennie Louise Wesley, 78, wife of the Rev. Thomas D. Wesley, D.D., and daughter of the late Luther and Mrs. Jane Baldwin Sheldon, died at a Norfolk hospital Monday at 1:15 p.m.

Besides her husband she is survived by two brothers, Rear Adm. Luther Sheldon Jr. of Washington, D.C., and Thomas Baldwin Sheldon, of Tampa, Fla., and several nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Wesley was a native of Norfolk and had been a resident of Lynnhaven for a number of years. She was a member of the Lynnhaven Presbyterian Church. Funeral services were conducted at the Holston-Brown Funeral Home Wednesday at 3 p.m. Burial was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Ruritan Club Inducts Three New Members

Three new members were inducted into the Princess Anne Ruritan Club at its February meeting held recently in the Salem Methodist Church.

New members are Floyd E. Kellan Jr., Wilbur Brown and Henry Hartley. Ruritan Frank W. Kellan served as inducting officer. Vice President Maury Rignato presided over the meeting in place of President Tommy Thompson. Frank Kellan gave a resume of the recent Ruritan National Convention held in Washington, D.C. Thompson was elected to the Board of Directors of Ruritan National. Murray Halborn outlined plans for the forthcoming minstrel show being sponsored by the club.

Business Group Hears Exchange Teacher Speak

Dr. Rudolph Bauhofer, exchange teacher from Austria at Princess Anne High School was the speaker at the International Relations meeting of the Princess Anne Business and Professional Women's Club on Monday, February 9. Dr. Bauhofer, who teaches French at Princess Anne, is a lecturer at the University of Vienna and teaches French, English and physical education in a Vienna grammar school.

Dr. Bauhofer addressed the group concerning the differences between the American and Austrian school systems. He noted that school facilities in the United States are much better than those in Austria. Some of the most outstanding differences in the school system are in the method of grading the schools, the methods of teaching subjects, and the emotional atmosphere of the schools. In Austria, all children attend an elementary school until they are ten years of age. At this time the schools are divided into two groups: the grammar school, where the more talented students take subjects in sciences, languages, mathematics, history, geography, art, and music. The remainder of the students attend secondary schools where they get some training in science, language, and history but most of the work here is vocational preparation. Subjects in Austria are drilled in the class rooms and the school terms are almost twice as long as those in the United States. Students in Austria are taught to concentrate and to be critical; they do not accept everything which is told them at face value.

Dr. Bauhofer pointed out that the most amazing difference he had noticed in the school systems was in the attitudes of the students. In the United States, he stated, he was especially aware of the happiness of the students. In Austria, where the students have known hard and suffering they are not happy or carefree, but are serious and sober.

Dr. Bauhofer challenged the United States to improve their ideas and ideals in order that the Russian attack on the minds of the western world might be withheld.

A Letter

February 6, 1959

Little Theatre Group
Mrs. Arthur Massey
207 - 16th Street
Virginia Beach, Va.

Dear Ruth:

I just wanted to convey to you and the Little Theatre group my heartfelt congratulations on the production "Harvey." It was without doubt the best staged and the best acted production I have ever seen put on by any amateur group.

My one regret is that all the people did not avail themselves of the opportunity to see it. I am convinced that you were very short on publicity and I feel the newspapers should be apprised of the fact that that future productions should have a much closer contact with the press.

I have never felt that an effort of any kind can be assured of success simply because it is local in nature and had local participants. I think each endeavor must be good enough to demand attention and cause those giving it their support to feel it is something really worth while — then I feel success can be assured. Certainly, this is true in the case of your last production. Some may have attended out of civic pride or just to show you, the participants, their support, but I assure you no one came away after seeing the production who did not have the feeling that they had had a most enjoyable evening and you, the producers and actors, had no apologies to make. It was a splendid production.

I am proud of the Little Theatre and your group and you may be assured of my wholehearted support.

With best wishes, I am
Sincerely,
W. Russell Hatchett

Butler, Public Affairs Chairman of the Bayside Junior Woman's Club, presented a "Safety Play" at the meeting of the club which was held Wednesday night, Feb. 4, at 8 p.m. at the Bayside Christian Church. Members of the club participating were Mrs. S. E. Lawie, Mrs. R. W. Jennings, Mrs. F. E. DeLoach, Mrs. R. L. Ingram, Mrs. J. L. Blaw, Mrs. J. Poor and Mrs. J. S. Hoots.

The club voted to sponsor a "Brumby Show" supper at Shelton High School on March 7. The proceeds will be used by the club for a nursing scholarship for a girl from Princess Anne High School.

Mrs. C. G. Hughson won the "Vogue Sewing Contest" and will represent the club at the winter district meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs which will be held in March at the Chantrelle Hotel.

The following nominating committee was elected: Mrs. C. B. Forbes, Mrs. R. W. Vanderploeg,

BAYSIDE LIONS CLUB
The Bayside Lions Club held their regular meeting Wednesday night, February 4, at Shore Drive Inn. The president, Wm. D. Nagg, presided.

Lion C. B. Ostrander, program chairman, presented Andy Sabol, Executive for the Seaboard District Explorer Scouts who talked briefly about the great program which is being carried out by explorer scouts all over the country. These boys have a wonderful time working and playing together in all sorts of constructive projects. Mr. Sabol showed a film which illustrated some of these activities. He asked the club's support in advancing the explorer scout program in the Tidewater area by working with the boys as counselors whenever possible.

Lion Roy Twiford announced that the Zone Bland Memorial Contest will be held on Friday, March 20, at the Virginia Beach Convention Hall. The contest will be the feature of a Zone Social with dinner and dancing in addition to the musical entertainment.

The Bayside Club will be represented in the contest by Miss Mary White, a fine pianist who won in the club's contest which was held in January.

Lion Lewis Hackworth, Safety Committee Chairman, announced that his committee is sponsoring a slogan contest in the elementary schools in Bayside.

Lion Gene Caldwell, first vice president, announced that the printer had been placed for the blind made articles which will be sold in the Annual Broom Sale in May. The Bayside Club will sell brooms, doormats, ironing board pads and covers.

OCEAN PARK CIVIC LEAGUE

The Ocean Park Civic League met Thursday night, February 5, at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center on Stratford Road. The president, Robert G. Hollomon, presided.

The club voted to review the Constitution and by-laws and recommendations for changes to be made must be presented at the next meeting. The following committee was appointed to see about the revision: B. C. Barker, H. W. Farham and J. C. Wood Sr.

John Bowman requested that anyone in the area needing emergency equipment to please put the call through directly to the Ocean Park Fire Department, instead of calling Princess Anne Police Headquarters. He cited examples of where time and property could be saved and prevented the idea from coming through the drainage pipe.

Movies were shown of the opening ceremony of the Lynnhaven Bridge.

Vet Service Officer Visits Beach on February 12

Tom Moore, Veterans Service Officer from Norfolk, will be available at the Virginia Beach Convention Center ("The Dome") on Pacific Avenue at 19th Street, to counsel and file claims and forms for veterans and their survivors.

Moore makes this usual visit, scheduled for the second and fourth Thursdays each month, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Moore is a representative for the Commonwealth of Virginia, Division of War Veterans' Claims, a State agency, not associated with the Federal Government, that is authorized to represent veterans and their survivors in development and presentation of their claims and applications before the Veterans Administration and other Government agencies for benefits to which they may be entitled under law. The services of the Division are free and the representatives are trained persons with much experience, and all war veterans themselves.

The Division is under the direction of Harry F. Carper Jr., whose offices are in the State Veterans Administration office in Roanoke. The Division operates under the Virginia Department of Law, the Honorable Albert S. Harrison Jr., Attorney General.

Moore's office in Norfolk is located at 305 McKevitt Building, 203 City Hall Avenue, telephone Madison 2-9671.

THE VIRGINIA BEACH MUSIC CLUB MEETS

The Virginia Beach Music Club will hold its February meeting on Thursday night, Feb. 19 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Terrie near London Bridge. Mrs. Goldborough Robinson, president of the club, will preside. The program, arranged by Mrs. Terrie, program chairman, will consist principally of vocal duets, trios and quartets.

'Eddie' Frizzell, Scoutmaster Deluxe, Also Finds Time for Many Civic and Church Activities

If there were a title of "Mr. Scouting" or "Private Citizen, First Class" these titles would easily fit a genial, likeable hardware dealer in Oceana, Virginia.

This man is H. E. "Eddie" Frizzell, who is one of the area's and nation's outstanding Boy Scout leaders, and a man who possesses many varied interests. It was learned through a little research concerning "Eddie" Frizzell.

Frizzell is the operator and sole owner of the Oceana Feed and Hardware Company in Oceana, a business he has built from a humble beginning in 1946.

One of Frizzell's chief hobbies, aside from his work with the Boy Scouts, is that of a collector. A varied assortment is to be found in his collection display which is magnificently arranged in glass showcases in the basement of his home on Great Neck Road.

Frizzell's collection includes old newspapers, some dating back to 1851, old song hits, old coins, old stones and a fine collection of Indian relics including some arrowheads that are 3000 and 4000 years old. He has a piece of clay rock that is 2400 years old.

It was learned that Frizzell is a direct descendant of the General Robert E. Lee family. This came to light when Frizzell displayed a cannonball from the Civil War days. It was found in this area and as Frizzell explained it probably came from practice firing since no battles were fought in this immediate area. He has a beautiful glass decanter handed down by the Lee family.

Frizzell's face beamed when he began to explain the various items in his collecting collection. Next to his family Boy Scouting is nearest his heart, he said.

The Scout leader has a colorful collection of Boy Scout camp insignias from all over the world. He also has scout badges from throughout the world.

Frizzell, himself, has been accorded many honors in Boy Scouting and he possesses the highest award attainable in scouting, the Silver Beaver award. He also has the Eagle award with two palms and has numerous scout trophies and plaques.

"Eddie" Frizzell is Scoutmaster of Troop 62 at Oceana which is sponsored by the Scott Memorial Methodist Church. Frizzell has been Scoutmaster of the troop for the past 14 years. The troop has an outstanding record in scouting. Frizzell served as assistant scoutmaster from 1945 to 1946 and became Scoutmaster in 1946. He received the Scouter's Key in 1950 for his work with the troop.

"EDDIE" FRIZZELL

Frizzell has attended several national Scout Jamborees. He was on hand at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, for the First National Jamboree in 1950. He toured the United States with 32 Boy Scouts

Baron De Lustrac Speaker at French Salon Meeting

The February meeting of the French Salon of the Woman's Club will be held on Sunday, Feb. 15 at 3 o'clock, at the Woman's club, 524 Fairfax Ave. Baron de Lustrac, long time resident of Norfolk, will be the speaker. In French, and will talk on the subject "The United States as Seen by Alexis de Tocqueville in 1831". The Baron de Lustrac last year spoke on the Impressions of Chateaubriand on the United States, seen in 1791, and the coming lecture will draw attention to the difference 40 years made in the development of the country. The Baron de Lustrac has given numerous lectures in colleges and clubs about the country on these and other subjects concerning French writers. The French Salon is open to all interested in the conversational use of the French language. Students and teachers of French are especially welcome and asked to remain and meet the French residents of Norfolk after the lecture in the special hour which follows.

Carolyn Charles Wins Award

Miss Carolyn Charles was awarded a chest of silver and a certificate in Public Speaking Achievement this week.

The donor of the award is Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Charles. She is a graduate of Princess Anne High School. At present she is attending Duke University and is a freshman who plans to major in Elementary Education.

She has been active in 4-H club work in the county since first joining at the age of 12. In addition to her public speaking activities, she has participated in Share-the-Pain, Camp, 4-H Sunday, and others. She has engaged in several projects. The one in which she has done the most work is "Make or Remake" which is an advanced clothing project. In this project she has won county and district honors. She has also carried Home Grounds Beautification and Freezing as other projects. In her public speaking, Carolyn had entered and won the county and district contests twice and had received an award in state competition. These activities in the field of public speaking added to her other public speaking experiences such as winning the Voice of Democracy contest plus her growth as evidenced by her 4-H record which she kept. All together this made her achievement record first in the State.

Carolyn has also been recognized by her fine work by being made a member of the Virginia Chapter of All Stars.

The donor of the award in this activity and the national sponsor is the Pure Oil Company. It is through such sponsors as these that 4-H awards are made possible to young people who carry out project work and activities in their 4-H Club Program. The certificate she received carried with it the wishes of Dr. W. E. Skelton, Director of the 4-H Club Department, VPI, Blacksburg, Mr. W. H. Daugherty, Director of Extension in Virginia and the Pure Oil Company.

In 1953 and attended the National Jamboree in Santa Ana, Cal., that year. In 1957 he attended the National Jamboree in Valley Forge.

This outstanding citizen and scout leader is a native of this area. He attended Kempville High School and the Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary. He entered the United States Navy in 1939 and upon his discharge opened a general merchandise store in Oceana. He married the former Pearl Elizabeth Miller of Oceana in 1941. They have two children, Joseph Edward, age 13, and Marjorie Ellen, age 7, and live in a lovely home on Great Neck Road, not far from the Hilltop area.

Frizzell is a member of the Scott Memorial Methodist Church and is a former Sunday school teacher. He is a former assistant chief of the Oceana Volunteer Fire Department and is a member of the board of directors of the Oceana Civic League. He is a former member and officer of the Oceana Lions Club and is presently civil defense coordinator for Oceana. He is also a graduate of the National Institute of Radio.

Boy Scout Troop 62 presently consists of 40 boys. In 1945 there were eight boys in the troop. Frizzell said that at one time there were 75 boys in the troop, but that it becomes too unwieldy when there are more than 50. And, with his scouting background he should know.

WOJG THOMAS W. NICHOLSON IN COMBAT EFFICIENCY TRAINING TESTS

Warrant Officer Junior Grade Thomas W. Nicholson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Nicholson, Le Maine Cottage, Virginia Beach, Va., recently participated with the 63rd Transportation Company in combat efficiency Army training tests at various military installations in Virginia.

During the exercise, he demonstrated his skill as a helicopter pilot.

Nicholson, regularly assigned at Fort Eustis, Va., entered the Army in 1944. He holds the Purple Heart and the Combat Infantryman Badge among his decorations.

The warrant officer is a 1946 graduate of Oceana High School. His wife, Carol, lives in Newport News, Va.

A side product of Bell Telephone laboratories work with undersea cables was the new process for separating helium—a needed element—from natural gas.

Preaching Mission Leaders Named

A partial list of distinguished clergymen who will participate in the Second Annual Preaching Mission at Virginia Beach, held in conjunction with Norfolk's United Preaching Mission, includes: The Rev. Messrs. Carlyle Marney, Roy Berkhart, Henry H. Crane, Methodist; The Rt. Rev. Wilburn C. Campbell, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of West Virginia; Russell J. Humbert, Methodist; John Newton Thomas, Warner Hall, Presbyterian; Frank J. Phipps, Congregational; William F. Dunkle, Methodist; and Richard R. Beasley, Episcopalian.

The background of these men, which includes pastorates in various parts of the country and connection with National Church Bodies, brings to us through their messages the breadth of the Christian Gospel.

Out of their background and experience with persons in all areas of need comes the effective proclamation of the Christian faith in terms and in a manner which is relevant and meaningful.

The Convention Center at the Beach is the site for all evening sessions beginning at 7:30, March 12 and continuing through the week. Daily services at 12:15 will be held at the Virginia Beach Methodist Church.

Last year, the Bell Telephone Companies were awarded the National Safety Council's Award of Honor for the sixth time in seven years. The Award represented the combined efforts of more than 604,000 employees working an estimated total of 14 billion man-hours.

Morning—Chevy panel hustles over causeway to St. Petersburg.

Chevy panel steps lively in Florida...runs day and night, delivers 19.3 miles per gallon!

This '59 Chevy panel is on the go, morning, noon and night; it covers as much as 587 miles a day... runs so constantly that its engine never cools off completely. Yet Mr. Clark Farber, the Tampa Tribune's circulation manager, reports that the truck is delivering 19.3 miles per gallon!

This year, the light-, medium- and heavy-duty trucks of the 1959 Chevrolet Task-Force fleet are out to whip anything that comes their way—and they've got what it takes to do it!

Take the panel pictured above, for example. Powered by the '59 Thriftmaster 6 with new economy-contoured camshaft, it's building a sensational economy record, despite the sizzling pace of its work. That's typical of the way Chevies of all sizes are turning to on the most challenging jobs in America. The way they're made, with tough-built truck components, they make the hardest hauls look easy! If you have a job that puts a truck on its mettle, see your Chevrolet dealer!

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

Fleet Basketball Tournament Set For February 15

Each year the U.S. Atlantic Fleet conducts Championship events in all the major sports that American youth enjoy. This comprehensive sports program embraces all personnel serving with Fleet ships and activities. In this way morale, stamina and physical well-being are promoted at all levels of rate and rank.

Since the fundamental objective of these championship events is to keep or further develop alert, efficient personnel the responsibility lies with the various commanding officers to encourage participation by arranging skilled leadership, facilities and equipment for their unit athletic programs.

To ensure that all Navy men will share in the program the U.S. Atlantic Fleet further encourages, in addition to intramural athletics, local tournaments among the various type commands under its jurisdiction.

On February 15th the Fleet Basketball Tournament will kick off the cascade of sports at Charleston, S. C., with Commander, Mine Force hosting the week's play. The Fleet Mine Force will pick up the roll of promoter with an outstanding boxing card, pitting the best amateurs from each command, at Camp Lejeune, N. C., beginning March 2nd.

Norfolk, Va., will witness the remaining six major championship events, all being of a week's duration with the following schedule: Bowling at Mc Cormack Center, March 23rd, host, Commander, Training Force; Tennis at Headquarters, Atlantic Fleet, July 20th, host, Commander, Naval Air Force; Baseball at Little Creek; August 5th, host, Commander, Amphibious Force; Softball at Recreation Park, August 24th, host, Commander, Service Force; Golf at Sewell's Point Club, September 14th, host, Commander, Destroyer Force and Soccer at Little Creek, November 14th, host, Commander, Amphibious Force.

The public is cordially welcome to attend all these events at no

Cape Colony Club Bridge Winners Are Announced

Cape Colony Club members and their guests met last Thursday evening for their weekly duplicate bridge tournament held at the Cape Colony Club.

Winners playing north and south were: first place, Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Mauk; second place, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ewing; third place, Mrs. C. H. Walker and Mrs. Claude Brownley; fourth place, Mrs. R. J. Webber and Mrs. M. D. Kervin.

Winners playing east and west were: first place, Capt. and Mrs. E. C. Baggett; second place, Mrs. Henry Oetgen and Mrs. W. Thorpe; third place, Mrs. E. V. Caulfield and Mrs. J. Stanley; fourth place, Mrs. Betty Atkinson and Mr. R. E. Townsend.

cost but must acquire the necessary past to enter the various military compounds.

The practice of conducting command tournaments does not rule out varsity sports competition. In fact, varsity competitions are considered incentive material. Everybody loves a champion, and the prestige attached to athletic achievement is recognized as a worthwhile incentive.

The reason for holding Fleet Championship events is to give the lesser skilled man a chance to vie for top honors through his ship or squadron team.

An individual, such as a tennis player attached to a Commander, Naval Air Force, U.S. Atlantic Fleet, squadron, may compete in the local tournament held by his command and if victorious represent that command in the Fleet Championship. To win this accolade of honors is to gain the respect of all sports enthusiasts throughout the entire Navy.

As mentioned above Commander, Naval Air Force, will host the Atlantic Fleet Tennis Championship to be held on the Headquarters, U.S. Atlantic Fleet courts, the week of July 20. The tournament director, Frank Madden, boasts that Forest Hills and Wimbledon have nothing better than the fast-drying, Har-Tru courts where the Fleet tournament will be held.

All interested athletes attached to Fleet units may receive further detailed information concerning the various tournaments from their respective athletic officers.

Careless Mailing Practices Causes Loss of Packages

Americans are losing more letters and parcels in the mails—largely through careless mailing practices—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield reported today.

A report covering the 1958 fiscal year shows a total of 24,054,103 dead letter transmittals and 122,350 dead parcels handled for the 12 months ended June 30, 1958.

During the previous 1957 fiscal year (ended June 30, 1957) the corresponding figures were 23,808,508 dead letters and 84,612 dead parcels.

One of the principal reasons why dead letters wind up in dead letter offices, of course, is the failure to address them correctly or legibly," Mr. Summerfield observed.

"However, the surprising part is that many of these letters could be returned if mailers would only use a correct and legible return address."

In the case of parcels, he noted, incorrect or illegible addressing and failure to put a return address on the wrapper contribute to the loss. However, improper packaging, particularly inadequate wrapping paper which comes loose, is a major cause of loss.

In case the wrapper comes off, a piece of paper with both the address and return address—placed inside the parcel—insures delivery or return.

About a tenth of the lost letters in fiscal 1958 were returned to senders after processing in dead letter offices had turned up clues to the identity of the sender, or after claims had been made.

Of the more than 24 million letters handled, 44,976 containing cash were returned to senders and the contents of 1,935,567 other letters were sent back.

Of the remainder that could not be returned, 22,014,334 were destroyed, while 28,392 letters containing money and 10,834 containing other valuable enclosures were held awaiting possible reclamation.

Total cash in the 44,976 returned to senders was $117,826, while the money in the 28,392 letters awaiting further action totaled $134,202.

Such cash is held for one year awaiting reclamation and that which is not reclaimed goes into U.S. Treasury as Postal Revenue. Dead parcels are handled in a somewhat different way. They are

Save $7.50 on 1,000 Broilers

Arsenobenzene is saving broiler growers as much as $7.50 on every 1,000 birds fed throughout a growing period, delegates to the New Hampshire Poultry Health Conference were told today by Dr. Sterling Brackett, director of animal industry development for American Cyanamid Company.

Dr. Brackett told the conference that the new coccidiostat, known to the poultry industry by Cyanamid's trademark Arzene, controls coccidiosis and at the same time gives the growth stimulation of an arsenical. More importantly it does this for less than half the cost of any other combination of products.

Dr. Brackett further pointed out that Arzene is a dual-purpose coccidiostat in that it can be used for broiler and laying flocks. In the latter case, it can be used either during the growing or laying period, or can be fed continuously throughout the life of the bird.

Cyanamid was an early pioneer in the coccidiostat field with Megasal nitrophenide, one of the old standbys that helped revolutionize the control of coccidiosis.

sent to one of 15 different dead parcel post branches located in major post offices. However, they are not sent to these branches until every effort to deliver them has been made at the local post office and they have been held for varying periods up to 6 months.

Once at the dead parcel office, they are all sold at the next dead parcel auction. In 1958, Uncle Sam realized $378,002 from these auctions, compared with $335,095 in 1957.

The 15 offices, all of which handle dead parcels for many surrounding post offices, together with their receipts, were as follows:

Atlanta, $24,538; Boston, $14,057; Chicago, $122,218; Cincinnati, $20,513; Fort Worth, $19,513; Honolulu, $2,001; New Orleans, $5,344; New York City, $71,235; Omaha, $6,026; St. Louis, $21,449; St. Paul, $11,300; San Francisco, $28,890; San Juan, $1,271; Seattle, $11,691; Washington, $16,079.

The 622,350 dead parcels in 1958 was the highest total since fiscal 1954, when the total was 696,964. The 1954 total compared with 546,012 in fiscal 1957.

NATIONAL ELECTRICAL WEEK

Marking the 112th anniversary of Thomas Edison's Birth

How far that little candlepower throws its beams!

Thomas Edison's first successful electric globe of 1879 was low in candlepower by modern standards. But how far, how very far that little candlepower threw its beams! Out across the years ahead to light the way for a revolution in American life.

At first that revolution moved slowly. Even 30 years later, when VEPCO was born, few homes had electric light. For power was a luxury... 10¢ per kilowatt hour, at a time when a skilled worker's hourly pay might be 25¢.

Then the revolution began to march... as power companies poured millions into more efficient equipment to bring the cost of power within the reach of all.

VEPCO has literally gone around the world for capital. Investors in 49 states and 19 foreign countries have helped this independent Top-of-the-South utility to build the giant power stations and far-striding power lines to serve you.

That is why, today, VEPCO can deliver a kilowatt hour to the average home at about one-fourth the 1909 cost in cash... about one twenty-fifth of the 1909 cost in human earnings. Low cost power to help you work better, farm better, LIVE BETTER—ELECTRICALLY!

FORT STORY NEWS

NEW MESS HALL WINS FORT STORY AWARD

When the 84th Transportation Company here came back from northern operations last Fall, they had to depend on another mess hall for their nation.

Last month the company had their own Mess Hall in operation. This month they walked off with the Best Mess Hall of the Month award at Story.

Col. George E. Woods, Jr., Post Commander, awarded a plaque and flag to Mess Steward, Sergeant First Class Harold Warman and Company Commander, Capt. Joseph Walker.

The Mess Hall was chosen mainly for its cleanliness, sanitary condition and food handling and serving.

OFFICERS' WIVES HOLD DINNER MEETING

Sixty members of the Fort Story Officers' Wives Club gathered for a dinner and meeting at the Officers Club on Wednesday, Feb. 4. A silver service candy dish was presented to Mrs. E. A. P. McCarthy, outgoing president and entertainment was provided by "Lt. James Shannon."

Name cards and desserts were heart shaped, for carrying out a Valentine theme.

COMPANY MAINTENANCE HONORED

The 344th Transportation Company here was honored this week by the Executive Officer of the 11th Battalion for its record maintenance.

Maj. R. J. Scherberger honored the unit because it did not have one of its 37 Amphibious Trucks (DUKWs) in maintenance.

"This is an unprecedented feat," said Major Scherberger. "When one considers that the DUKWs spend half of their time in salt water, coupled with the fact that they are an average of 13 years old." Major Scherberger also complimented Post Ordinance for their help in the maintenance of the 84th vehicles.

Capt. J. B. Thomas is the commanding officer of the unit and M/Sgt. Jessie E. Kitchens is Maintenance Sergeant.

VIETNAMESE OFFICERS VISIT FORT STORY

Five Vietnamese officers visited Fort Story on Wednesday, February 11 as part of a program for them to observe U.S. Army training operations.

Active are first Lieutenants and are attending the Engineer School at Fort Belvoir. The visit to Story is a part of a program designed to show them the many different faces of Army training.

At Fort Story they observed a cargo operation in which the Hickory Knoll, anchored off the post was loaded. Both the DUKWs (amphibious trucks) and the 66-ton BARC were used in the operation. Beside the operation, the party also heard a briefing and watched a demonstration of the BARC and the Landing Craft Retriever.

AIRLIFT AT FORT STORY

More than 300 troops from Story will participate in an airlift that began on Tuesday, Feb. third and will continue until Feb. 18.

Helicopters will carry the men to Fort Eustis where they will participate in a bivouac and range firing.

The airlift provides a multiple mission for the men by giving them training in an airborne mission by helicopter plus a live exercise under simulated combat conditions and weapon qualification on the Fort Eustis rifle range.

Members of the 10th Transportation Battalion participated in similar operations last November and are continuing the exercise this week. The 14th Battalion starts their air operation this week and will continue until Wednesday, February 11.

Headquarters Troops will conduct a similar operation on February 17 and 18. Approximately one-third of the post will be involved in the airlift.

LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICER MEET

Civilian and military law enforcement, intelligence and security personnel from Tidewater met at their quarterly dinner meeting at the Officers Club at Fort Eustis recently.

Fort Eustis intelligence officer Colonel Frank Adams, guest speaker, spoke on "Lessons from the History of Intelligence." Among points brought up at this time were, "George Washington's Secret Service," "The Hoodwinking of Benjamin Franklin," and the Intelligence Chief who Turned Traitor."

Among those attending were Mr. Harold Anderson, Norfolk, Chief of Police; Brigadier General A. W. Lyon, Commandant, Transportation School; Mr. J. M. Broughton, Honorary President, International Association Chiefs of Police; Portsmouth Mr. W. W. Bromwell, Special FBI agent, Norfolk; Colonel George P. Hill, Provost Marshal, U.S. Continental Army Command, Fort Monroe; Mayor Frank Dusch and Reeves E. Johnson, Chief of police, of Virginia Beach; Herbert V. Kelly, Newport News attorney, was master of ceremonies.

Television was transmitted over a long distance for the first time in 1957 by using wire from Washington, D.C., and by radio from Bell Telephone Laboratories in New Jersey to New York City.

CONGRATULATIONS

It gives me a real thrill to see our farmers receive recognition for outstanding accomplishments. My congratulations go to Ray Newman of London Bridge for being named Princess Anne County's outstanding young farmer. This is an annual award being sponsored by the Princess Anne Junior Chamber of Commerce.

DOES FERTILIZER MAKE A DIFFERENCE?

Why sure it does, and we can prove it by actual tests conducted here in our own county.

Let's take the case of Marion Bright's corn demonstration as conducted on his farm last year. This demonstration was one of eleven in the Corn-Net Return Improvement Club. Let's look at the total picture to get the complete story.

Marion planted VPI 618 at the rate of 15,816 stalks per acre, 12 inches apart in 38-inch rows. Four hundred pounds (400) of 5-10-10 was broadcast before planting and 550 pounds was applied in the row at the time of planting. In addition to the complete fertilizer, Marion side-dressed his corn with 80 pounds of pure nitrogen. This field of corn averaged 96.7 bushels per acre.

On another field the 400 pounds of 5-10-10 broadcast was omitted, however, all other operations remained the same. This field had an average yield of 88.6 bushels per acre.

The extra 400 pounds of 5-10-10 broadcast gave 10.1 bushels of corn more per acre than the alternate method. This extra 10.1 bushels of corn returned $10.94 more gross profit. The extra 4 bags of fertilizer cost $7.56. Thus the additional 400 pounds returned a net profit of $3.38 per acre.

Now there are other things to consider. The fertility of the soil was very good, being medium in both phosphate and potash by a soil sample. I believe that we would have found even greater differences if the fertility was not as high. But there are still other things to consider. This extra fertilizer should increase the yield of soybeans next year, for we know that soybeans respond better to fertilizer applied to the preceding crop than to direct fertilization. We are going to keep an accurate check on these two fields just to see what difference it will make. Read and compare. What will better fertilization do on your farm? Why not try and find out.

NEXT WEEK

Be sure to read next week's column for recommendations regarding: (1) top-dressing small grain; (2) fertilizing permanent pastures; (3) fertilizing alfalfa; (4) controlling chickweed in alfalfa; and (5) another corn demonstration report.

THESE LITTLE PIGS DIDN'T GO TO MARKET

Last week five 4-H members each received a registered Yorkshire gilt through the "Sears Pig Chain". The 4-H'ers are Theresa Pescek, Wayne Flora, Gene Smith, Bobby Barnes and Billy Cannon. The chain also sponsors a registered boar. The boar was purchased from Ballentine Farm and will be raised by Tommy Chism. Upon breeding all of the gilts two times, the boar will be the property of Tommy. The 4-H'ers get full ownership of the gilts after they give back one pig (pick of the litter) to the chain to be placed with five new members.

PASTURE SEEDING TIME IS NIGH IN SOME AREAS

Farmers in Princess Anne will soon be seeding pasture. February 1 is the signal for Princess Anne farmers to start seeding pasture crops. Here are some general recommendations that may be of some help to you.

Apply lime if needed, as shown by soil test. Take soil sample now. Apply fertilizer, also as indicated by soil test. On heavy soils and soils of high fertility, 800 to 1,000 pounds of 2-12-12 will usually be needed. On light soils, sandy soils, and soils of low fertility, apply generally 1,000 pounds or more of 5-10-10. On very poor soils, additional phosphate or potash may be needed. If so, apply it and plow down before seeding.

Encourage deep root growth by plowing down 1 or more of the lime and fertilizer. The rest should be applied and harrowed in just before seeding. Harrow and roll until seedbed is firm.

Any one of several mixtures can be used, depending on the soil, and the expected use of the forage. One good pasture mixture includes 12 to 14 pounds of orchard grass or tall fescue, 1 to 2 pounds ladino and 2 to 3 pounds red clover. Other mixtures are listed in Circular 739, "Mixtures for Year-Round Feeding," and in Leaflet 40, "Here's How to Seed That Pasture." Let me know if you want a copy—it's free for the asking.

SWINE INFLUENZA DANGER IN 'ANCIENT' WEATHER

Chills, fever, or sudden changes to cold weather, can trigger an attack of influenza in the swine herd.

When hogs are confined in winter quarters the virus which causes the disease can spread rapidly through the air. To prevent an outbreak of swine influenza provide clean, dry, comfortable sleeping quarters without drafts. Keep the hogs away from old straw piles and dusty lots that have been used by hogs for a long time. The swine influenza virus is carried by lungworms which spend part of their life cycle on worms, and earthworms may be found in old strawstacks. Then too, the strawstacks may be damp and if hogs sleep around them the combination of chilly nights and damp bedding might cause trouble.

The initial sign of influenza will probably be a strange-sounding cough, followed by loss of appetite and thumpy breathing. Except for the peculiar cough the same symptoms are noted in hog cholera and other diseases. So you should call a veterinarian promptly to get an accurate diagnosis. Each disease must be treated in a different way. The important thing in treating swine influenza is to prevent the disease from developing into pneumonia. Keep the sick animals quiet and comfortable, in dry quarters, out of drafts. They will need dry, deep bedding, plenty of fresh clean water, and a light diet. If pneumonia develops, then the veterinarian will have to give special treatment.

It is important to get prompt veterinary diagnosis if hogs or hogs go off feed or show any signs of illness, especially if they have not been vaccinated for cholera. Illness may indicate an outbreak of influenza, but it also may be the first sign of more serious diseases.

Science Show Presented at Beach High School

Science came alive in demonstrations and Language everyone can understand when the world famed General Motors Previews of Progress was presented before Virginia Beach High School on February 6 at 2:00 p.m.

A miniature car actually powered by the sun, a roaring jet engine and synthetic rubber that leaps from a pop bottle are a few of the exciting parts of the fast-moving 40-minute stage show.

Staged to dramatize science's key role in industrial progress under America's free economy, Previews of Progress is admission free. More than three million students and adults view it each year. Many more see it on television.

"We seek through Previews to inspire more young people to make science their career and provide the trained talent America must have to keep pace with the promise of the future," John P. Gordon, president of General Motors, declares.

Other demonstrations by the two-man Previews team will demonstrate another example of sun power — the fuel cell in which "liquid sunshine" provides the power for a portable radio. They will also show their audience how its television shows are sent across the nation and how space ships of tomorrow will be controlled by the same whirling gyroscopes that safely guide today's ships, planes and rockets.

Besides the seven teams operating in this country, Previews has 14 units touring Europe, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand. Total worldwide audience has now passed 25 million.

Previews has won wide acclaim from educators and civic and fraternal organizations for its success in awakening both youth and adults to the importance of science in daily life and the vital need for more skilled hands to carry scientific progress forward.

L. B. Williams Attends District Convention

L. Belmont Williams, Mgr. of the Southern States Norfolk Service at Norfolk, Va., has returned from a three-day District Agency Conference at Baltimore, Md., which was conducted by Southern States Cooperative for managers and employees of its local cooperative service agencies.

The meeting was especially designed to help agency personnel to become better acquainted with the products and services of the cooperative so they in turn will be better equipped to serve the more than 384,000 members of Southern States. The conference was conducted by officials and top distribution and purchasing men from the cooperative's central offices in Richmond, Va.

The conference is one of nine meetings scheduled to be held at various points throughout the six-state operating territory of the organization. The Cooperative, which is one of the nation's largest regional farm organizations has agencies in Kentucky, West Virginia, Tennessee, Maryland and Delaware.

Talks were presented on seed, feed, fertilizer and farm supplies at the meeting.

Beach Pleased To Host Scout Program Feb. 21

NAS Oceana — Mayor Frank A. Dusch announced from his office today, "that Virginia Beach is honored and pleased that the Activity Committee of the Seaboard District of the Boy Scouts of America picked Virginia Beach for their Scoutarama.

Captain R. G. Knorr, USN, Commanding Officer Naval Air Station Oceana, and a representative of the Boy Scout group sponsoring the Scoutarama, paid an informal visit to Mayor Dusch to explain the purpose of the Scoutarama. The event is scheduled to be held at the Convention Center on Feb. 21, and will afford both Boy Scout troops and Cub Packs to display to the public projects that they have been working on during the past year.

Capt. Knorr stated "That if the advance sale of tickets is an indication to the success of this project, the parents and friends of these boys are planning to support the Scoutarama 100 percent." More than 11,000 tickets have been sold to date, and it is gratifying to know that the people in this vicinity are anxious to support the area scouts.

"More than 40 troops and packs have requested space in the Scoutarama," Capt. Knorr further related, "for such exhibits as Indian Lore, Wheels of Progress, Tracking, and many other exhibits that will be of interest to the general public. In addition to the static exhibits, demonstrations in archery, fishing, jujitsu, and Indian dancing will be held at 2:00, 4:00, and 7:30 p.m. Lt. Tabor, the Navy's Space Man, will be on hand to demonstrate his space suit and to speak to young and old alike on the problems encountered in conquering our newest frontier — SPACE.

Mayor Dusch assured Capt. Knorr that he would be at the Scoutarama to conduct the opening ceremonies. He also expressed a desire that it become an annual affair, and that Committee members planning this affair, be apprised of the fact that Virginia Beach would welcome them back next year.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, February 20th, 1959, marks the Seventeenth Anniversary of the establishment of the Amphibious Forces of the United States Navy; and
WHEREAS, the Tidewater Area has been the home port of the United States Atlantic Fleet Amphibious Force during these past seventeen years; and
WHEREAS, a particularly close alliance and association exists between the citizens of Virginia Beach and personnel of the Atlantic Fleet Amphibious Force and their families, many of whom have chosen to become members of our community; and
WHEREAS, the officers and men of the Amphibious Forces have constantly demonstrated their loyalty and devotion to the service of our country, and are now actively engaged in maintaining the readiness of the Amphibious Forces to uphold and defend the American way of life against any enemy which might seek to destroy it;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANK A. DUSCH, Mayor of the City of Virginia Beach, Virginia, do hereby proclaim Friday, February 20th, 1959, as AMPHIBIOUS FORCE DAY and call upon my fellow citizens to manifest due and appropriate recognition of this occasion.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City of Virginia Beach to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Virginia Beach this Twentieth day of February in the year of Our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-nine.

Two Airmen in Narrow Escape

Two Navy pilots escaped possible death Tuesday when their F9F-8F exploded and crashed during takeoff at Naval Air Station Oceana.

LTJG James C. Thompson, the pilot of the aircraft and LCDR J. R. O'Malley were starting a routine training flight when an explosion occurred during takeoff. Lt. Thompson immediately aborted the takeoff and the aircraft came to a stop in the overrun area at the end of the runway. Both pilots successfully abandoned the aircraft and escaped with no injuries, but the plane was destroyed by fire.

An investigation has been launched to determine the cause. Lt. Thompson is married and lives with his wife and family at 101 Bob Lane, Oceana, Virginia. LCDR O'Malley is attached to COMNAVSTA Staff at Naval Air Station Norfolk and was undergoing Instrument Flight Training with Fighter Squadron 21 at the time of the accident. LCDR O'Malley is married and lives at 6421 Avon Road, Norfolk, Virginia.

Rhae Adams Named Beach's First Citizen Winner for 1958

Rhae W. Adams, Virginia Beach automobile dealer and rising young civic leader, has been named Virginia Beach's First Citizen for 1958, according to an announcement made by a special awards committee of the Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Adams is presently State president of the Virginia Junior Chamber of Commerce and has served a committee of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce that played a large part in obtaining ball field lighting between Virginia Beach and the City of Norfolk.

The 1958 First Citizen has been a tireless civic worker. He headed a committee of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce that played a large part in obtaining ball field lighting between Virginia Beach and the City of Norfolk.

Adams has served as treasurer of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce, has been active in the United Community Fund, the Red Cross program, and many other noteworthy projects.

The citation to the First Citizen reads: "For the selfless contribution of his remarkable talent and dynamic leadership and broad vision, as well as the less unique but sorely needed gifts of time and financial support, to projects so numerous as to defy inclusion here, all for the enduring benefit of Virginia Beach and the surrounding communities."

'Coach of Year' Speaker at Sports Jamboree Monday

Virginia Beach sportsmen are scheduled to hear Football Coach Paul Dietzel, coach of Louisiana State University, the nation's number one football team the past season, at the seventh annual Virginia Beach Sports Club Jamboree to be held at the Cape Colony next Monday night.

Coach Dietzel, in addition to leading his LSU Tigers to an undefeated season, a victory in the Sugar Bowl, and number one ranking in the Associated Press poll, was named "coach of the year" for the nation.

Fred Isaacs is general chairman of the Jamboree. He stated that the affair would be limited to 250 persons and that tickets will be $6 for guests.

A highlight of the Jamboree will be the naming of Virginia Beach's "Sportsman of the Year."

Heart Fund Workers Prepare for Drive

Heart Workers Plan Canvass Next Sunday

The Heart Sunday Volunteer Army will begin its march beginning from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday to give every resident of Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach a personal opportunity to help his heart.

Hundreds of local residents will visit homes in every section of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County to collect contributions for the 1959 Heart Fund. Each volunteer will wear an identification badge and will carry official buff-colored envelopes in which contributors may seal their checks, bills or coins.

Where the volunteer finds no one at home, he or she will leave a pre-addressed mail-in envelope in which a contribution may be sent conveniently to Heart Fund headquarters during the next few days.

Heart Sunday is that special day in the year in which the Tide-water Heart Association asks you to remember what you have seen, heard and read about the cardiovascular diseases throughout the year and to give for every heart in your family.

Last year $8,431.18 was collected in the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County Area, with the able assistance of the Cape Henry Woman's Club, Creeds, Kempsville and the Princess Anne Ruritan Clubs.

It is the day on which you have the responsibility of assuring the success of your Heart Association's mass assault on the heart diseases, during the coming year.

The decision is yours because it is your contribution that makes possible the attack on the heart problem. By the size of your gift you help determine the amount of research that can be carried on to seek new knowledge, and the extent to which the benefits of heart research can be passed on to your physician to serve you, your family and your neighbors.

The "house-to-house" collection here will be similar to Heart Sunday collections being conducted in thousands of other communities throughout the United States. Of that portion of the collection allocated to the American Heart Association, at least 50 percent automatically is used to support research. A total of more than 32 million Heart Fund dollars has been channeled into research in the 10 years since the American Heart Association was organized as the only national voluntary health agency devoted exclusively to the cardiovascular disease.

The award banquet is scheduled to be held at the Paramount Restaurant on Wednesday night, Feb. 25, at 7 o'clock. Reservations must be made at the restaurant not later than Monday, Feb. 23.

Senator Ames Announces His Candidacy for Assembly Seat

Senator E. Almer Ames, Jr., in a telephone interview with the Sun-News Wednesday afternoon, stated that he would be a candidate for the Virginia General Assembly, subject to the July primary election.

In announcing his candidacy for reelection to represent the First Senatorial District of Virginia, Senator Ames will be seeking his second four year term. He was elected for the first time in 1955.

The Onancock attorney has received considerable recognition in the Senate of Virginia. He has several important committee assignments, including the Privileges and Elections, Courts of Justice, Agriculture, Mining, and Manufacturing, Fish and Game and Library Committees. In addition, Senator Ames serves on the Important Steering Committee.

The veteran attorney has had 34 years experience as a lawyer and served his county for 12 years as commonwealth's attorney. Senator Ames is a Phi Beta Kappa and holds AB and LL.B. degrees from Washington and Lee University.

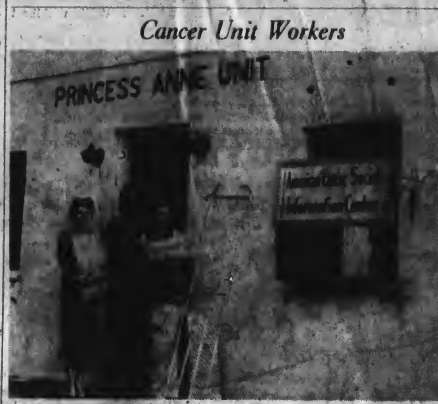

Sensor Ames issued the following statement: "I wish to announce my candidacy for reelection to the Senate of Virginia from the First Senatorial District, subject to the Democratic Primary to be held on July 14, 1959.

During my term in the Senate I have endeavored to represent the entire Senatorial District to the best of my ability.

I trust the manner in which I have discharged the duties of the office will merit the approval and support of the people in the District in the coming Primary and General Election."

Respectfully,
E. Almer Ames, Jr.

City Insurance Program Plan In Good Shape, Council Told

The City of Virginia Beach's insurance program came up for brief discussion at Monday City Council meeting and it was concluded that the city's insurance coverage was good and that the program was well handled.

Discussion of the city's insurance came about when J. B. Withers, Jr., a local insurance man, told Council that he had found that 95 per cent of the city's insurance premiums on fire, casualty and marine coverage are "now directed to two agents." He suggested that the city select one or two agents of its choice to write it all.

Withers further suggested that the agent writing the insurance retain 50 per cent of the earned commission and distribute the other 50 per cent to other Virginia Beach agents.

Councilman John E. Fitzgerald, at this point, asked Withers if this would save the taxpayer money. Withers replied that it would not.

Councilman Frank D. Tarrall, Jr., then asked the insurance representative if he thought that when the city hired an attorney in a special suit if that attorney should divide his legal fee with all other attorneys practicing in Virginia Beach. Or, that if the city hired a public accountant for an audit of the city's affairs, if that accountant should divide his fee with all other accountants in the city. Tarrall stated that he could see no logic in the plan suggested by Withers.

City Manager W. Russell Hatchett stated that Herbert Terry of the insurance firm of Smith, Gustafson and Terry has "looked after the city's insurance program for several years and was always ready to make studies and recommendations to council relative to insurance matters."

A breakdown of agents writing insurance policies for the City reveals that a total of eight agents are now handling this business. Those participating in the city's insurance are Smith, Gustafson and Terry; Kellam and Eaton Insurance Company; W. W. Johnson and Son; R. Lee Page Company; E. A. Langhorne; James Doyle; Jarvis and Kitchin and W. G. Sessions.

It was also learned that City Council does not authorize much of the insurance written. Personal bonds on certain officers are placed by the individual office holder and the school board authorizes the insurance coverage to cover its responsibilities.

Councilman Tarrall said he saw no reason at the present time to disturb the city's insurance program since it had been shown to be adequate and that the insurance is being purchased at the lowest possible premium rates. The Council declined to act on the insurance proposal.

A 55-page revision of the city's license taxes was passed on first reading by the Virginia Beach City Council at its meeting Monday afternoon. It is scheduled to come before Council at its next meeting on March 23.

Council also approved a change for sewage treatment charges for city residents and an increase of 10 cents in the base cost for water users outside the city. No change in the basic water rate for city users was proposed.

If the license tax revision passes, it will go into effect on May 1. Council also approved the borrowing up to $250,000 as a temporary loan.

Rates proposed affecting certain type business were:

1. Amusement party operators would be required to pay a $700 basic license tax plus four-tenths of one per cent additional on gross receipts on individual amusement unit operations.

2. Persons renting out beach equipment — such as air floats, umbrellas and chairs — would pay a $500 yearly tax on rental units up to 25 in number and an additional tax for more than this.

3. Persons operating boarding houses or tourist homes with less than six rental rooms would pay $20 plus three-tenths of one per cent on the gross receipts.

4. Hotel keepers would pay an annual license tax equal to $30 plus three-tenths of one per cent of the gross receipts of the business.

5. Retail merchants would pay a license tax equal to $30 plus three-tenths of one per cent of gross sales in excess of $3,000.

6. Persons handling trading stamps should pay a license tax equal to $250 plus three-tenths of one per cent of the value of the trading stamps in excess of $50,000.

7. Persons handling trading stamps should pay a license tax equal to $250 plus three-tenths of one per cent of the value of the trading stamps in excess of $50,000.

8. The water and sewerage charge, the $2.50 minimum up to $4000 gallons is increased up to three dollars for persons outside the city. The basic sewerage rate will increase from 20 cents to 75 cents minimum for city residents and increases in lesser amounts for heavier users of the service.

The council also decided that it did not pass a proposed ordinance which would require dog owners to confine their animals and not allow them to roam the streets.

The council also decided that the city court will meet twice a week in the winter instead of once, as is now the case.

Children Theatre Presenting Two Shows Saturday

The Children's Theatre of Norfolk will present two performances of "The Magic Apple" in the Virginia Beach High School auditorium on Saturday. It has been announced.

The first presentation is scheduled for 11 a.m. and the second performance at 1:30 a.m. Admission is 50 cents per person. The Children's Theatre is sponsored by the Junior League of Norfolk.

Servicemen's Night Highlight At Beach Mission

The addition of a special night for the Armed Forces personnel of the Beach area extends the inclusiveness of this Second Annual Preaching Mission. Evening services will be held at the Convention Center at 7:30 p.m. from March 1 to March 7. Featured speakers on Thursday, March 5, Servicemen's Night, will be the Rev. Richard R. Beasley, Rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Roanoke; and the Rev. Charles R. Goff, Mr. Beasley is one of the finest preachers of the Episcopal Church in the state, having preached and lectured throughout the area and the south. The Rev. Mr. Goff is also a most excellent selection to speak on this evening, as a result of his background, understanding and spiritual insight.

Recent Bride

Mrs. Clyde V. Nordstrom, Jr., above, who before her recent marriage was Miss Julia Vagos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William John Vagos, of Virginia Beach. The wedding took place February 15 in the Galilee Episcopal Church here. The young couple is residing at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, where the groom is a lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps.

Vagos-Nordstrom Vows Are Spoken

The Galilee Episcopal Church of Virginia Beach was the setting Sunday, February 15 at 4:30 p.m. for the marriage of Miss Julia Vagos and Lt. Clyde V. Nordstrom, Jr., of Exmore, Virginia.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Edmund Berkeley, pastor of the church. Nuptial music was furnished by the church organist, Mrs. George Aldridge and Mrs. William Edwards, soloist presented several selections.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William John Vagos of Virginia Beach. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde V. Nordstrom of Exmore, Virginia.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of bombazine, and chantly lace styled with an escalloped neckline sparkled with sequins. The sweep train was accented with escalloped panner over drupe. Her lace headpiece was studded with sequins and pearl with elbow length veil of imported illusion. She carried a semi-cascade of white hydrangeas centered with a white orchid.

Miss Grace Vagos and Mrs. John M. Davis, sisters of the bride, were honor attendants. The bridesmaids were Miss Betty Ann Carroll of Norfolk, Miss Ann Richardson of Arlington, and Miss Helen Vagos, sister of the bride. Mrs. L. R. Liskey, also sister of the bride, was mistress of ceremony. Little Misses Jeanne Davis and Cynthia Liskey, nieces of the bride, were flower girls.

The attendants wore identical ballerina length gowns of pure silk chiffon of pink and peony. Their headpieces were a matching bow with circular veil.

John Edward Tankard of Nassawadox was best man. Groomsman were Walkley Johnson of Richmond and Frank Duer of Nassawadox. Ronald Kellum of Exmore and Preston Ransone, cousin of the groom, of Morton, Pa.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Vagos wore an afternoon dress of open blue lace, matching accessories, and a white corsage. Mrs. Nordstrom, mother of the groom, wore an afternoon dress of beige lace, matching accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Cape Colony Club. Later the couple left for a southern wedding trip. For the trip the bride

Ruby Albano, H. L. Ripley Exchange Vows

A double ring ceremony united Ruby W. Albano and Sgt. Herbert L. Ripley in marriage. The wedding took place at the home of the bride on Virginia Beach Blvd., London Bridge, in the presence of the family and a few close friends.

The Rev. George W. M. Taylor, pastor of LeKies Memorial Methodist Church, officiated Feb. 10. Red and white carnations, evergreens and candles were used in the home decorations.

Mrs. Ralph Wood of Virginia Beach and Sgt. Richard Poolos, USA, of Ft. Story were the only attendants.

The bride wore a two-piece navy blue ensemble with matching hat and white accessories, and an orchid corsage.

After a wedding trip to Washington, D.C., Sgt. Ripley will return to duty with the U.S. Army in Germany where Mrs. Ripley will join him later.

wore a sapphire blue suit accented at the neck with crushed silk, fitted jacket, and sheath skirt. She wore matching accessories. Upon their return, they will reside at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina where Lt. Nordstrom is stationed.

(Which) Industry Now Betters The Living of 3 Out Of 4 Virginia Families?

Here Are Some Surprising Facts About The Trading Stamp Industry

So far, whenever our nation's economy has needed expansion, a new industry has sprung up to help the country go ahead.

The automobile industry, employing millions, was followed closely by the development of radio and radio broadcasting to make more millions of jobs. Then came the airplane industry, air conditioning, plastics, television, frozen foods, to change our lives some more.

The trading stamp industry, while not new, belongs to this expansion group and has been one of the fastest growing of all. Today it directly benefits the living of the more than 3 out of 4 Virginia families who save trading stamps.

Obviously, an industry affecting such a large proportion of Virginia's population must bring far-reaching benefits for Virginia's economy. And it does. In 1957 the trading stamp industry bought $3,738,000 worth of products from Virginia's manufacturers. In one way or another, it provided employment for 615 Virginia people in many different industries.

The people in the trading stamp industry, its merchandise and redemption stores, its warehouses and transportation and all the activity that goes on within it are helping to develop Virginia.

Thus it seems plain that the trading stamp industry along with the 735,400 Virginia women it serves has become, like other expansion industries, a living, vital part of our State's economy.

Two messages is published as public information by THE AMERICAN TRADING STAMP COMPANY, originator 63 years ago of Red Green Stamps.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Hayman Receives Deserved Tribute

The highlight of the recent annual meeting of the Fraternal Order of Police, Virginia Beach Lodge Seven, was the honor paid to "Judge" J. Clarence Hayman, who was made an "Honorary Life Member" of the Lodge and was presented a handsome wrist watch by the grateful members of the police organization.

"This is Your Life" book was read and presented to "Judge" Hayman and the most surprised individual in the audience was the honored guest, himself. The presentation and the humble acceptance by "Judge" Hayman was a moment to be remembered.

"Judge" Hayman was signalled out because of his many years of service to his community and for his devotion as a constant advocate of law and order in his community, state and nation.

The running account of "Judge" Hay-man's life pointed out that he had been a friend to every law enforcement body during his life as a public servant, lending assistance and encouragement to every member of the Police force who sought his counsel.

The citation closed by stating that "because of your personal interest and concern for each individual member of the Virginia Beach Fraternal Order of Police, you will forever be endeared in our memory. Because of the high esteem in which you are held by this organization, evidenced by your impeccable friendship, loyalty and devotion to our cause, we, the members of the Fraternal Order of Police, Virginia Beach Lodge No. 7, do hereby confer upon you this 10th day of February, 1959, an "Honorary Lifetime Membership" in our Associate Lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police."

PANEL DISCUSSION PLANNED BY GROUP

A panel discussion on "Psychic Experiences in Everyday Life" will be presented by the Association for Research and Enlightenment Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The discussion will be presented by the A.R.E. Forum Committee and all interested persons are invited to attend. The panel will consist of Jeanne Schultz, Helen Godfrey, Anna Morton, Joe Flanagan, and Robert Clipp, with Wym Price as moderator.

All A.R.E. sessions are held at headquarters located at 67th Street and Atlantic Avenue.

FOUR TEAMS IN BABE RUTH LOOP

Plans are moving ahead to field four teams in the Virginia Beach Babe Ruth League this summer, according to Charlie Reed, president of the baseball league.

The four teams will be known as the Spots, Cokes, Dodgers and Yanks. These nicknames are tentative since all of the sponsors have not been contacted at this time.

Reed announced that a meeting is to be held shortly to formulate plans for the forthcoming season. The Babe Ruth league, Reed pointed out, is for boys of 13, 14 and 15 years of age.

It is expected that the next meeting will also include the signing of players for the new season.

P.T.A. DINNER-AUCTION FRIDAY, FEB. 20

The Court House P.T.A. is sponsoring a dinner and auction to be held Friday, Feb. 20, 1959, at the school. The dinner, which will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., will include ham, cole slaw, potato salad or candied yams, green beans or corn, pickles, hot rolls, tea or coffee, pie or cake.

The auction, with its many exciting items to be sold, will follow the dinner at 7:45 p.m.

The public is invited to attend.

An Ordinance

Imposing and Levying License Taxes for the Year beginning May 1, 1959, and ending April 30, 1960, and also for each and every year thereafter beginning with May 1 of each year and ending with April 30 following, and otherwise changed, for the purpose of providing funds for the operation of the City Government, the payment of the City Debt, and for other Municipal purposes, providing for the collection of said license taxes, and providing penalties.

WHEREAS, it is necessary for the usual daily operation of the various departments of the city government and especially for the usual daily operation of the department of finance that provision be immediately made for imposing and levying the following license taxes in order that the same may be effective on May 1, 1959, an emergency is set forth, and declared to exist, pursuant to Section 11 of the Virginia Beach Charter, therefore,

BE IT ORDAINED by the council of the City of Virginia Beach: SCHEDULE OF FEES

Sec. 1—Levying of license taxes. For the year beginning May 1, 1959, and ending April 30, 1960, and also for each and every year thereafter beginning with May 1 of each year and ending with April 30 following, until otherwise changed, there are hereby imposed and levied, and there shall be collected, for each of said years, until otherwise changed, the annual license taxes hereinafter set forth on the following, except as otherwise provided in this ordinance, on persons, firms, corporations, companies and associations, conducting or engaged in the businesses, occupations or professions, employments in the City of Virginia Beach hereinafter set forth in this ordinance, which said license taxes shall be for the purpose of providing funds for the operation of the city government, the payment of the city debt, and for other municipal purposes.

Sec. 2—Agents for selling books. Agents for selling books, magazines and/or periodicals, each $50.00 per year, per person; or less than $5.00 per month, per person. Any such license shall not authorize the person to whom issued to sell, offer for sale or solicit the sale of any books on streets, lanes, alleys or public places in the city unless such person has registered with the Chief of Police as required by the ordinance pertaining to canvassing and soliciting in the City of Virginia Beach.

Sec. 3—Agents for coal companies. Every person, firm or corporation doing business in this city as agents for or brokers of coal companies for the shipping or handling of coal in any manner shall pay a license tax of $50.00; provided, however, that where such person, firm or corporation is paying a merchant's or broker's license tax for the operation of such business, then the merchant's or broker's license tax shall be in lieu of the above license tax.

Sec. 4—Alcoholic beverages. Every person engaged in manufacturing, bottling, selling and/or dispensing alcoholic beverages, the following sums:

(a) For each distiller's license, if more than 5,000 gallons of alcohol or spirits, or both, are manufactured during said license year, including bottling, $500.00.

(b) For each winery license, if to manufacture not in excess of 5,000 gallons of wine during the license year for which the license is issued, $100.00; and if to manufacture more than 5,000 gallons during such year, $500.00.

(c) For each brewery license, including bottling, $500.00.

(d) For each bottler's license, $300.00.

(e) For each wholesale beer license, $250.00.

(f) For each wholesale wine distributor's license, $50.00.

(g) For each wholesale drugist's license, $10.00.

(h) For each retail on-premises beer, wine or beer license, or beer license, $50.00.

(i) For each retail off-premise wine and beer license, or wine or beer license, $50.00.

(j) For each retail on and off-premise wine and beer license, or beer license, $50.00.

(k) For each drugist's license, $10.00.

(l) For each banquet license, $50.00.

The aforesaid licenses shall be as respectively defined by the Act of the General Assembly of Virginia, as heretofore and hereafter amended, known as "The Alcoholic Beverage Control Act," and the terms "alcoholic beverages," "alcohol," "spirits," "beer" and "wine" wherever used in this section shall have the meanings respectively ascribed to them by said Act.

No license shall be issued under this section to any person unless such person shall hold or shall secure simultaneously therewith the proper State license required by said Alcoholic Beverage Control Act, which state license shall be exhibited to the commissioner of the revenue.

Any such license may be amended to show a change in the place of business within the city; and such license may be transferred from one person to another, provided the person to whom transferred holds at the same time a similar license from the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

In imposing wholesale merchants license taxes measured by purchases and retail merchants' license taxes measured by sales and restaurants license taxes measured by sales under any other section or sections of this ordinance, there shall be included alcoholic beverages in the base or bases for measuring such license taxes the same as if the alcoholic beverages were nonalcoholic and no alcoholic beverage license tax levied under this section shall be construed as exempting any licensee from merchant's license tax and such merchant's and restaurant license taxes shall be in addition to the alcoholic beverage license taxes levied hereby; provided, however, that in determining the liability of a dealer, wholesaler or wholesale wine distributor to merchants' license taxation under this ordinance there shall be deducted from said merchant's license tax the amount of the specific license tax herein imposed and paid by such beer wholesaler or wholesale wine distributor.

Sec. 5—Amusement parks. The owner or operator of any permanent park for public amusement in the City of Virginia Beach which shall be open to the public shall, for the privilege of operating therein such park a bowling alley, hobby horse, merry-go-round, ferris wheel, old mill, dip-the-dips and other similar amusements, penny or nickel machines, coin-operated pictures, automatic photo machines, bath houses, boat houses and parking lots, shall pay the following license tax: $700.00; and in addition thereto, 4/10ths of 1 per centum of the gross receipts, exclusive of any federal and city admission tax thereon, from all such activities, except the gross receipts from the operation of such bath houses, boat houses and parking lots.

When such amusement park has six or less of the above amusements, said license tax shall be as follows: $100.00 for each amusement, and in addition thereto, 4/10ths of 1 per centum of the gross receipts therefrom, exclusive of any federal and city admission tax thereon.

Whenever any amusement within the City of Virginia Beach is operated by a person other than the operator of such amusement the following license tax: $50.00; and in addition thereto, 4/10ths of 1 per centum of the gross receipts therefrom, exclusive of any federal and city admission tax thereon.

Any person, other than the operator of such amusement park, who shall operate any amusement within said park, for which tickets are sold, such as rides, games, or other amusements, shall pay a license tax of $50.00, and the like, shall pay a license tax of $50.00.

The license tax provided in this section shall not be operative until the license for the operation of any amusement park shall not be construed to authorize the operation within such park of any hotel, dance hall, motion picture theatre, restaurant, store, or the sale of beer, wine or tobacco, or any other business or occupation for which a specific license is required by this ordinance.

Any person operating any concession, amusement, enterprise or business, for which a license tax is not specifically herein provided, shall pay an annual license tax of $100.00, provided however, that any such concession, amusement, enterprise or other business enterprise employing three or more persons in the operation thereof, and for which a license tax is not specifically herein provided, shall pay an annual license tax of $1,000.00.

Virginia Bankers Farm Credit Conference Slated at Natural Bridge March 1-4

More than 200 Virginia bankers and agricultural workers are expected to attend the Fourteenth annual Virginia Bankers Farm Credit Conference at Natural Bridge March 1-4.

The Bankers' Responsibility for Meeting Credit Needs will be one of the major themes of the four-day meeting, sponsored each year by the Virginia Bankers Association, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond.

Registration for the meeting of State's financial and agricultural leaders will begin Sunday, March 1, at the Natural Bridge Hotel.

Dr. Paul D. Sanders, editor of "The Southern Planter," Richmond, will take "A New Look at the Old South" in the first talk on the program Monday, March 2.

Six agricultural economists from the VPI Extension Service will discuss the outlook for farm income and commodities during 1959. Their remarks will be summarized by G. H. Clark, District Agent, Extension Service, Luray.

Members of the outlook panel and their subjects will be—D. T. Moore, farm income; J. B. Bell, fruits and vegetables; K. E. Loope, field crops and costs; H. W. Walker, poultry and eggs; A. J. Russell, dairy; and R. O. Russell, livestock.

Presiding at Monday morning's session will be Russell L. Uppshaw, chairman of the VBA Committee on Agriculture and vice president of the Campbell County Bank, Rustburg.

Monday afternoon the conference delegates will discuss the bankers' responsibility for meeting credit needs.

T. P. Axton, president of the Lafayette Savings Bank, Lafayette, Ind., will speak on the county bankers' responsibilities, and John K. Gorton, vice president of the Deposit Guaranty Bank and Trust Company, Jackson, Miss., will outline the city bankers' responsibilities. L. B. Dietrick, dean of agriculture at VPI, will preside during the discussion.

Two new VBA agricultural programs will be discussed Monday night. Murray G. Via, vice president, First National Exchange Bank, will discuss a proposed farm war program, and Giles H. Miller, Jr., president, and on feeder pigs will be discussed Tuesday morning.

W. R. Parker, president, Bank of Powhatan, will speak on poultry, and J. R. Austin, executive vice president, National Bank of Orange, will speak on feeder pigs. Presiding at this session will be J. G. Dickerson, vice president of Union Bank and Trust Company, Amelia.

"What We Look For in Making Farm Loans" also will be discussed Tuesday morning.

Panel members will be Benjamin Rapstie, secretary-treasurer, Southside Production Credit Administration, Waverly; Julian Eversly, secretary-treasurer, Shenandoah National Farm Loan Administration, Winchester, and T. Carmel Brown, Farmers Home Administration, Bedford.

Small group discussions on specialized agricultural subjects are scheduled Tuesday afternoon. The subjects will be Beef Cattle and Sheep, Swine of all kinds, and Poultry.

Discussion leaders will be G. W. Litton, head of the VPI animal husbandry department; L. E. Pettyjohn, manager, agricultural and livestock department, American Bank and Trust Company, Norfolk; Roy O. Russell, VPI Extension Division; C. W. Engel, Gloucester; H. W. Walker, VPI department of agricultural economics; and J. L. Green of Fluvanna County.

Speaker of the Farm Credit Conference annual banquet Tuesday night will be William T. Muse, dean of the University of Richmond's T. C. Williams Law School. Robert T. Marsh, Jr., president of the Virginia Bankers Association and president of First and Merchants National Bank, Richmond, will preside at the banquet.

Dr. Charles M. Hardin, of the University of Chicago's department of political science, will speak Wednesday morning on the "Politics of Survival." His talk will be followed by a discussion of "Incorporating a Family Farm Business" by D. U. Livermore, VPI Extension Economist, Stuart P. Fishburne, manager of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond's planning department, will preside at the conference's closing session.

Rubber Leaps from Bottle in Exciting Science Show

The manufacturing of synthetic rubber in just 60 seconds was featured in Preview of Progress, the world-famous science show sponsored by General Motors which appeared at the Virginia Beach High School, February 9th.

And to make the feat even more amazing, the demonstrator used just two bottles, a bottle opener and a cork! This experiment is just one of the many scientific principles demonstrated and explained in the 40-minute Preview stage show.

In the manufacturing of synthetic rubber by the fastest process of its kind known to science, the lecturer merely pours the contents of the small bottle, a catalyst which is basically a sodium compound, into the pop bottle, which contains a mixture of carbon and hydrogen atoms. He then corks the pop bottle carefully and shakes the mixture.

After the pop bottle is shaken for approximately one minute, the cork flies out with a loud "pop" and a dirigible-shaped blob of rubber—twice to fifteen times the volume of the bottle containing it—literally jumps out of the bottle.

This novel experiment in organic chemistry, which illustrates the continuing research by scientists to find new ways to make things, has been by over 18 million people in the U. S. It is just one of many sequences which make up the 40-minute stage show.

Preview of Progress, which is presented by a two-man team, tells the story of industrial progress in free economy. The presentation is non-commercial and is narrated in non-technical language. Admission is free.

Designed to stimulate student interest in science and engineering—two fields in which there is an acute shortage of trained technicians—Preview has been acclaimed by educators and civic and fraternal organizations. Seven Preview units take the show to all sections of the country.

Freedom Cause Offers Residents European Trip

Richmond, Va.—Virginia now have the chance to broadcast their own message to the captive people behind the Iron Curtain—and perhaps win a free trip to Europe to broadcast it in person.

Thomas C. Boush, Virginia State Chairman for Crusade for Freedom, said 206 messages will be selected for broadcast over Radio Free Europe in the new Truth Broadcast Program.

The writers of the six best Truth Broadcasts will be flown to Europe to broadcast their truth messages personally from RFE's headquarters in Munich, Germany. In addition, table model, short-wave radio sets will be awarded for 200 other Truth Broadcasts.

A Truth Broadcast is the completion of the following sentence in 25 words or less: "As an American I support Radio Free Europe because..." An entry blank or a plain piece of paper may be used if it is mailed with the original author's name and address to: CRUSADE FOR FREEDOM, Box 10-P, Mt. Vernon 10, N. Y., no later than March 31, 1959.

Entry blanks or cut-out coupons will be made available through a nationwide advertising campaign on the Truth Broadcast Program. The campaign is sponsored by The Advertising Council and will include magazines, newspapers and poster advertisements donated by the nation's advertisers and publishers.

It is not necessary to enclose a contribution in order to be eligible, but one dollar or more sent with a winning Truth Broadcast will double the award. In other words, a member of the family may go with those who have won free trips to Europe, and possible translator radios will be added to the short-wave receivers, if a dollar or more is sent with the entry.

Supported by American contributions to the Crusade, Radio Free Europe uses 23 powerful transmitters to broadcast to Communist dominated Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Bulgaria.

Institute for High School Teachers At W&M Session

Highlighting the 1959 summer session at the College of William and Mary will be an institute for teachers of high school sciences and mathematics. Also included, in addition to the regular courses, will be 10 workshops and conferences.

Bulletins announcing the complete offerings of the summer session at the college are now available, according to Dr. D. J. Hermann, director.

The session will get under way Monday, June 15, with registration, and classes will begin on Tuesday. In most academic departments there will be two sessions—a six-week session followed by a post-session of three weeks. Students may enroll in either or both of the sessions.

The summer program is designed to provide opportunities for undergraduate students to accelerate their program for teachers to work toward professional improvement in education, business administration, and law; and for graduate students to earn credit in biology, education, history, law and psychology.

According to terms of a contract with the National Science Foundation, the college's institute for teachers of high school science and mathematics will get under way Monday, June 22. Work may be taken in biology, chemistry, mathematics or physics during the six-week session.

A limited number of awards, paying all fees and $75.00 weekly to the individual and $15.00 weekly for each dependent, are available to students in the science institute. Additional information about these awards may be obtained from Dr. Melvin A. Pittman, director of the science institute at the college.

Also included in the summer program will be a number of conferences and workshops on such topics as librarianship, education, conservation of Virginia resources, life in early Virginia, and health and physical education. In addition there will be a conference for guidance counselors and a workshop for elementary principals.

The summer session classes will close Friday, August 14, with commencement following on Saturday, August 15.

Further information concerning the summer session, conferences, and workshops may be obtained from Dr. Hermann at the college.

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain
For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the amazing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while really relieving the actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "I've never been so good as a person!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form called Prohemorlin. It's all drug counters—money back guarantee.

The National Outlook

The President's Economic Report

By Ralph Hobbey
President Eisenhower's annual economic report, prepared with the help of the Council of Economic Advisers, and required by the Employment Act of 1946, is a good analysis of what happened over the past year. Including the statistical tables, it runs to 225 pages and some of it is not easy reading. Numerous legislative proposals are included, although for the most part they are not given in detailed terms. More about these will be heard as the suggestions are sent to the Congress in the form of actual bills.

Every President's economic report is a political document. As a result, the report will be rather generous in the claims it makes for the wisdom of the Administration and its policies. In this regard the current analysis is no exception, but its contention of the past Government played in bringing about the recovery is more modest than many in the past.

Most of the credit for the upswing in business is given to non-governmental action—to the "inherent features of our economy...to our free institutions of savings, banking and finance, and the character of our people, notably their industry and resourcefulness and their capacity to take a confident and balanced view of the nation's economic prospects."

"Our objective," in the words of the report, "now must be to establish a firm foundation for extending this economic advance and price stability into the months and years ahead." To accomplish this, it said:

1. "We must zealously safeguard and improve the institutions of our free and competitive economy."

2. We must "wage a relentless battle against impediments to the full and most effective use of our human and technological resources."

3. "We must continue to enlarge and improve the plant and equipment that supplant human effort and make it increasingly productive."

4. There must be "firm confidence that the value of the dollar will be reasonably stable in the years ahead."

In other words, we must maintain competition, improve output per man-hour, encourage private capital investment, and protect the value of our currency. That is the recurring theme of the report, but most emphasis is placed upon preventing inflation. Over and over there are statements to the effect that we must have growth at a sustainable rate without inflation. Every segment of our nation, it says, must have growth with growth with stable prices. Government must hold spending within reasonable bounds and below the level of the current fiscal year. Our tax system must be reformed to eliminate the present stifling effect upon savings and investment.

The Federal debt must be managed with "superb skill. And Congress must stop coming to the aid of every industry or line of activity which runs into economic troubles."

The banking system must limit expansion of credit and the money supply to a non-inflationary growth rate. The Federal Reserve Board of Governors will be intimately involved in such limitation.

Management must have the courage and foresight to invest in labor saving machinery and other capital improvements, to resist unwarranted wage demands, and to develop new products which appeal to the public.

Labor leaders must forget the idea that there should be a wage increase for their members every year, regardless of the profitability of the employers.

Business men and local public officials must stop running to Washington for financial aid for everything they think might be to their benefit.

And, the public at large must exercise care in its buying, and show its disapproval of increasing prices.

Obviously this is a trying program. But it is not a program of austerity. It merely means that consideration for the welfare of others must be given at least equal weight to selfish interests. That is not asking too much when one bears in mind that the alternative is erosion of the value of the dollar, recession, unemployment, and a general weakening of the nation.

FAMILY CAR TIP

USED CAR BUYING

Top values are often possible in buying a used car. Many people automatically buy a new car every year or two, and the ones they sell are in good condition. But you do have to be careful.

According to John C. Dods, Jr., of the Proprietor Automotive Research Bureau, it's best to test the car before buying. Even a friend may not know the real condition of his car. There are tests you make yourself, but it is often best to have a mechanic look at the car. The few extra dollars may save you money in the long run.

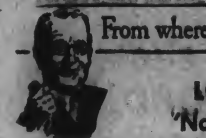

Mr. Dods also suggests that you take into consideration the cost of repair and replacement as well as the asking price of the car. Even then you must realize that there will be some repairs necessary later on that even the best mechanic can't foresee. Make sure you have some money set aside for these emergencies.

YOUR HEALTH

During the past 23 years, the prices of prescriptions, medications, eye examinations and eye glasses have risen less than half as much as the cost of all other forms of medical care, according to the Bureau of Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor. Prescription and non-prescription drugs have risen in price 30.7

points since 1935, as against an overall increase of 61.2 points for the fees of general practitioners, surgeons, dentists, and hospital care. Yet, as The Health News Institute points out, the new drugs discovered since 1935 have been largely responsible for the containment of such infectious diseases as tuberculosis and polio, with a resultant spectacular increase in our life expectancy.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Lucky to Have 'Noisy Neighbors'

A recent news item about an Air Force base and the townspeople nearby illustrates a point I've made for some time.

Most of the local people had the same complaint—the roar of jets was irritating—as a group of them petitioned the Air Force to move the base.

Then the Air Force invited the petitioners to the base to show them how vital it was to their defense. The people soon decided jet noise was really a welcome sound—and all petitions were dropped.

From where I sit, jumping to conclusions—without knowing all sides of a question—is something people ought to avoid. It would make living together a lot easier. On little things, too—their own preferences for hot or cold and more for beer. Understanding the other fellow's point of view will make traveling a lot smoother in this "jet" age of ours.

FORT STORY NEWS

NEW OFFICERS CLUB BOARD OF GOVERNORS

At a general meeting of all members of Fort Story's Officers Open House, a new Board of Governors was elected.

Five of the members will serve a one year term and four will serve for six months.

MIX OFFICERS GET SILVER BARS

Within a two-day period, six officers received their silver bars here, promoting them to 1st Lieutenants.

Promoted were Lt. E. A. Stevens, Post Commander's Office, Lt. W. J. Giney, 35th Transportation Company; Lt. R. T. Curless, supply section, 14th Transportation Battalion; Lt. J. E. Munn, 470th Company; Lt. H. E. Samuel, 568th Company; and Lt. R. DeWitt, assistant supply officer of the 10th Battalion.

This constituted the largest group to be promoted in such a short span of time for the past six months here.

CHANGE OF COMMAND CEREMONY HERE

Change of Command ceremonies of the 568th Transportation Company took place here this week, making Capt. W. O. Rockwell company commander, relieving 1st Lt. Paul W. Bossett.

Lt. Col. E. A. McCarthy, commander of the 10th Transportation Battalion officiated at the ceremony.

Capt. Rockwell, former Post Training Officer, will be with the 568th when they go on a northern resupply mission to the Far North this summer.

DENTIST ASSIGNED TO FORT STORY

Capt. Alfred D'Alessandro, an Army dentist, recently returned from a tour of duty in Korea was assigned here last week at the Post Dental Clinic.

A graduate of the University of Pittsburgh School of Dentistry, Capt. D'Alessandro is a member of the American Dental Association and is a native of Pittsburgh.

STORY MAY HOUSE NEW AMPHIBIOUS

More than 250 members and guests of the Norfolk Chapter, National Defense Transportation Association were told that Fort Story may house new amphibious vehicles in the near future by Maj. Gen. Norman H. Vissering, Commanding General of the Transportation Training Command.

Speaking at the Fort Story Officers Open House Thursday night, General Vissering said that the Army was building a new amphibious vehicle which will be larger than the present DUKW (amphibious truck) and smaller than the 98 ton amphibious LARC. The new vehicle will be capable of carrying six tons of cargo, he said.

He also said that Story may be the home of new General Purpose Battalion which will be capable of carrying on a beach operation on a certain section independently. It would be a combination of a Boat and Terminal Service Battalion.

"Fort Story may be trying out the practicality of such an organization within a year," the general said.

Praise came from the general for the close spirit between the Army and Navy in the Norfolk area in carrying out operations. Guests attending the dinner and meeting consisted of Army, Navy and Marine officers plus civilian officials. Present were Vice Adm. G. C. Towner, Commander, Amphibious Force Atlantic; Rear Adm. W. K. Romero, Commander, Amphibious Training Command, Atlantic; Rear Adm. Roy A. Gano, Commander, Amphibious Group Atlantic Fleet; Rear Adm. Hugh C. Haynsworth, Jr., Commander, Naval Supply Center, Commander, Erich Topp, Representative of West German Navy to NATO in Washington and Col. Arthur L. Baker, Deputy Commander, Fort Story.

Commander Topp is attending an Atomic Warfare school in Norfolk.

President of the Norfolk Chapter, NDTA is Robert Carlin, manager of the National Air Lines, with his office in Norfolk.

UNIT HAS THIRD CONSECUTIVE SOLDIER OF THE MONTH

The 370th Transportation Company here walked off with the Soldier of the Month award for the third consecutive month.

Specialist Fourth Class Gerard A. Keenan, company clerk, took the honors this month. He was chosen for his military bearing, neatness and answers to questions from a reviewing board.

Keenan entered the Army in 1950 at Fort Knox, Kentucky where he completed his basic training. He then went to Fort Eustis and came to Fort Story in July, 1958.

Commanding officer of the 370th is Capt. Scott Berridge.

FORT STORY PFC IS VERSATILE MAN

Private First Class Walter Green of Fort Story's Education Center is an unusually versatile person. Two weeks ago, an officer who was teaching high school classes to a group of sergeants was called back to his company to take over as company commander.

The Education Center had no difficulty in getting a replacement. He was Pfc. Green.

Green, a native of Norfolk, is a former teacher at Carver High School in South Norfolk, where he taught Civics, History, Mathematics and Science. He is teaching Science at Fort Story.

At both college and high school Green lettered in basketball, track and baseball for three years in each sport. He also played the clarinet and oboe in the college band.

The awards he holds in his best sport, which is track, are too numerous to mention. The fact that he runs the 100-yard dash in 9.8 seconds is a good indication of his triumphs. His college roommate was Lee Calhoun who won the 120-yard high hurdles in the 1956 world Olympics.

After teaching for two years, Green entered the Army and became track coach at Fort Story, Kansas and also became a member of the post basketball team.

Son of George H. Green, a Norfolk mailman for 40 years, Green is a member of a talented family. His wife Alvena teaches at Henry Clay School, his sister Barbara is a teacher at another sister, Eleanor, teaches Mathematics at Hampton Institute.

Two other sisters are studying at Howard University. Lillian is working towards a Master Degree in Chemistry and Mary a Bachelor Degree in Physical Education. His brother George graduated from Virginia Union and is presently employed at the Norfolk Naval Base.

The course being taught by Pfc. Green at Fort Story is designed to assist non-commissioned officers to gain enough knowledge for higher educational development, thereby enabling them to attain possibilities of promotion.

He will finish his Army tour in August and plans to return to teaching, a profession that is no stranger to a Norfolk family named Green.

OCEANA P-TA MEETS

The Oceana P-TA will meet Tuesday, February 24 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. Open House will be observed and refreshments served in recognition of Founders' Day.

HARNEY-SNEAD

ABC-TV ALL-STAR GOLF MATCH

"I was pretty lucky . . . he missed the short ones and I made the long ones," said Sam

Snead as he collected his check bringing his total earnings on

All-Star Golf to $10,500. Only the great can be so sincerely modest. Sam, the pin, and his most hardly describes the brilliant, breath-taking match which he won with a record breaking

63, on the Sea Island Georgia

Golf Course.

Sam wasted no time . . . on the very first hole he laid his

6-iron about 5 feet from the pin and then rapped in his putt for a birdie 3. On the par 3 No. 3, he birdied again with an 18 feet putt. Sam took it easy until the 6th, par 4, 420 yard hole

when his 8-iron placed the ball

8 feet from the pin, and his magical putter sank it for his third birdie.

On the 7th and 8th, Harney kept pace with "Slamming Sam"

—both of them scoring birdies back to back. On the 9th, Snead made his only error, taking a bogey 5 . . . while Harney

parred, giving him a 34 against

Snead's 32 on the first nine.

Harney, running into trouble, after 12 holes was 5 strokes down and it looked like the champion was over for the afternoon; but Sam suddenly got hot again. On the 15th, par 5, 460 yard hole, he just missed a 46 foot putt for an eagle, to take a birdie 4. On the 16th hole, par

4, he sank a 21 foot putt for a birdie 3. On the 17th, par 3, he sank a 17 footer for a birdie 2.

On the 18th, par 5, 464 yard hole, "Slamming Sam" Snead lived up to his nickname and put his 1-iron, 2nd shot, on the green, 16 feet from the pin . . .

and then proceeded to calmly sink it for an eagle, taking a $500 cash award. Millions of TV fans must have upset their potato chip bowls in excitement over this one. This rocket-like finish of Snead's on the second nine gave him a 31 which, coupled with his first round 32, added up to a neat 63 for a brand new record at Sea Island. Harney finished with a 1 under par,

71, for 2nd place money.

Distinguished New Englander Discusses

High Court's Decision on Public Schools

Washington, D. C.
October 13, 1958

The Hon. Dwight D. Eisenhower
President of the United States
The White House
Washington 25, D. C.

My Dear Mr. President:

A few days ago I was reading over Justice Frankfurter's opinion in the recent Little Rock case. Three sentences in it tempt me to write you this letter. I am a Northerner, but I have spent a large part of my life as a business executive in the South. I have a law degree, but I am now engaged in historical writing. From this observation post I risk the presumption of a comment.

The sentences I wish to examine are these: "Local customs, however hardened by time, are not decreed in heaven. Habits and feelings they engender may be counteracted and moderated. Experience attests that such local habits and feelings will yield, gradually though this be, to law and education."

IT IS MY PERSONAL CONVICTION that the local customs in this case were "hardened by time" for a very good reason, and that while they may not, as Frankfurter says, have been decreed in heaven, they came closer to it than the current view of the Supreme Court. I was particularly puzzled by Frankfurter's remarking that "the Constitution is not the formulation of the merely personal views of the members of this court." Five minutes before the court's desegregation decision, the Constitution meant one thing; five minutes later, it meant something else. Only one thing intervened, namely, an expression of the personal views of the members of the court.

It is not my purpose to dispute the point with which the greater part of Frankfurter's opinion is concerned. The law must be obeyed. But I think the original desegregation decision was wrong, that it ought to be reversed, and that meanwhile every legal means should be found, not to disobey it but to avoid it. Failing this, the situation should be corrected by constitutional amendment.

I CANNOT AGREE that this is a matter involving "a few states" as Frankfurter suggests. The picture in reality is of a court, by one sudden edict, forcing upon the entire South a view, and a way of life, with which the great majority of the population are in complete disagreement. Although not from the legal, in fact from the practical, standpoint the North, which does not have the problem, is presuming to tell the South, which does have the problem, what to do.

To me there is a frightening arrogance in this performance. Neither the North, nor the court, has any body mandate inherent in the trend of the times or the progress of liberalism to reform society in the South. In the matter of schools, rights to equal education are inseparably bound up with rights to freedom of association and, in the South at least, may require that both be considered simultaneously. (In using the word "association" here, I mean the right to associate with whom you please, and the right not to associate with whom you please.) Moreover, am I not correct in my recollection that it was the social stigma of segregation and its effect upon the Negro's "mind and heart" to which the court objected as much as to any other, and thus that the court, in forcing the black man's right to equal education was actually determined to violate the white man's right to freedom of association?

IN ANY CASE the crux of this issue would seem obvious: social status has to be earned. Or, to put it another way, equality of association has to be mutually agreed to and mutually desired. It cannot be achieved by legal fiat. Personally, I feel only affection for the Negro. But there are facts that have to be faced. Any man with two eyes in his head can observe a Negro settlement in the Congo, can study the pure-blooded African in his native habitat as he exists when left on his own resources, can compare this settlement with London or Paris, and can draw his own conclusions regarding relative levels of character and intelligence—or that combination of character and intelligence which is civilization. Finally, he can inquire as to the number of pure-blooded blacks who have made contributions to great literature or engineering or medicine or philosophy or abstract science. (I do not include singing or athletics as these are not primarily matters of character and intelligence.) Nor is there any validity to the argument that the Negro "hasn't been given a chance." We were all in caves or trees originally. The progress which the pure-blooded black has made when left to himself, with a minimum of white help or hindrance, genetically or otherwise, can be measured today in the Congo.

Lord Bryce, a distinguished and impartial foreign observer, presented the situation accurately in his American Commonwealth when he wrote in 1880:

"History is a record of the progress towards civilization of races originally barbarous. But that progress has in all cases been slow and gradual. . . . Utterly dissimilar is the case of the African Negro, caught up in and whirled at along with the swift movement of the American democracy. In it we have a singular juxtaposition of the most primitive and the most recent, the most rudimentary and the most highly developed types of culture. . . . A body of savages is violently carried across the ocean and set to work as slaves on the plantations of masters who are three or four thousand years in advance of them in mental capacity and moral force. . . . Suddenly, even more suddenly than they were torn from Africa, they find themselves, not only free, but made full citizens and active members of the most popular government the world has seen, treated as fit to bear an equal part in ruling, not only themselves, but also their recent masters."

One does not telescope three or four thousand years into the 78 years since Bryce wrote. One may change the terms of the problem by mixed breeding, but if over there was a matter that ought to be left to local option it would seem to be the decision as to when the mixture has produced an acceptable amalgam in the schools. And I see no reason for penalizing a locality that does not choose to mix.

I WOULD EMPHATICALLY SUPPORT improvement of education in Negro schools, if and where it is inferior. Equality of opportunity and equality before the law, when not strained to cover other situations, are acceptable ideals because they provide the chance, to earn and to progress—and consequently should be enforced by legal fiat as far as is humanly possible. But equality of association, which desegregation in Southern schools involves, pre-supposes a status which in the South the average Negro has not earned. To force it upon the Southern white will, I think, meet with as much opposition as the prohibition amendment encountered in the wet states.

Throughout this controversy there has been frequent mention of the equality of man as a broad social objective. No proposition in recent years has been clouded by more loose thinking. Not many of us would care to enter a poetry contest with Keats, nor play chess with national champion, nor set our character beside Albert Schweitzer's. When we see the doctrine of equality contradicted everywhere around us. In fact, it remains a mystery why so many of us continue to give it lip service in theory, and why we tolerate the vicious notion that status in any field need not be earned.

PIN DOWN THE MAN who uses the word "equality," and at once the evasions and qualifications begin. As I recall, your, yourself, in a recent statement used some phrase to the effect that men were "equal in the sight of God." I would be interested to know where in the Bible you get your authority for this conception. There is doubtless authority in Scripture for the concept or potential equality in the sight of God—after earning that status, and with various further qualifications—but where is the authority for the sort of ipso facto equality suggested by your context? The whole idea contradicts the basic tenet of the Christian and Jewish religions that status is earned through righteousness and is not an automatic matter. What is true of religion and righteousness is just as true of achievement in other fields. And what is true among individuals is just as true of averages among races.

The confusion here is not unlike the confusion created by some left-wing writers between the doctrine of equality and the doctrine of Christian love. The command to love your neighbor is not a command either to consider your neighbor your equal, or yourself his equal; perhaps the purest example of great love without equality is the love between parent and child. In fact the equality doctrine as a whole, except when surrounded by a plethora of qualifications, is so untenable that it falls to pieces at the slightest thoughtful examination.

FRANKFURTER chooses his opinion with a quotation from Abraham Lincoln, to whom the Negro owes more than to any other man. I, too, would like to quote from Lincoln. At Charleston, Ill., in September 1858 in a debate with Douglas, Lincoln said:

"I am not, for ever have been, in favor of bringing about in any way the social and political equality of the white and black races; I am not nor ever have been in favor of making voters or jurors of Negroes, nor qualifying them to hold office. . . . I will say in addition to this that there is a physical difference between the white and black races which I believe will ever forbid the two races living together on terms of social and political equality. And in as much as they cannot so live, while they do remain together, there must be the position of superior position assigned to the white race."

The extent to which Lincoln would have modified these views today, or may have modified them before his death, is a moot question, but it is clear on its face that he would not have been in sympathy with the Supreme Court's position on desegregation. Many historians have felt that when Lincoln died the south lost the best friend it had. This also may be moot, but again it seems clear that for 94 years—from the horrors of Reconstruction through the Supreme Court's desegregation decision—the North has been trying to force the black man down the white Southerner's throat, and it is a miracle that relations between the races in the South have progressed as well as they have.

PERHAPS the most discouraging spectacle is the spectacle of Northern newspapers dwelling with pleasure upon the predicament of the Southern parent who is forced to choose between desegregation and no school at all for his child. It does not seem to occur to these papers that this is the cruelest sort of blackmail; that the North is virtually putting a pistol at the head of the Southern parent in a gesture which every Northerner must contemplate with shame.

Indeed, there now seems little doubt that the court's recent decision has set back the cause of the Negro in the South by a generation. He may force his way into white schools, but he will not force his way into white hearts nor earn the respect he seeks. What evolution was slowly and wisely achieving, revolution has now arrested, and the trail of bitterness will lead far.

Sincerely yours,

Cherry Pie--A Family Favorite

Cheers will be loud and long when Ma bakes the family's favorite dessert, Cherry Pie, and if she uses quick-cooking tapioca as the pie thickener, she will feel mighty pleased at the ease with which she made it. Quick-cooking tapioca, you know, requires no special blending. Furthermore, it permits only the true fruit flavor and color to come through. Try this recipe for Cherry Pie and please your folks tonight.

Cherry Pie

- 2 1/2 to 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 4 cups (2 No. 2 cans) drained pitted red sour cherries (water-packed)
- 1/4 cup cherry juice
- Pastry for two-crust 9-inch pie
- 1 tablespoon butter

Combine quick-cooking tapioca, sugar, salt, cherries and juice. Roll half the pastry 1/4 inch thick. Line 9-inch pie pan and trim pastry at edge of rim. Roll remaining pastry 1/4 inch thick and cut several 2-inch slits or a fancy design near center. Fill pie shell with cherry mixture. Dot with butter. Moisten edge of bottom crust. To adjust top crust, fold pastry in half or roll loosely on rolling pin; center on filling. Open slits with a knife. (Well-opened slits are important to permit escape of steam during baking.) Trim top crust, allowing it to extend 1/4 inch over rim. To seal, press top and bottom crust together on rim. Then fold edge of top crust under bottom crust and flute. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 35 minutes, or until syrup bubbles with heavy bubbles that do not burst.

*Cherries packed in syrup may be used. Decrease sugar to 1/4 cup.

Now that the Cherry Pie is already for a celebration honoring "Good Old George"—let's be "staidious" about a truly winter meal.

The Nippy days we've been having since the middle of December accent the importance of sustaining and nutritious supper main dishes. Smart homemakers realize that an ideal way to make sure the family gets all the nutrients it needs for energy to carry on in school and at the office is to tote them up in a steaming stew.

Reinforcing the protein of meat with vital vitamins and minerals provided by fresh vegetables, the salubrious stew is really a balanced meal in itself.

For example (to cite a few of the headliners among stew vegetables) tomatoes are triply generous with vitamins (A, B and C). Carrots contribute a bounty of vitamin A (almost twice the daily bodily requirement of A to 1 cup of carrots). Potatoes put in with phosphorus, calcium, iron and vitamins A and C. The pungent, popular onion, with its quipence of cool energy and vitamins, is the animating soul of a succulent stew. And, of course, any assembly of fresh vegetables adds up to a mighty amalgam of health-boosting minerals.

Just the combining of several vegetables with meat in a stew means a mutual strengthening of their varied food values, so the blending of their different flavors simmers into an appetizing sum that's a flavor symphony with depth and excellence. Happily, a stew is one of the easiest main dishes to prepare and to serve, and there are so many interesting variations on the basic stew theme that stew once a week is a practical as well as success-netting habit for clever cooks.

The United Fresh Fruit & Vegetable Association offers three ways of using the nourishment, appetizing color combinations, and delicious nuances of flavor in stews which combine fresh vegetables and meat.

- Fresh Vegetable and Chicken Stew
- 4 to 5 pound fribcassee chicken
- 2 to 3 tablespoons shortening
- 2 cups hot water
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 12 small white onions
- 1 cup sliced fresh carrots
- 1 cup fresh peas, lima beans or snap beans
- 1 cup diced potatoes
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 cup water
- Few drops kitchen bouquet (optional)

Cut chicken into serving size pieces and brown on all sides in hot shortening. Place in a Dutch oven or saucepan with next three ingredients. Cover and cook 1 hour or until chicken is tender. Add vegetables about 30 minutes before cooking time is up. Combine flour with the 1/2 cup water and stir into stew. Cook until medium thickness. If desired, add a few drops of kitchen bouquet to give the sauce a rich brown color. YIELD: 6 servings.

Creole Beef Stew

- 2 pounds beef stew meat
 - 1/2 cup flour
 - 3/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
 - 2 tablespoons shortening or suet
 - 1 cup water
 - 1 cup sliced onion rings
 - 1 cup sliced fresh okra
 - 1 cup fresh corn, cut off the cob
 - 2 cups diced fresh tomatoes
 - 1 cup diced potatoes
- Cut beef into 1-inch cubes. Mix flour with salt and ground black pepper and sprinkle over meat. Mix to coat well with the flour mixture. Brown in shortening or suet. Add hot water. Cover and simmer 2 hours or until meat is tender. Add vegetables about 30 minutes before cooking time is up. Serve hot. YIELD: 6 servings.

Fresh Vegetable Fricassee of Veal

- 3 pounds boneless shoulder of veal
- Suet or shortening
- 2 cups hot water
- 4 teaspoons salt
- 12 small white onions
- 1/2 cups sliced carrots
- 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 cup water

Cut veal into 1-inch cubes. Brown on all sides in suet or shortening. In a Dutch oven or heavy saucepan. Add hot water and salt. Cover and cook slowly until meat is tender, about 1 1/2 hours. Add vegetables and black pepper about 30 minutes before cooking time is up. Mix flour with water and cook until desired thickness. Serve hot. YIELD: 6 servings.

Don't these suggestions sound tempting? Hope they'll be really helpful in planning your winter meals.—Bye now

Kermit Hunter, Author, Lecturer, In Norfolk

The Hollins Alumnae Club of Norfolk will present Kermit Hunter, noted author and playwright, in a lecture Thursday, Feb. 25 at 8 p.m. at the Norfolk Museum of Arts and Sciences. The lecture will be free and open to the public, and will be followed by a reception for Mr. Hunter.

Mr. Hunter is most widely known for his outdoor dramas: "Unto These Hills," "Forever This Land," "Horn in the West," "The Bell and the Plow," "Voice in the Wind," "Cheney Jack," "The Eleventh Hour," and "Thy Kingdom Come." Now as assistant professor of dramatic art at Hollins College, Mr. Hunter is currently at work on a play that will be staged at Hollins on Feb. 20 as part of the institution's Founder's Day program.

Mr. Hunter's varied background includes Chamber of Commerce secretary, newspaperman, business manager for a symphony orchestra, infantry officer, and an organizer-director. A movie script, "This is the Land," by Hunter was recently filmed by the Protestant Radio & Television Center in Atlanta, Ga.

During the past summer, Mr. Hunter visited Russia as director of the "Hollins Abroad Tour." While there, he wrote a series of articles for the Roanoke Times on

BAROMETER OF LIFE

Would it really help to have an instrument to predict the storms of life?

When the barometer falls it's too late to build a sea wall or to dig a cyclone cellar. Wise men prepare when the wind is calm. A leaking roof must be mended while the sun shines.

The Church does not claim to provide a barometer of life. But it preaches every Sunday the spiritual realities which climaxed Christ's Sermon on the Mount:

"Whoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man which built his house upon a rock:

"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat upon that house. . . .

"And it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock."

THAT'S A LOT OF BULL

Ralph Frost is the proud owner of a new $2,000 Polled Hereford bull. Ralph is the owner of the "Land of Promise Farm," and breeds 60 fancy hereford cows.

It was my pleasure last week to go with Ralph to Roanoke River Ranch at Jackson, N.C. to select a bull. The bull he chose is a magnificent animal of Double Domino breeding, going back to one of the greatest breeding bulls in the history of Hereford cattle.

He will arrive at the Land of Promise Farm in March after completing the spring show circuit. This bull has a host of full and half brothers and sisters that have traveled all over the country, being shown in the nation's greatest shows including the International Livestock Show at Chicago. Now this "Lad" has to get his traveling done before he is willing to settle down at the Frost Farm.

This bull will not only be a great addition to the Frost herd, but also to Princess Anne County. I will be proud to have this great bull in the County, and to have had a part in his selection.

DETASSEL THOSE LAMBS

You have heard me talk about the value of castrating and docking lambs before, and this is just to remind you to not forget to do it. Castrating and docking will pay money dividends at sale time. These lambs will grade higher and present a neater appearance thus encouraging buyers to pay more. Five (5) minutes per head is the time it takes and it pays back in dollars.

TIME TO FERTILIZE NOW

During these days of small profit margins, you farmers have to get high crop yields in order to receive a satisfactory income from your farm. One of the best ways to insure this is to do a good job of fertilization.

Fertilizer still pays good dividends for the dollar spent, but we must use the right amount, and the right analysis on specific crops. If we are going to get the most from the fertilizer dollar the amount and analysis must be fitted to the crop. With this thought in mind I am giving the fertilization recommendations for those crops that need to be fertilized now.

PERMANENT PASTURES

Fertilize pastures between now and March 15. The earlier the better. If you have a 50-50 balance of grass and clover use 600 to 800 pounds of 0-14-14 or 2-3-22. Of course, higher analysis work just as well as these and save you labor. If grass is thinning out or if the pasture was heavily grazed last summer and fall use the same amount of 5-10-10. A little extra nitrogen will stimulate growth a little earlier in the spring.

SMALL GRAIN

From now until March 15 is the time to top-dress oats, barley, wheat, and rye. Again the earlier the better. The earlier you fertilize the more stooling or spreading you get.

Small grain cannot use either phosphate or potash when it is applied in the spring. There is simply not enough time between application and harvest. Therefore, only an application of nitrogen is all that is needed in the spring. The phosphate and potash should have been applied last fall at seeding time.

In some cases farmers may not have used any fertilizer at seeding time, so they think the phosphate and potash should be applied now. The argument is that this will improve the fertility of the land. Sure it will, but better returns will be received from that fertilizer if applied at another time.

Therefore, the only recommendations that I can make is this. Use nitrogen only, in any form you desire, at the rate of 30 to 40 pounds of pure nitrogen per acre. On average or better land, more than 40 pounds will cause the grain to fall, however, on some very poor fields you may need to go as high as 50 pounds, but this would be in a very few cases.

ALFALFA

The best time is now and up to March 1. If you don't get the job done by then, better wait until immediately after the first cutting. Regardless of the time that you top-dress use 300 to 1000 pounds of borated 0-10-20 or 0-20-20. If the alfalfa is a new stand or is beginning to thin out and grass is coming in use 2-12-12. For new stands of the Williamsburg variety, borated 5-10-10 should be used.

RED CLOVER

This is a blessing. Usually this hay crop does not need any fertilizer other than fertilizer applied to other crops in the rotation. However, if you haven't seeded any yet now is the time to do so. Why not try a few acres of this new Princess Anne hay crop. I sincerely believe that you will like it, and so will your cattle.

KILL THAT CHICKWEED

Many folks have been fussing about chickweed in their alfalfa and pastures. This is a major problem, but there is one consolation; Chickweed only grows on very rich land. But this doesn't help, you still have to get "rid" of this weed.

It can be done in alfalfa and pastures by chemical weed control measures.

In alfalfa use three pounds of CIPC per acre. Be sure to get a good coverage. In pastures use 2 to 2 1/2 pounds per acre.

Spray now during the dormant season. Do not wait for spring growth to start. The kill will be very slow, but will be a very complete job.

HOW TO MAKE $6.74 MORE PROFIT PER ACRE ON CORN

"They said it couldn't be done"—but Alva Malbone did it. Alva used two different fertilization practices on his corn last year, both good, but one paid a net profit of $6.74 more than the other.

This was one of the eleven Corn Net Return Improvement Demonstrations that we conducted last year, and Alva is mighty glad that he was one of the demonstrators. Let's talk about Alva's corn crop. He planted a variety recommended by Extension Service, Southern States Pochontas at the rate of 18,000 stalks per acre, 10-inches apart in 36-inch rows. The corn was sprayed with 2-4-D and cultivated twice. Up to here both fields were treated the same. Now for the difference in treatment.

On the demonstration field, 200 pounds of 3-18-18 was broadcast before planting. At planting time he applied 250 pounds of 3-18-18 in the row. At the last cultivation he applied 350 pounds of Ammonium Nitrate or 115 pounds of pure nitrogen. This made a total of 128 pounds of nitrogen, 81 pounds of phosphate and 81 pounds of potash, or 128-81-81.

On the other field 250 pounds of 3-18-18 was applied in the row at planting time plus 300 pounds of Ammonium Nitrate or 99 pounds of pure nitrogen. This made a total of 100 pounds of nitrogen, 45 pounds of phosphate and 45 pounds of potash, or 100-45-45.

Now let's look at the cost and returns.

The demonstration yielded 128 bushels per acre for a gross profit of $117.77. Total of all expenses was $66.63, leaving a net profit of $67.14 per acre.

The alternate field yielded 110 bushels per acre for a gross profit of $117.77. Expenses were $66.67, leaving a net profit of $69.90 per acre. Subtract, and the difference is $6.74 more net.

Do you want to make $6.74 more money per acre from your corn? Well this is how Alva did it.

FEBRUARY IN PRUNING TIME IN VINEYARDS

The best time for pruning in the home vineyard is from the middle of February until the buds swell.

Grape vines must be pruned annually to reduce the amount of wood and limit the amount of foliage. Keep the vine off the ground, expose the fruit to light and air, and permit more thorough spraying.

Fruit is borne on shoots developing on one-year wood or canes. Vines should be pruned to train the trunk and arms so the remaining amount of old wood supports the desirable new wood.

NEW BULLETINS

Latest information on a wide variety of farm topics can be found in new bulletins now available from our office.

Bulletin 131 (revised) — 1959 Virginia Spray Bulletin, provides commercial growers with information on use of sprays to control diseases and insects in orchards. Recommendations are based on research conducted at Winchester, Charlottesville and Blacksburg.

Circular 613 (revised)—How to Control Fire Blight, describes how the fire blight organism overwinters, what chemicals to use to get rid of it, and when to spray. It is a very destructive disease attacking pears and quinces, and also damages apples and occasionally ornamentals.

Circular 750 (revised)—Recommended Varieties of Field Crops in Virginia for 1959. Lists "best by test" varieties of alfalfa, red clover, sudan grass, orchard grass, soybeans, corn hybrids, wheat and oats, and barley.

Circular 805—Spray Program for Grapes — Gives suggestions for control of black rot, mildew, leafhoppers, chafers, berry moth, and Japanese beetles. The leaflet points out that black rot is the most serious disease of grapes.

FORT STORY NEWS

MAJ. GEN. ONUR

Col. M. H. Onur, Chief of Transportation for the Turkish General Staff, visited Fort Story Feb. 25.

MAJ. GEN. ONUR was welcomed at the parade field by Col. George M. Woods, Jr., Post Commander. During the morning the General visited the 10th and 14th Transportation Battalions and watched a demonstration of the LCR (Landing Craft, Recovery).

After a luncheon at the Officer's Mess with the Colonel and his staff, Maj. Gen. Onur was given a ride on the BARC (a 98 ton amphibious vehicle). The visit ended with an inspection of the Post Camp Training Area.

LT. COL. KENNETH CROSS, UTATTC was the Escort Officer and Tour Director during the visit.

COMPANY LEAVES FOR TRAINING

Members of the 565th Transportation Company here left last week for a month-long training period at Fort Eustis.

Scheduled to take part in a re-supply mission to Greenland this summer, the men will train in methods necessary for northern

Stops Itch - Relieves Pain

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the amazing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain - without surgery. In one after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all - results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dynas) - discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. At all drug counters - money back guarantee.

LAKE BEING BUILT AT FORT STORY

The Rod and Gun Club here is sponsoring the building of a lake on the post which is scheduled to be stocked for fishing and used for hunting.

Built on the edge of a swamp, by volunteer labor from men on the post, it is scheduled for completion by the early part of April, according to a spokesman.

Another present activity of the group is the sponsoring of projects for the Fort Story Youth Center. They are holding their third turkey shoot for the center on Saturday, Feb. 28 and Sunday the first at Story.

DORSEY BAND AT STORY

The Non-Commissioned Officers Club here will be the site of a dance with the music of the original Tommy Dorsey Band on March 2.

Conducted by Wes Covington, the band will start playing at 8 p.m., immediately following a buffet. The dance, buffet and corsages for the ladies will be included in the admission price, a spokesman said.

Admission to the dance is by reservation only.

COPPER KID FOR FORT STORY WIVES

A coffee was given at the quarters of Mrs. E. A. P. McCarthy, wife of Fort Story's Tenth Battalion Commanding Officer for wives of battalion officers on Wednesday, Feb. 18.

Honored at the coffee was Mrs. R. J. Scherberger, wife of Major Scherberger, Battalion Executive Officer, who has recently arrived at the post. The Scherbergers are natives of Norfolk.

Local Church to Present Lecture

The need for a fuller understanding of divine law will be the topic of a lecture on Christian Science to be given here by James Watt of Washington, D.C., on February 26, 1959.

Mr. Watt, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will speak in Northside Junior High School, Granby St. at Westmont under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist. His subject will be The Logic and Consistency of Christian Science. The lecture is free, and local members have invited the public to attend.

Former Manager of the Washington, D.C. Office of the Christian Science Committee on Publication, Mr. Watt has traveled widely. During World War II, he served as a Chaplain in the United States Army.

A graduate of the Illinois Institute of Technology, he was formerly associated with various engineering companies in the United States and abroad. Later he was Director of Research and Western Manager for The Advertising Checking Bureau, with headquarters in Chicago. Since 1942 he has devoted his full time to the practice of Christian Science healing and to the service of the Christian Science organization.

MAX T. MOORE GRADUATES FROM RECRUIT TRAINING

Max T. Moore, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Moore, Sr. of 111 34th St., Virginia Beach, Va., graduated from recruit training Feb. 7 at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The graduation exercises, marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp," included a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

In nine weeks of instruction, the "raw recruit" is developed into a Navy Bluejacket, ready for duty with the fleet.

Your Social Security

HOW TO GET SOCIAL SECURITY

"What must I do to get my social security payments?" This question is being asked at the social security offices many times a day as people telephone and come into the office.

Any person facing retirement has a right to know in advance what will be required when he files a claim for social security payments. If he exercises this right, it will speed up the payment of his claim.

The requirements depend upon the individual case. If an individual, filing a claim for social security benefits is a wage earner or salaried person, he will need to bring his social security card, proof of his age, and file his Form W-2 from his employer, showing his wages and tax deductions. Proof of age may be any evidence that would be acceptable to a probate court, such as an old life insurance policy, old family records, a certified copy of a public record or church record - this includes birth certificates and baptismal certificates.

If a self-employed person, such as a businessman or farmer, is filing a claim, it will be necessary for him to submit copies of his tax returns for the years 1957 and 1958 and cancelled checks or receipts showing that he has paid the social security self-employment tax. The copies of the tax returns will be kept by the Social Security Administration, but the cancelled checks or receipts will be returned to the claimant.

If claim is being filed for a child, or by wife, the claimant should bring along the birth certificate for the child and a marriage certificate to support his wife's claim.

In 1938 the first operational radar to be installed in a U.S. Navy ship was placed in the USS New York.

Cape Henry Club Holds Meeting

The February meeting of the Cape Henry Woman's Club met at the Princess Anne Country Club. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. F. H. Strieby and followed by the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mrs. Leonard S. Hiltz, president, presided over the business session.

Following lunch, Mrs. H. O. Freeman, program chairman, presented Mrs. L. C. Brennan, Youth Conservation chairman.

Mrs. Brennan introduced Mr. John Fitzgerald, a city councilman, and local business man.

Mr. Fitzgerald spoke on Youth Conservation at the Beach and told of the "Knights Club," which is a boys' club consisting of Virginia Beach boys.

Mrs. Brennan also introduced Miss Sandra Lynn of Lynnhaven, who spoke about "Girls' State." Mrs. Lynn was sponsored by the Cape Henry Woman's Club, last summer, to attend "Girls' State."

Also featured on the program were a group of children and high school girls from the Martha Carr School of Dance.

Heart Fund Sunday Held February 22

Heart Sunday volunteers in many communities throughout Virginia made a door-to-door collection of contributions to the Heart Fund on Sunday, February 22.

Mrs. Leonard S. Hiltz, president, presided over the business session. The campaign will continue until March 1.

Funds contributed in this campaign will be used to continue Virginia Heart Association's various programs of heart research, professional education for doctors and nurses, lay education for adults and high school students, and community service designed to prolong the lives of cardiac patients and help them to resume as near a normal active life as possible.

Among Virginia Heart's major projects are heart research and medical education fellowships at the Medical College of Virginia and the University of Virginia School of Medicine.

JEFFERSON STANDARD LIFE

Sales and Service offices in 29 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

Jefferson Standard in 1958 paid $25,951,727, more than ever before, in benefits to policyholders and beneficiaries... bringing security, contentment and hope to the lives of these Americans from coast to coast. These benefit dollars helped pay for college educations, cared for widows and children, provided carefree retirement days for older people and blessed families with ready cash when it was needed most.

Premiums on new life insurance sales provided millions of additional dollars for sound investments in industrial sites, in mortgage loans and in government bonds... creating a stronger economy and a higher standard of living for all Americans.

Investment earnings again enabled Jefferson Standard to maintain its position of leadership in paying 4% interest on dividend accumulations and policy proceeds left on deposit with the Company to provide income. Now guaranteeing 3 1/2% interest, Jefferson Standard has never paid less than 4% interest since the Company was founded in 1907... the highest rate paid by any major life insurance company in the United States.

HIGHLIGHTS OF OPERATIONS FOR 1958:

- Payments to Policyholders and Beneficiaries amounted to $25,951,727
- Total Payments since 1907: $347,873,823
- Sales of New Life Insurance were $217,896,193, bringing total insurance in force to a new high of $1,889,873,330 as of December 31, 1958
- Net Rate of Interest Earned On Investments: 5.99%
- Increase in Assets: $43,908,324

Junior Women Hold Meeting

Cavalier Junior Woman's Club held the monthly meeting Thursday night, February 12th at Kempsville Community Center.

The program was presented by Mrs. Don G. Wiseman, Public Affairs Chairman. Miss Emiko Iwane, an exchange student from Japan who is now attending the college of William and Mary spoke on the customs of Japan.

Mr. John V. Fentress, Clerk of Princess Anne Court spoke on the Method that is used in picking jurors and also encouraged women to serve as jurors.

It was announced that a First Aid Course would be started in February and that a bowling team was being formed.

Mrs. Beverly R. Middleton and Mrs. S. W. Venable were elected delegates to the Tidewater District meeting March 11 at the Chamberlayne Hotel. Mrs. A. L. Coates, Jr. and Mrs. William M. Harris were elected alternates.

Valentine refreshments were served by Mrs. Wilson C. Shephard, Mrs. James W. Robinson, Mrs. John H. Lewis and Mrs. Robert W. Evans.

Many Members of 86th Congress Are Kiwanians

One-sixth of the members of the 86th U.S. Congress are Kiwanians, according to F. B. Wilford, President of the Kiwanis Club of Virginia Beach. These governmental leaders, and Kiwanians occupying important posts in the Executive Branch of the government will be honored by Kiwanis International at the Sixth Biennial Kiwanis Congressional Dinner at the Statler Hotel in Washington, D.C., Wednesday evening, February 18th.

About 800 people are expected to attend the colorful affair which will be the world's largest Kiwanis meeting. Principal speaker will be Kenneth B. Lohed, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, President of Kiwanis International. Honored guests, including most of the Kiwanians in the U. S. House and Senate, will sit at a twofold head table before a banquet room filled with Kiwanians from throughout the United States and Canada.

In addition to the Kiwanians in the U. S. House and Senate who will be on hand invitations have gone out to Kiwanians Wilbur M. Brucker, Secretary of the Army; Arthur E. Summerfield, Postmaster General; Hugh Milton, II, Under Secretary of the Army; John Allen, Under Secretary of Commerce; and others in the Executive Branch of the U. S. Government.

Kiwanis Club of Washington, D.C. will play host to the huge Kiwanis meeting, as they have for the five previous affairs.

Kiwanis President Kenneth B. Lohed characterized the record of Kiwanis-service in the 86th Congress as indicative of the desire for community service which is the motivating force of Kiwanians everywhere.

Members from the State and area include: Senate, Willis A. Robertson, Lexington, Va. and Daniel J. Edrvin, Morganton, N.C.; House of Representatives, Harrison P. Winchester, Va., Pat W. Jennings, Marion, Va., L. H. Fountain, Tarboro, N.C., and Basil L. Whiteever, Gastonia, N.C.

From such a wide selection every person may select an excellent book for Lenten reading.

McLean Auto Store Now in New Home on 17th Street

The Virginia Beach store of McLean Auto Supply Corporation, which was located on 31st street for several years, is now in its new building at 917 Seventeenth street and this week is celebrating its 24th year in the automotive supply field.

McLean operates eight branch stores throughout the Tidewater area and the new Virginia Beach store is holding its grand opening here this weekend.

C. A. McLean opened the firm's first outlet in the City of Norfolk 24 years ago. The first store opened in February, 1935.

John B. Steel is manager of the new store here and Henry B. Tatum

Vet Service Agent To Visit Beach Thursday, Feb. 26

On Thursday, February 26, 1959, Tom Moore, Veterans Service Officer from Norfolk, will be available at the "Virginia Beach Convention Center" ("The Dome") on Pacific Avenue at 10th Street, to counsel and file claims and forms for veterans and their survivors.

Moore makes this usual visit, scheduled for the 2nd and 4th Thursdays each month, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Moore is a representative for the Commonwealth of Virginia, Division of War Veterans' Claims, a State agency, not associated with the Federal Government, that is authorized to represent veterans and their survivors in development and presentation of their claims and applications before the Veterans Administration and other Government agencies for benefits to which they may be entitled under law. The services of the Division are free and the representatives are trained persons with much experience, and all war veterans themselves.

The Division is under the direction of Harry F. Carper, Jr., whose offices are in the State Veterans Administration office in Roanoke. The Division operates under the Virginia Department of Law, the Honorable Albert S. Harrison, Jr., Attorney General.

Moore's office in Norfolk is located at 305 McKevitt Building, 242 City Hall Avenue, telephone MA 2-9671.

Aragona Garden Club Meets

Aragona Garden Club met at Christ Presbyterian Church on February 10, 1959. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. R. L. Cox, Mrs. G. H. Jensen, Mrs. J. McDaniel, Mrs. S. V. Pharr, and Mrs. C. E. Foster.

Speaker for the evening was Mrs. Malcolm H. Todd, Jr. — design in Flower arrangement.

Three new members were introduced to the club. They are Mrs. E. A. Evans, Mrs. D. B. McOmie, and Mrs. T. F. Austin.

Scrapbook chairman, Mrs. W. W. Franz, brought a rough sketch of how our scrapbook will look. She asked that members bring a small picture of themselves and any other pictures of interest in the community.

Judging and exhibiting chairman announced that arrangements for next month be symmetrical and carry out the Easter theme.

The club voted to participate in the Your Boy Roy show broadcast from Burroughs Restaurant and sell the tickets for 25c each. Mrs. B. L. Seaver, chairman of Garden Therapy, thanked all of the volunteers who assisted her at the Tuberculosis Chest X-Ray Unit when it was at Aragona Shopping Center. Those helping her were: Mrs. J. J. Finn, Mrs. C. S. Tignor, Mrs. D. E. Rogers, Mrs. D. E. Wright, Mrs. R. Wear, Mrs. W. W. Franz, Mrs. P. Krome, and Mrs. B. L. Seaver.

Judges from Fair Meadows Garden Club were Mrs. Paul Catalano and Mrs. Theodore Mullenax. They awarded ribbons to Mrs. L. B. Karaska, Mrs. H. E. Waters, Mrs. J. McDaniel, Mrs. G. H. Jensen, Mrs. S. V. Pharr, Mrs. C. S. Tate, Mrs. J. L. West, Mrs. P. Krome, and Mrs. R. Kleck.

Cavalier Junior Club Sponsors Safety Program

Rendering discarded refrigerators or freezers absolutely harmless with very little effort is the latest safety project of Cavalier Junior Woman's Club, which is also a State Junior project.

About 100 letters will be mailed this week to heads of all civic clubs, organizations and schools in Princess Anne County.

The letters urge cooperation in a needed campaign to turn abandoned refrigerators and freezers from potential killers into harmless nonentities. We would like your assistance in helping us to publicize this appeal.

Since 1946, 137 children have been suffocated through being trapped in air-tight cabinets.

We suggest four simple safety measures as possible solutions:

1. Remove gasket and drill the number of necessary air holes to render cabinet harmless.

2. Remove the safety lock so the door will swing free.

3. Tie the door securely with a

PRINCESS ANNE COURT MEET WITH MRS. MALDON

The committee chairman of the Princess Anne County Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution met Monday, Feb. 9 at the home of the regent, Mrs. D. Y. Maldon at London Bridge. A delicious luncheon was served by our hostess after which a business session followed.

Mrs. D. Y. Maldon, Mrs. Fred Robinson, Mrs. A. H. Hamilton and Mrs. Bernard F. White attended the guest day tea given by the Great Bridge Chapter at the Woman's Club in Norfolk. After a delightful musical program Mrs. Roland Miller showed slides of old homes in Princess Anne.

The George Washington Birthday luncheon will be held at the Norfolk Yacht and Country Club Saturday, Feb. 21.

EDITORIAL SPEAKING

Rudee Inlet Hopes Revived

News this week of the formation of a joint Princess Anne-Virginia Beach committee for the development of Rudee Inlet as a boating and sport fishing haven has revived hopes for this area once again.

The idea of developing the Rudee Inlet area in this manner has been discussed many times by civic leaders and just plain citizens. It is the consensus of those interested in the area that development of Rudee Inlet along these lines would be one of the most helpful projects ever undertaken here.

It is easily understandable that to develop Rudee Inlet as many have envisioned will take time and there are many problems to be faced and solved. However, we believe that the joint committee will, at long last, explore the matter thoroughly and that it may result in the actual development of the Rudee Inlet area.

Virginia Beach definitely has fallen behind other areas in the boating and sport fishing field, and in many cases we are playing second fiddle to areas that have far less natural assets in this field.

Fishing enthusiasts for many years have been telling us that Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County is missing a bet in not developing its fishing potential and also pleasure boat lovers have reminded us that Virginia Beach could be a natural port of call for small craft plying the water up and down the Eastern Seaboard.

We trust the joint city-county committee will tackle its job in earnest for development of Rudee Inlet in this fashion would be a great boon to the economy of the entire area.

A Real Sportsman Recognized

When the awards committee of the Virginia Beach Sports Club announced the winner of the "Sportsman of the Year" award Monday night at the Cape Colony Club a rousing ovation was given to the recipient, Richard T. "Dickie" Mumford. Identity of the award winner was a closely kept secret, but "Dickie," himself, was probably the most surprised person of all.

As B. M. Stanton, chairman of the committee and last year's winner said, "the committee was not looking for the headline getter, but rather a person who had demonstrated the true meaning of the word sportsman." We believe the committee could not have been more correct in their selection of Mumford for the award.

"Dickie" is an unusual person and this community is extremely fortunate to have a man of this type among its residents. "Dickie" does not confine his talents and energy to sports, alone. He is always ready and willing to lend a hand in all civic endeavors. He does not wait to be asked to help. He is always present to help and does.

Virginia Beach's "Sportsman of the Year" has been tremendously popular with the youth of this community and justly so. He has helped in junior football programs, in Little League baseball and in almost all activities in the field of sport.

Mumford is always there in fund raising programs. He has been active in the Red Cross blood program, the Community Fund, the Heart Fund and in every conceivable program for community betterment.

The selection of Mumford for this honor was a unanimously popular one among those who are aware of his unselfish efforts in this community. He is a true sportsman year in and year out.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

Before We Hike Gas Taxes

President Eisenhower's proposal that Federal gasoline taxes be increased seems headed into rough weather. In his budget message the President asked that the Federal levy be hiked to 4 1/2 cents a gallon from the present 3 cents to provide an additional $600 million.

Opposition to the boost came quickly from the petroleum industry and while the American Automobile Association did not openly reject the plan it did suggest other proposals to increase road revenue. The average motorist, faced with the prospect of climbing state gas taxes, seems too dazed by the impending blow to comprehend that he may soon have to pay 27 per cent more in taxes every time he pulls up to a pump.

But if we are to continue the Federal highway building program at its current fast pace there must be more money unless the already burdened general fund is to supply the needed additional money. Dipping into the general fund would mean abandonment of the Washington Administration's pay-as-you-go policy for building federal roads.

There are a couple of alternatives, it seems to us, to a boost in the Federal gasoline levy. The principal alternative would be ear-marking for road building all funds derived from motor taxes. The Federal government and the state government are equally guilty in diverting such monies to other uses. The other alternative for which the heavily taxed motorist might settle is a slowing down or stretching out of the Federal road construction program.

After all, let us remember that expenditure of the additional $600 million now required by the Federal government to speed the highway building program in the fiscal year 1959 was approved by Congress in the depth of last year's recession as part of the effort to provide more jobs. In view of the rapidly improving economic situation, could not the program revert to its original schedule, particularly if it will mean a tax increase will be necessary?

privilege to hear many great orators, but in my opinion, Mr. Sandburg is the greatest. It was an impressive and magnificently delivered speech by a man who probably knows more about Lincoln than any other living person. When he concluded, the entire assemblage rose to its feet with applause which must have lasted four minutes.

A reminder—my temporary District office location is in the Citizens National Bank Building in Hampton. Telephone PA 3421 for appointment on Saturdays; I will be glad to see you.

Fund Raising Kick-off Rally Held at Oceana

During a kick-off rally held at NAS Oceana Station Theater on Friday, Feb. 13, the 1958 Federal Service Fund Raising Campaign for National Health Agencies and Federal Service Joint Crusade Agencies was launched.

With an attendance of approximately 300 military and civilian personnel attached to the station, Capt. E. G. Konrad, USN, Commanding Officer, officially opened the campaign.

Capt. Konrad related to the group that the purpose of this drive was to secure contributions from all personnel, military and civilian, to assist in the support of the participating agencies.

"This is one of two authorized campaigns about military installations," Capt. Konrad told the group. "And it is hoped that the group will again be able to boast of 100% participation."

He also told of his personal experiences while attached to the Military Assistant Advisory Group in Holland. He stated that the people who are recipients of these funds appreciate them more than grants from the United States. They feel that these funds are donated from the hearts of Americans, rather than from funds allotted from European Aid Programs.

Capt. S. J. Brody, Senior Medical Officer at Oceana, also made a short speech. He explained that these funds have greatly contributed to the conquering of tuberculosis and other serious diseases which face the world today.

Mrs. Joy Midlin was designated as chairman for contributions of civilian personnel attached to the station, and Ledt. T. F. O'Connor is in charge of military contributions.

Summerfield Answers Questions On 'Bingo'

Noting a marked increase in questions about "bingo" as a lottery, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield today released some questions and answers on this subject.

Q. Does State law making bingo legal within individual States make it possible to use the mails to advertise bingo so long as such advertisements go only within State borders?

A. No. Changes in State laws do not affect the federal statutes restricting bingo.

Q. The Postal Lottery Law, Title 18, Section 1302, United States Code, prohibits any mailing of lottery matter, and bingo is considered a lottery. Whether such mailing is a ticket, payment or advertisement?

A. It makes no difference that such mailing is confined within the borders of the State where such lottery may be legalized.

Q. Does the restriction against lottery "advertisements" apply only to newspaper advertisements?

A. No. The restriction applies equally to magazines and periodicals which go through the United States mails, as well as to any form of notice advertising a lottery sent through the mails by individuals or organizations.

Q. One does not think of bingo as being in the same category as the big lotteries such as the Irish Sweepstakes. Why is bingo considered a "lottery"?

A. The law says it is a lottery. Under federal court decisions, the classic indications of a lottery are "consideration, chance and prize." There is consideration in the form of the fee paid to play; there is no doubt that there is chance in bingo; and prizes of cash or merchandise are offered.

Q. Suppose the advertisement of a bingo game does not mention "bingo" as it is still prohibited in the mails?

A. Yes. Bingo, or similar games using different names, cannot be advertised in any way, whether through the mails. The law cannot be evaded by such words as "Party" or "Big Game Wednesday Night" or by merely printing "B."

Q. The advertisement in fact relates to a lottery. Is it a violation of the federal law?

A. Yes. Lotteries conducted for charity exempted in any way from the federal prohibitions. "I hope," Mr. Summerfield commented, "that these answers will aid in public understanding of these laws, which the Post Office Department is duty bound to enforce."

African Violet Show Set April 9

The Princess Anne African Violet Society met at the home of the president, Mrs. A. J. Ketsels, Thursday, Feb. 19. African Violet, Colombia has been selected as the theme of the annual African Violet Show and Card Party to be held April 9, 15 p.m. at the Paramount Restaurant.

Final plans and chairman of committees were appointed. The public is invited to enter their plants and arrangements for display, and they will be judged by accredited judges and ribbons awarded.

Mrs. Charles Ward and Mrs. Curtis Diggs of the Pioneer African Violet Society were guests and judged the arrangements presented.

Mrs. Ruth Warren and Mrs. L. T. Garrison were the hostesses.

International Flower Show Set March 7-10

Plans are almost completed for interested garden lovers to see the 42nd annual International Flower Show in New York Coliseum, New York, N.Y., March 7 through March 10, 1959.

Mrs. Delmar John Dee, Sr., a well known garden lover and a member and organizer of the Cape Henry-By The Sea Garden Club of Virginia Beach has the plans almost complete; to charter a nonstop bus to New York for interested gardeners.

There are a few reservations left. Round trip bus—3 nights in New York hotel.

Mrs. Dee has a committee both in Norfolk and Virginia Beach. Anyone desiring information may call the following committee chairman:

Mrs. Malcolm H. Todd, Jr., Norfolk telephone UL 5-3538. Mrs. Mabel G. Davis, Norfolk telephone JU 8-8483. Mrs. C. N. Grubbs, Va. Beach, GA 8-7674. Mrs. Robert Creamer, Va. Beach, GA 8-8863. Mrs. Delmar J. Dee, Sr., Va. Beach, GA 8-7661.

FLOWER SHOWS TO FEATURE FREE SOIL ANALYSIS SERVICE

Sterling Forest Laboratory of Tuxedo, New York, in cooperation with the Long Island Garden Show, as well as the International Flower Show, will be conducting a daily Soil Analysis Service of interest to the home gardener. Samples of soil brought to these special booths will be analyzed by Sterling Forest Laboratory experts on the spot without charge.

The Long Island Garden Show starts upon on Saturday, Feb. 21 through Sunday, March 1 at the Island Garden Arena, W. Hempstead. The International Flower Show will open at the Coliseum on Saturday, March 7 through Saturday, March 14.

Ordinarily the Sterling Forest Laboratory service costs the home gardener $3.98. In addition to the daily text which is normal procedure for the Soil Clinic, the Sterling Forest method tests the soil for general nutrient level. The home gardener is also advised how to correct deficiencies or excesses in the soil.

Vepco Operating Revenue for Jan. Up 9.8 Per Cent

Operating revenues of Virginia Electric and Power Company for the first month of 1959 were $13,465,000, up 9.8 per cent over January 1958, A. H. McDowell, Jr., President, reported today.

McDowell at the same time reported that January net income of $2,612,000 was up 9.9 per cent from the $2,380,000 reported a year ago. For the twelve month period ending January 31, 1959, he reported operating revenues of $140,854,000, an increase of 7.8 per cent over the $130,617,000 of a year ago. The balance for common stock for January was $2,390,000, up 9.9 per cent over January 1958. For the twelve month period, balance for common stock was up 8 per cent to $23,779,000, over the $21,900,000 shares outstanding. Per share earnings for the twelve months through January were $1.67, an increase of 7.7 per cent over the previous twelve months period.

McDowell reported that $2,628,000 had been spent during January on new construction, compared with $4,888,000 in January 1958 and $5,221,000 in January 1957. He also reported an increase of 17,519 electric customers during the twelve months, bring the total 722,483. The addition of 2,717 gas customers in the Hampton Roads area brought that total to 94,447.

Oceana Teacher To Play Organ Recital Sunday

Mrs. Irene A. Korte, vocal music teacher at Oceana School, and chairman of the Princess Anne Division Music Teachers, and Organist-Director of the Chapel in the Woods, NAB, Norfolk, will present an organ recital Sunday afternoon, March 1, at 4:30 p.m. in the Royster Memorial Presbyterian Church, 6800 Newport Ave., Norfolk. Mrs. Korte is an organ pupil of Dr. Charles E. Vogan of the Norfolk Extension College of William and Mary.

Her program will include "The Resurrection Chorus" by the Virginia Beach composer, Julian Franco. Other selections to be performed are the "Organ Concerto in D minor" by Vivaldi-Bach, "Sonata III, First Movement" by Hindemith, "Cantata, Part I" by Tournemire, "Toccata" by Scriabin, and "Elegy" by the Richmond born composer, Mary Howe, who is now residing in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Korte holds a Bachelor of Music Degree from Lindenwood College for Women, St. Charles, Mo. Additional study in piano has been with LaSalle Spier in Washington, D.C. and Clifford Hermer in Norfolk. She is a past president of the Scherzo Music Club of Norfolk, and former editor of the "Virginia Musician". Her present musical affiliations include: Mu Phi Epsilon, American Guild of Organists, Music Educators National Conference, Music Teachers National Association, the Virginia Beach Music Club; and she is a special member of the Virginia Federation of Music Clubs.

The recital is free and the public is invited to attend.

Report Shows Nuclear Reactor On Schedule

The Board of Directors of the Carolinas Virginia Nuclear Power Associates Inc. were told today that progress on the planning and construction of an experimental nuclear reactor is on schedule.

Harry Ferguson, general manager of the non-profit company, made his report at a regular meeting of the Board here today at the offices of Virginia Electric and Power Company, a member of the Associates.

CVNPA, a non-profit corporation composed of four utilities in Virginia and North and South Carolina, is building an experimental nuclear power station at Parr Shoals, South Carolina. Scheduled for completion in June 1962, the station will provide research and engineering experience for practical uses of atomic energy in electric generation.

Members of the Associates, in addition to Virginia Electric and Power Company, are: Duke Power Company, Carolina Power and Light Company, and South Carolina Electric and Gas Company. Ervin H. Will, chairman of the Executive Committee of Vepco, is president of CVNPA. Present at the meeting, in addition to Will, were: W. B. McGuire, Jr., president of Duke Power Company; J. M. Costello, executive vice president of South Carolina Electric and Gas Company; H. B. Robinson, vice president and general manager of Carolina Power and Light Company; and J. McDowell, Jr., president of Vepco.

YOUR HEALTH

MANUFACTURER HAS SPENT $5,000,000 IN RESEARCH ON CANCER SINCE 1939

One American pharmaceutical manufacturer has invested more than five million dollars on cancer research since 1939, reports The Health News Institute. The firm has developed three anticancer agents, on which it spent $400,000 last year alone. Yet the three drugs accounted for only $25,000 of the company's 1958 sales volume. Nonetheless, the search continues full scale for a fully effective weapon against the many forms of cancer.

News for Veterans

KOREAN VETERANS TERM INSURANCE LAW CHANGED

It is important that all Korean veterans who applied for term GI insurance be informed of a new law which went into effect Jan. 1, 1959. Veterans whose first service began during the Korean conflict were covered by the so-called free insurance up to $10,000. They could apply within 120 days after discharge for special non-conversion term life policy on which no dividends are paid, but could not convert to permanent payment plans, such as ordinary, 20 pay, or endowment insurance.

Congress has now granted Korean term policyholders the same advantages which apply to other types of government insurance. This insurance, called RS Term, may now be converted to Ordinary Life, 20 or 30 Payment Life, 30 year Endowment and Endowment at 60 or 65. Premiums are higher but remain the same for the length of the policy, and the policies have cash, paid up, and extended insurance values. The RS Term premiums remain low during younger years, but they go up every five years, until at the older ages the cost is much more with no dividends, loan or cash values. The time to convert is now while you are still young.

Thomas A. Moore, Norfolk service officer for the Division, at 203 City Hall Avenue, will be pleased to explain and advise any person concerning veteran affairs. Veterans may call on the second and fourth Thursdays each month. However, due to illness, he has been forced to cancel his trips for the month of January, but will resume them in February.

KOREAN VETERANS MUST REPORT CHANGES

Korean veterans taking GI Bill benefits which do not lead to a standard college degree or an advanced vocational goal now must begin reporting their classroom absences each month to the Veterans Administration.

The new requirement stems from a law which went into effect the first of the year, VA said. Under the same law, all veterans taking GI courses which do not lead to a college degree or some professional goal, such as nursing or medical internship, will not be required to list their monthly absences from class.

VA reminded the 50,000 veterans affected by this new change-over in absence-reporting that they should carefully check the VA Certifications of Training they fill out early in February (covering GI training for the month of January), to be sure they're following the right reporting procedure. VA uses two forms for monthly Certifications of Training. One provides for reporting days of absence, the other does not. Use of the wrong form can only result in late educational allowance checks, for VA must have a correct certificate before it can send a trainee his monthly allowance.

Before the new law went into effect, most veterans taking high school training and college courses—whether leading to a college degree or not—were exempt from listing monthly absences. On the other hand, veterans taking trade or business courses had to report absences.

Veterans in GI courses where absences now have to be reported will be allowed up to 30 days of absence in a 12-month period—without any reduction in the amount of training allowance paid. Veterans who no longer have to report absences must continue to attend class regularly. Days of non-attendance will be governed by the absence policy of the school in which they are enrolled.

Three new steps to help disabled veterans make a smoother and quicker comeback to productive employment were announced by the Veterans Administration.

One step gives disabled veterans a "head start" toward rehabilitation by allowing them to begin vocational training under VA's program for the disabled while they are patients in VA hospitals.

But they must be well enough along in their hospital treatment to be able to leave the hospital part of the day to attend school or a training establishment, VA said. Before this, disabled veterans generally had to be out of the hospital before they could begin their rehabilitation training.

Another new step now allows veterans to start vocational rehabilitation training even if they can't complete it by the termination date for training established by the law. However, arrangements must be made for some agency other than the VA—such as a State Rehabilitation Agency—to pick up where VA has to leave off. Formerly, veterans could take only those courses they could complete by the termination date.

The termination date for disabled Korean veterans who left the service before August 20, 1954, is August 20, 1963. The date for those who left service after August 20, 1954, is nine years from separation or January 31, 1964, whichever comes first. In some instances, these dates can be extended.

Only a few World War II disabled still are eligible for vocational rehabilitation, and their terminal date is July 25, 1950.

VA's third new step now permits VA to give job-finding assistance as well as personal counseling to disabled veterans after they have completed their vocational training—if they can't find employment or if there's some personality difficulty standing in their way of getting and holding a job. Previously, VA counseling was given only before a veteran started his training, or while he was in training.

MARY F. Carper, Jr., Director of The Virginia Division of War Veterans Claims, a State agency which assists veterans and survivors to obtain their lawful benefits, announces the following information of interest from his office in Roanoke.

The increase in Social Security benefits which became effective January 1, 1959 will cause the income of some veterans to exceed the legal limits for continued payment of non-service pension.

We are receiving inquiries as to the possibility of waiving a portion of Social Security payments in order to bring annual income below the applicable limits. One veteran who has never married receives a small annuity through an insurance plan of his former employer, and his Social Security checks will be increased by a total of $92.40 for the calendar year. The increase will cause his 1959 income to be $38.60 more than the $1400.00 allowed him by law. Under VA pension laws this man cannot waive any part of his Social Security benefits to bring his income below his limit. In all cases where annual income, including Social Security, is more than the statutory limits, the payment of VA pension is barred.

Social Security benefits, like those from any other retirement or annuity plan, are not considered income for VA pension purposes until the full amount of the retired person's personal contributions has been paid back to him. However, in little more than a year the retired worker usually gets back in his monthly checks as much as he personally put into Social Security.

Thomas A. Moore, Norfolk service officer for the Division, at 203 City Hall Avenue, will be pleased to assist and advise any person concerning veteran affairs. Moore visits the Convention Center ("The Dome"), Pacific Avenue at 19th Street, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. only, on the second and fourth Thursdays each month.

ARAGONA PTA TO HOLD FASHION SHOW-GAME PARTY

The Aragona PTA will have a fashion show and game party Tuesday, March 8, 1959, 8 p.m. at the Aragona Elementary School. Proceeds are for the benefit of the library fund of the school.

Defendants.

Order of Publication
The object of this suit is for the complainant to enforce its lien for taxes and to sell for the payment of delinquent taxes the following property, to-wit:

A certain tract or parcel of land, lying and being in the County of Princess Anne, Virginia, on the Chatham Public Road, commencing on said road at the Southwest corner of the parcel of land, which is being sold by James G. Braithwaite to one Sparrow; thence East along a ditch on the line of said Sparrow to the parcel of land which has been sold, but not conveyed (as of 1907) by the said Mary E. Ives to Tony Jones; thence South along a ditch on the line of the said parcel of land sold to Tony Jones to a lane which separates the parcel of land hereby conveyed from the land owned by William Jenkins and Divers Hurdie; thence West along said lane to the said Chatham Public Road; thence North along said Road to the point of beginning, containing 15 acres, more or less, and is sometimes called "Pine Thicket".

An Affidavit having been made that the defendants, James Stormont Duncan, 2311 Kipling St., Houston, Texas; Buford Berry, 918 Washington Avenue, Pascagoula, Mississippi; Doyle Berry, c/o Berry Brothers, New Orleans, Louisiana; Everett Berry, c/o Berry Brothers, Berwick Louisiana; Roderick Garratt, c/o U. S. Post Office, Huntington, Virginia; Katherine Garratt Gilson, Boston, Massachusetts; and Julia Garratt, Long Beach, California, are not residents of the State of Virginia, their last known post office addresses being given above and that the defendant, Henrietta Garratt, if living, is not a resident of the State of Virginia, and her last known post office address is unknown and that the names and post office addresses of her widower, heirs, devisees and successors in title, if any there be, are unknown; that there are or may be parties interested in the subject matter of this suit whose names are unknown and who may

Applications To Be Accepted After Feb. 26

The Division of Parks, Virginia Department of Conservation and Development, will accept applications for State Park permits for the 1959 season on and after February 26, Randolph Odell, Commissioner of Parks, announced today.

No applications will be accepted prior to February 26, Odell said. All applications received during the period February 26-March 1 will be handled as of March 1 and reservations will be made by lot after March 1. Applications will be handled on a first-come, first-served basis. During the first 10 days of March, only applications of residents of Virginia will be considered.

Applications for cabins must be made on official forms, which may be obtained from the Division of Parks, State Office Building, Richmond, or from the superintendents at the parks.

Homesiteing, cabins, fully equipped and furnished, are available at seven of the eight parks. They are: Claytor Lake, near Dublin; Douthat, near Clifton Forge; Fairy Stone, near Bassett; Hungry Mother, near Marion; Prince Edward, near Burkeville; Staunton River, near South Boston and Westmoreland, near Montross. Potomac Park, near Richmond, has no cabins, and no facilities for tents and trailers.

Cabins and camping facilities will be available for the 1959 season from May 18 through September 28. Cabins may be rented during this period for one week. When space is available, the rental period will be extended to a maximum of two weeks. All cabin reservations begin and end on Mondays. Concessions in the park, which include restaurants, stores, life guard service, boat rentals and horseback riding, will be open May 30 and will extend through Labor Day. Bathing and swimming will not be permitted until May 30. Odell also announced that the three State Recreational Areas—Bear Creek, in Cumberland County; Goosey Lake, in Prince Edward County, and Holiday Lake, in Appomattox County—will be open during the 1959 season from May 30 through Labor Day. These areas were developed for day use only. None has cabins or overnight accommodations. Camping by tent or trailer is not permitted. Each has picnic areas and offers bathing and swimming, including bathing house and life guard service; boating, fishing and a store where light refreshments are for sale.

Chesapeake Beach Club Holds Benefit Card Party

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach, through their International Relations Department, presented the third Desert Card Party in a series being given for the benefit of CARE for Vietnam Tuesday, February 24. These parties are given in cooperation with the State Federal of Woman's Clubs which will work for Care for the above little nation. The Woman's Club recently, through these parties, was able to send $500.00 to this project.

Preceding the party, Mrs. Ronald K. Irving, International Relations Chairman, presented Mrs. John Doherty who brought to the club members, a program of relief depicting life at European Vacation spots such as the French Riviera. She then presented a group of slides on Little America and the Antarctic. Mrs. Doherty has just received the film for these slides from her husband who is now on his way back after having completed a tour of duty in Little America. He served on the USS Wadette with Mrs. Irving's husband, Captain Ronald K. Irving, Commanding Officer.

Mrs. G. E. Geel won high score bridge prize. Hostesses for the party were Mrs. E. R. Hines, Mrs. W. B. Meekins and Mrs. Richard G. Hines.

State Advertising Plant Locations

The Commonwealth of Virginia's most ambitious advertising campaign to encourage the location of new industries is now under way. Raymond V. Long, Director, Virginia Department of Conservation and Economic Development, said advertisements carrying a strong plant location appeal to the nation's industrial and business leaders are scheduled for publication in nationally-circulated magazines and in three New York City daily newspapers. They are spaced to appear on about a once-a-month basis through June in the magazines.

The Department will spend about $150,000 during the first six months of 1959 on the magazine-newspaper advertising campaign and related promotional projects. This figure compares with an expenditure of $25,000 during the previous fiscal year of 12 months.

The schedule includes full page magazine advertisements in Business Week, U.S. News and World Report, Fortune, Newsweek, Dun's Review and Modern Industry, Chemical Week, America's Textile Reporter, and Electronics, with a smaller schedule to appear in Industrial Development and Manufacturers Record magazine. Full page advertisements will also be published in the 1959 editions of the Blue Book of Southern Progress, and Plant Location.

The magazines have a grand total circulation in excess of 3,300,000 and the three New York newspapers in excess of 1,200,000. The newspaper advertisements appeared in early January issues in special sections reviewing finance, business and industry during 1958 and forecasting 1959 developments.

The Department's advertisements for new industry are coordinated as far as practicable with other industrial advertisements of Virginia public utilities, transportation agencies, banks, and other organizations.

Long said the coordinated program, started sometimes ago, is designed to place a Virginia industrial location message in the best media possible read by industrial and business leaders and to time the publication of the messages so they will appear with regularity during the campaign period to assure a strong impact.

The Department's Industrial development program also includes the distribution of direct mail advertising pieces to a select list of about 4,800 industrial and business leaders. Long announced the Department will have a new industrial development advertising schedule after July 1, which will also be coordinated with the schedules of other agencies.

Beach YWCA Conducts Series

According to the recent registration, the Spring series of the YWCA at Virginia Beach is proving its popularity. The classes are held at the Dunes Motor Hotel, 9th and Atlantic, on Tuesday and Friday.

A new course, Art of Speech, has been added to the series and is being taught by Florian Pilote Harrington, a well-known instructor of dramatics. This course is still open for registration and anyone interested can obtain further information by calling Mrs. E. B. Tankersley, RA 54134 or Mrs. Charles Lee, GA 8-2929.

The fee for this class is $2.00 for the six weeks course, plus 50¢ for membership in the YWCA. A snack bar is available in the Traymore Hotel for light lunches and a nursery, under the supervision of Mrs. Ernest Brown is available for those with small children.

Long announced the Department will have a new industrial development advertising schedule after July 1, which will also be coordinated with the schedules of other agencies.

'58 Wool Program Application Deadline April 30

Farmers are reminded by the United States Department of Agriculture that March 31, 1959 is the closing date for the 1958 wool program and that applications for incentive payments must be made not later than April 30, 1959.

The wool program is conducted under the National Wool Act of 1954. Payments are made to producers as an incentive to increase wool production. The program is administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

W. F. Hunger, Chairman of the Princess Anne County ASC Committee stated that any producer who sold shorn wool or unshorn lambs during the period April 1, 1958 through March 31, 1959 is eligible to receive payment if he timely files his application by April 30, 1959. Mr. Hunger said that many farmers are lagging in making application for payment and he urged them to apply at the ASC office at an early date so that the matter will not be overlooked.

Payments under the 1958 wool program will be made this summer after the payment rate is determined. The rate is based on a percentage figure which represents the difference between the national average price received by producers and 82c per pound.

For wool to be eligible for payment it must have been marketed before March 31, 1959. If any condition concerning the sale is not settled by March 31, the sale will not be considered as completed. Also, title must have passed to the buyer and the wool must have been physically or through documents. Furthermore, the price per pound, weight and yield must be available to determine the total purchase price.

Gene Autry To Be Featured at 1959 State Fair

Richmond, Va. — Gene Autry, America's No. 1 cowboy star, his horse Champion and a troop of his cowboys and cowgirls direct from Melody Ranch in California will be the headline attraction at the 1959 State Fair of Virginia here, Sept. 25 through Oct. 3, A. A. Mitchell, the fair's General Manager announced today.

The road show company, direct from their TV productions in California will play four state fairs in the east — Kentucky State Fair in Louisville, Tennessee State Fair in Nashville, Connecticut State Fair in Danbury and the State Fair of Virginia in Richmond.

Autry has fostered the careers of more favorite Western personalities on television than any one person in show business. TV's Annie Oakley (Gail Davis), Buffalo Bill, Jr. (Dick Jones) and The Range Rider (Jack Mahoney) are all Autry proteges — discovered by him and built into star personalities in their own right, through his Flying A production Company, Hollywood's biggest producer of Western TV films.

This facet of Gene Autry's fabulous career — that of producer and star-maker — is comparatively new. He formed the production company to make his own half hour shows for television, and at that time had no studio facilities of his own, so all of the pictures had to be filmed on location or on sound stages rented from other companies.

Today he owns one of the most modern studios in Hollywood, covering more than half a block of famed Sunset Boulevard, in the heart of the movie capital. He also owns a fifty-acre ranch near Newhall, California, with a complete Western street, a frontier village, stockades, a Mexican adobe street, and complete facilities for shooting either interior or outdoor sequences.

In the few years since it was founded, Autry's company has turned out over 400 half-hour films. These include his own weekly programs, plus the "Annie Oakley," "Buffalo Bill, Jr.," "Adventures of Champion," "Range Rider" and "Death Valley Days" series. Two new series, "The Winning of the West" and "Red Ryder," are scheduled to go into production in the near future.

Cavalier Garden Club Flower Show Slated April 16, 17

The Cavalier Garden Club will hold its second flower show at Willis Wayside April 16 and 17. The theme being "The Tides of Time in Tidewater as Depicted with Flowers and Furniture." It is hoped that the many friends of this club and Willis Wayside will avail themselves of this opportunity to visit the store at this time.

Recreation and Welfare Group Formed at Oceana

Tidewater's newest civic organization, the Oceana Apartments Welfare and Recreation Society, held its first meeting at the NAS Oceana Station Theater on Feb. 16. Composed entirely of service personnel, the meeting was held to adopt the constitution of the organization and to elect officials for the "Society". The Oceana Apartment Housing area is located outside the station main gate. Capt. E. G. Konrad, USN, Station Commanding Officer, was guest speaker during the meeting. He related to the approximately 100 persons in attendance, "That the purpose of this organization is to foster recreation and social activities for all residents of Oceana Apartments."

During his speech, Capt. Konrad brought out the fact that the success of such an organization depends on the support given by the residents. Although funds are not available at the present time to have the work done on a commercial basis, service personnel on two weeks active duty training will be used to put the recreation areas into shape. He also related the fact that the life or death of the Society would depend on the number of volunteers and the amount of time spent on the project by residents of the housing area.

It is planned to have two recreation areas, one on either end of the housing project, incorporated in these areas will be baseball diamonds, children's recreational equipment, and other sporting facilities. Following Capt. Konrad's speech, election of officers were held. W. C. Saxton, AMC, of Fighter Squadron 21 was elected to the post of First Vice President, F. R. Petty, GS1, Fleet Air Defense Training Center, Dam Neck, Second Vice President, Mrs. G. L. Crenshaw, Secretary, and C. W. Sipult, AKC, Fleet Air Service Squadron Five, Treasurer. A Board of Governors consisting of seven members was also elected into office.

In 1934 the world's first radar apparatus was developed at the Naval Research Laboratory.

The National Outlook

Proposed Labor Legislation

By Ralph Robey

That we shall have some kind of labor legislation in this session of Congress is about as certain as anything can be in the legislative field.

Two bills already have been introduced. The first was by Senator John Kennedy (D-Mass.) with Senator Sam Ervin, Jr. (D-N.C.) as co-sponsor. The second was the Administration bill, which, because of his seniority on the Labor Committee, was introduced by Senator Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) but is generally regarded as embodying the thinking of Secretary of Labor James Mitchell.

Two other bills may be introduced. One of these would be by Senator John McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the so-called Labor Rackets subcommittee. The other would be by Representative Graham Barden (D-N.C.), chairman of the House Labor Committee. Senator Kennedy has complete public hearings on his bill, and some of the witnesses also covered the Administration bill in their testimony. Even if we have a McClellan bill and a Barden bill there is practically no chance that there will be public hearings on them. In other words, the decisions from here on will be made by the Congress itself, and the public will be able to enter the debate only through either direct or indirect communication with Representatives and Senators.

The Kennedy bill is the mildest of the lot. It presumably is an attempt to eliminate wrong-doing within unions and little more. The measure contains, just as the Kennedy-Ives bill of last year, amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act but Senator Kennedy maintains that all of these are non-controversial. This is not true, and even Senator Ervin has said that he would be happier if these proposed amendments were eliminated from this bill. Labor spokesmen, however, say they will not continue to support the Kennedy bill if these amendments are not included. This means, of course, that labor leaders are in favor of the Kennedy bill as it was introduced, except for some relatively minor points.

The Administration bill is both a better and a stronger measure. In general it also prohibits wrong-doing within unions, but it goes farther. It also provides controls over secondary boycotts and coercive picketing. The unionists do not like this extension over the Kennedy bill and will oppose it with everything they have. Andrew Biehn, legislative director of the AFL-CIO, in a statement to the Kennedy Labor subcommittee, said that the Administration bill is "complicated, confusing and self-defeating."

It has been reported that Secretary Mitchell will not make the same fight for this bill as he did last year. It is difficult to see how he can. That report is an exaggeration. The Secretary has made it clear that he is willing to have one bill which deals with the important affairs of unions and a second bill which amends the Taft-Hartley Act, but he insists that there must be a firm commitment on the second measure. Most observers are of the opinion that regardless of the commitment, if the Kennedy bill is passed there will not be further labor legislation. To these persons, therefore, it appears important that the Kennedy bill not be approved.

What, specifically, is lacking in even the Administration bill?

Three major points may be mentioned.

1. Further legislation is needed to protect the rights of an individual worker to join or not to join a union. This means the elimination of the closed shop in its various forms. If an employer is willing to agree to such a provision in a contract.

2. The philosophy of the anti-trust laws must be made applicable to labor unions. The purpose of this is to end the monopolistic practices now engaged in by unions and their leaders.

3. There should be a provision prohibiting the use of union dues for political purposes and it should not be possible to get around this prohibition by calling the activity an educational program, or some other fancy term.

One or more of these three points may be included in the bills of Senator McClellan and Representative Barden. That remains to be seen. The danger is that, unless the public makes its voice heard, the Kennedy bill will be passed and that will be all the legislation on labor we get out of this Congress.

BAYSIDE NEWS

BAYSIDE LIONS CLUB

The Bayside Lions Club held their regular meeting Wednesday night, February 18, at Shore Drive Inn. The president, William D. Nagg, presided.

Lion "Mike" Henry, program chairman for the evening presented Turner Doster, sports editor of the Ledger-Star, who introduced Lt. John Hook, USN, guest speaker. Lt. Hook is well known in tennis circles, having participated in several topflight amateur events throughout the country. He talked to the club about the tennis facilities available in the Norfolk area and also about the game which can be enjoyed by all ages with little expense. With the proper promotion by interested parties Lt. Hook believes that this area would produce a number of top-flight tennis players.

Lion Bates Beers, boys and girls committee chairman, announced that the club is sponsoring a team in the Little Creek Amphibious Base Little League this summer. A meeting will be held some time in March for the purpose of organizing.

Lion Gene Caldwell, 1st vice president, chairman of the Activities Committee, reported that the order has been placed for the "blind-made" articles which will be sold by the club in the Annual Broom Sale which will be held in May. This year the club will sell the following articles: household brooms, mill brooms, window brooms, door mats, ironing board covers and ironing board pads.

Lion Julius Rice, Education Committee chairman, reported that the club has contributed $50.00 to the Princess Anne High School Scholarship Fund. This is a promotion of the Key Club which is endeavoring to raise funds for two $1,000.00 scholarships. Each member of the club received a "I Helped a Scholar With a Dollar" decal for his car.

District Governor Spurgeon Toney was present and talked briefly. He said he was pleased with the fine reports which he received from the Bayside Club.

George Lyon, chairman for the Bayside area of the Heart Fund announced that the club will help in the Heart Fund Drive by collecting contributions on Sunday, Feb. 22 through the Bayside area.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPT.

The Chesapeake Beach Volunteer Fire Department is conducting a "Fund Raising Campaign" in the Bayside area. Telephone stickers with the Fire Department's number are being distributed from house to house by a committee from the Ladies' Auxiliary and a committee from the Fire Department.

Mrs. Wesley Proffitt, president of the Auxiliary, is in charge of the ladies committee. The following committee from the Fire Department is heading up the drive: W. J. Leveridge, chairman, Allen Tottle, J. Blankenship and John Dunning.

The drive has been in full swing for 10 days and so far $700.00 has been raised. It is hoped that much more will be collected. The funds will be used to furnish better service and an ambulance has been purchased for the Chesapeake Beach community. Many of the firemen are taking a "First Aid" course under the direction of William Gaylord. When their course is completed Chesapeake Beach will have a 24-hour ambulance service.

Next Sunday, Feb. 27, the Fire Department and the Lake Shores Civic League will solicit in the Lake Shores area.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH MEN'S CLUB RE-ORGANIZING

The Chesapeake Beach Men's Club held a re-organization meeting Friday night, Feb. 20 at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center.

The club voted to appoint a three-man committee to go before the Army District Engineers for help in stopping erosion which has cut a quarter of a mile into the Chesapeake Beach area waterfront in 15 years. The committee with work with the Bayside Pines Civic League who are also interested in the erosion problem.

W. J. Leveridge, publicity chairman, said the proposed Chesapeake Bay Tunnel bridge would probably affect the housing of property in the area.

The club requested Princess Anne Circuit Court Judge Henry W. Mackenzie Jr. to appoint five local residents special officers. Other problems discussed included summer beach hazards and the provision of life guards and keeping the beachfront clean.

The next meeting of the club will be held March 8 at 8 p.m. at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center.

ST. Pius X CHURCH PLANS SUMMER FESTIVAL

A special meeting was called Sunday afternoon, February 22 at 2:30 p.m. in the school of St. Pius X Catholic Church. Plans for the church's second annual "Spring Festival" were discussed. Mr. and Mrs. Emery Timman were appointed chairman and co-chairman of this event.

The committee decided on Friday and Saturday, May 15 and 16 as the dates of the Festival. According to Rev. Michael Gillin, pastor, it will be a joint project in which all the parish organizations will participate. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Timman the planning committee is composed of the following members: Mr. Frank Scherrip, Men's Club; Mr. Ray Schulte, P.T.A.; Mrs. George East, Woman's Club; Mrs. James Cook, C.Y.O., and Mrs. Ray Dali, publicity.

DIAMOND SPRINGS CIVIC LEAGUE

The Diamond Springs Civic League will hold its regular meeting, Tuesday, March 3 at 8 p.m. at the Bayside School. Mr. Harold McClurg, president, will preside. Slaughter Sukg, vice president, will give a report on and which was made available for the Community Building. This has been a five-year dream for the organization.

At the last meeting of the Civic League it was voted that the club would sponsor the County Youth Recreation Program with Mr. Elmer Evans as chairman.

The following new committee chairmen were appointed at the last meeting: entertainment, Mrs. Ava Cunningham; program, Mrs. Angela Coffield; ways and means, Mrs. Arleen Evans; welcoming, Mrs. Kay Dickens and Mrs. Jean Griffin; membership, John Dorman; telephone, Mrs. B. Sweeney; publicity and Diamond Springs News, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dali.

Cavalier Garden Club Meets

The Cavalier Garden Club of Virginia Beach met February 18 at the Princess Anne Country Club for their monthly luncheon meeting. Plans for the annual flower show to be held April 16-17 at the Willis Wayside, were discussed. Also, the club voted to pledge $50.00 to be used for fertilizer for the planting along Atlantic Blvd., hoping other Garden Clubs would do likewise. Our guest speaker, Mr. Fred Heutte, gave a most informative talk on "Landscape Design."

Ribbons for flower arrangements were won by the following members: Mrs. L. O. Clark Jr., and Mrs. Vernon J. Honeycutt, blue; Mrs. Harold B. Kellam and Mrs. H. Douglas Stewart, red and Mrs. James A. Perkinson, yellow.

For horticultural specimens: Mrs. Starr Cromwell won two blue ribbons and Mrs. W. Benjamin Costenbader, Mrs. Walton G. Saunders, Mrs. J. W. Wood, and Mrs. James A. Perkinson, each a red ribbon, and Mrs. Frank D. Farrell, Jr., a yellow ribbon.

Chaplain Petree Guest Minister at Scott Memorial

The congregation of Scott Memorial Methodist Church, Oceana, was honored with the presence of Chaplain, Commander, William R. Petree, of the Naval Air Station, Oceana. Chaplain Petree spoke on his trips to Alaska and Hawaii, his work as Navy Chaplain. His sermon climaxed the current emphasis on the study of Missions in Alaska and Hawaii, which has been the subject of special interest in the Church-wide School of Missions during the months of January and February.

Chaplain and Mrs. Petree were guests of Rev. and Mrs. F. H. Strieby, for dinner at the Scott Memorial parsonage, as was Dr. E. M. Coffee, Mrs. Strieby's father. Classes in Church membership for Junior children which began on Tuesday, will be continued each Tuesday after school until Palm Sunday, when the class of juniors will be received into Church membership.

A second class will be conducted for Intermediates and youth on Sunday afternoon at 5:30, beginning next Sunday and continuing until Easter Sunday, the youth class will be received into Church membership.

On Wednesday night, the Methodist Men of Scott Memorial had as their guests the Air Explorer Post of Boy Scouts of America, which is sponsored by the men's club. The Cub, Pack, Scout Troop and Air Explorers all participated in the recent Scoutcraft held at the Convention center in Virginia Beach.

Desserts using Sweet Chocolate

Increasing in Popularity
There's romance and mystery in the history of food... and in the origins of many famous recipes. This is the year a layer cake recipe made history - German's Chocolate Cake - a delicately flavored, three-layered cake with a rich coconut-pecan frosting and filling. If you've already tried it, there's certainly no mystery in your mind as to why it is so popular.

One story has it that this recipe was brought from Germany by a soldier. We believe it is named for the sweet cooking chocolate that gives it its unique flavor. Whatever its origin, we know the recipe started somewhere in the south-west and then, from one woman to another, spread all across the country.

German's sweet chocolate itself has quite a history. It was developed by one Samuel German, an Englishman who came to America in the late 1800s as coachman to the head of a large chocolate processing company. Just how and when Sam German became interested in his employer's business and an expert on chocolate is another culinary mystery, but by the late 1800s he had developed the formula for the sweet cooking chocolate that still bears his name.

For over 75 years this chocolate has had a relatively small but loyal band of devotees... women whose mothers have passed on to them treasured recipes using this sweet cooking chocolate. But when the recipe for German's Chocolate Cake became so popular, large numbers of young homemakers began to clamor for German's sweet chocolate. Most groceries and chain stores now have it in good supply.

Here are the recipes using German's Sweet Chocolate - These were sent to me from the general foods kitchen - all tested and ready for you to try.

Celebrity Fudge
3 pkgs. (1 pound each) Baker's German's Sweet Chocolate
2 cups Baker's Semi-Sweet chocolate chips
2 cups (1 pt.) marshmallow cream
2 cups chopped nuts
1/4 cups sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 table-spoons butter
1 1/2 cup (1 tall can) undiluted evaporated milk.

Break German's Sweet Chocolate into squares and place in large bowl with chocolate chips. Marshmallow cream and nuts. Bring sugar, salt, butter and milk to a boil stirring occasionally for 5 minutes. Then pour the boiling syrup over ingredients in bowl. Stir until chocolate is melted. Pour mixture into ungreased 13x9 inch pan. Cool until firm; then cut in squares. To store, keep in tightly covered container. Makes about 44 pounds.

Easy Ice Box Dessert

1 package (8 pound) Baker's German's Sweet Chocolate
1 table-spoon water
Dash salt
2 egg yolks
1 cup cream (whipped)
32 Vanilla Wafers.

Place chocolate and water in saucepan over low heat. Stir until chocolate is melted. Add salt. Then add egg yolks, one at a time, beating quickly and well after each. Cool. Fold in whipped cream.

Line bottom and sides of 8x12x3 inch loaf pan with waxed paper, taping paper around well above pan. Arrange a layer of Vanilla wafers on bottom of pan. Add about 1/2 of chocolate mixture. Repeat until all ingredients are used, topping with chocolate cream mixture. Chill 2 to 12 hours in refrigerator. Unmold and serve in slices. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

German's Chocolate Cake

1 package (1 pound) Baker's Sweet Chocolate
3 cup boiling water
1 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
4 egg yolks - unbeaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted Cake Flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup butter milk
4 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Melt chocolate in the boiling water. Cool. Cream shortening and sugar, until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating after each. Add vanilla and melted chocolate, and mix until well blended. Sift flour with soda and salt. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with buttermilk, beating after each addition until batter is smooth. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

Pour batter into three - 8 or 9 inch layer pans or two 9x9x2 inch square pans, which have been lined on bottoms with waxed paper. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 35 to 40 minutes for round layers, 40 to 50 minutes for square pans. Cool. Frost with Coffee whipped cream or coconut-pecan frosting.

Coffee Whipped Cream

2 cups whipping cream
1 cup sugar
4 teaspoons instant Maxwell House Coffee
1 teaspoon Vanilla.
Combine ingredients in chilled bowl. Beat until cream holds its shape, do not overbeat. Makes about 4 cups. Garnish with blanched almonds dipped in melted chocolate.

Coconut - Pecan Frosting

Combine 1 cup evaporated milk 1 cup sugar, 2 egg yolks, 1 pound margarine, and 1 teaspoon vanilla in a saucepan. Cook over medium heat 12 minutes stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat. Add about 1 1/2 cups Baker's angel flake coconut, and 1 cup chopped pecans. Beat until cool and spreading consistency. Makes enough to cover tops of 8 or 9 inch layers or 2 9-inch layers.

Now, I've given you the recipe. Its one of those that's quite an undertaking-but if you think it sounds so delicious (it really is) and you want one, I'd suggest you go to Mrs. Moore's Bakery and give Dottie or Max Moore your order. Its truly one of the most elegant cakes. I've ever tasted and they can really bake a German Chocolate Cake.

By-the-way - gee! Wish I had a slice right now!

"Zoned melting," a process that refines Germanium—a most important component of the recently developed transistor to 99.999% purity, was invented by W. G. Farn of Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Beach Lioness Club Holds Meeting

A meeting of the Lioness Club of Virginia Beach was held on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. John C. Bradburne, 213 S. Pungu Place, Birdneck Point, with Mrs. Charles W. Williams as co-hostess.

After the adjournment of regular business, the program took the form of a birthday party. Coins equal to her age were contributed by each member, birthday verses were composed, and gifts were exchanged. A beautifully decorated birthday cake highlighted the refreshments.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY?

Who said there is no such thing as juvenile delinquency? Look at the record! Millions of boys and girls under twenty-one in trouble with the police—dozens of thousands of juvenile delinquents—organized crime by minors.

But this is not always juvenile delinquency. This is often the tragedy of ADULT DELINQUENCY. It is frequently the result of neglect, indifference, and lack of Christian training in our homes. It is the failure of parents that has led to the wreckage of many of these young lives.

Bring your child to Sunday School and Church. Give him the spiritual care that he wants and needs. Remember, Mother and Dad, we cannot always say, "Juvenile delinquency." Be sure it is not your failure which may cause your child to ruin his life.

LISTEN TO YOUR COUNTY AGENT 12:30 MON. THRU FRI ON WBOF: 6:20 THURSDAYS, W.T.A.R.: 12:10 SATURDAY, WTAR

Princess Anne, Va.
February 26, 1959

Mr. Dick Cockrell
County Agent
Princess Anne, Va.
Dear Mr. Cockrell:

I understand that your job is to aid and assist farm people in the county. I am not a farmer, but I do truly need help. I realize how busy you are and how your days are full—and most nights—with Extension activities—so I am requesting an appointment with you. On the next available Saturday I would like assistance with the following items:

1. A lock on my back door is broken.
2. An apple tree in the back yard needs pruning.
3. My lawn needs re-seeding in spots.
4. I have a leaky pipe in the kitchen.
5. My baby's play pen needs a new screw. It has it propped up on books.
6. My cocker spaniel needs a nail trimming.
7. A pest mole is feasting on my tulip bulbs—he should be caught.
8. A funny looking round ball keeps popping off in the comode closet—this makes my water pump just run and run.

The wires have slipped on my clothes line until all my clothes meet in the middle and drop to the ground.

There are many things that I am in dire-need of assistance with that are too numerous to list here, but I feel these listed above make a good start.

I hope you will give this letter prompt attention and comply at your earliest convenience. Thanking you in advance for your much needed aid, I remain
Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Cockrell

SEEDING ALFALFA

Alfalfa is the most exacting forage crop grown in the county in its time requirement, soil drainage, and fertility requirements. However, there are usually some soils adapted in alfalfa production on some farms in Princess Anne. Here are eight suggestions which will help you obtain a better stand and a more productive crop of alfalfa when you seed.

Choose a deep, well-drained, soil. Friable or crumbly clays, silt loams and sandy loams are preferable; but alfalfa will grow well on most well-drained, deep soils if they are properly limed and fertilized. Alfalfa is exacting in its requirement for a well-drained soil. Do not seed it on soils that are not well-drained are subject to overflow, or are likely to remain wet late in the spring. Test soil for lime. Alfalfa requires a pH of 6.5 or above and will not tolerate a soil that is much below 6.5. The use of liberal amounts of lime is essential for successful alfalfa production. If the pH is below 6.5, apply ground limestone or the equivalent as follows: 6.2 to 6.4, 1 ton per acre; 5.8 to 6.2, 2 tons; pH 5.5 to 5.8, 3 tons.

Use liberal amounts of fertilizer when seeding. Improved stands, higher yields and longer lived stands will pay dividends on the liberal use of fertilizer at seeding time. Use 1000 to 1200 pounds of 2-12-12 banded fertilizer or the equivalent on soils of average fertility. On soils with a naturally low fertility level, apply an additional 400 to 600 pounds of 0-14-14 or 0-10-20 or the equivalent per acre, and plow down. If a soil is low in just one major element, such as phosphate or potash, a basic application of that element may be used in place of a fertilizer containing both phosphate and potash.

Prepare a good seedbed. The ideal seedbed for alfalfa is firm and compact so that it provides an abundance of moisture for the young seedlings, and has enough firm granular soil to cover the seed. Plowing followed by disking and rolling is generally preferred.

Seed an adapted variety. Use Certified Williamsburg, Certified Atlantic, Certified Buffalo, Certified Narragansett, Kansas Common, or Oklahoma Approved. In experiments conducted by the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station, the first four have consistently been the highest yielding varieties. When seeding alfalfa-orchard grass mixtures, seed 10-20 pounds of alfalfa and 3 to 5 pounds of orchard grass per acre. For alfalfa alone, use 15 to 25 pounds per acre.

Inoculate the alfalfa seed. Always inoculate alfalfa seed with a good commercial alfalfa culture according to the directions. Plant as soon as possible after the seed is inoculated and keep it in a shady place between the time it is inoculated and planted. Seed held over 24 hours after inoculation should be re-inoculated before seeding. Note: if seed has been chemically treated for disease control, seed within two hours after inoculation.

In Princess Anne make spring seedings during February and up to March 15th.

Use a good seeding method. There are numerous methods of seeding alfalfa successfully: sowing with regular seeder; sowing with a seedling attachment on a cultipacker; broadcasting and rolling or harrowing lightly; seeding on top of the ground behind a grain drill. The most important consideration is to avoid covering the seed more than 1 inch in heavy soil or 1 inch in lighter soil. Seeding on a firm seedbed and rolling is the most widely accepted method at present.

A word of caution. The practice of seeding alfalfa in fall seeded small grain in the spring is becoming more widely accepted now than formerly. At best this method is hazardous as the small grain crowds the young alfalfa seedlings and often the alfalfa is completely lost before the grain is harvested. Usually it is best to seed alfalfa in the late summer or fall following the small grain.

SEEDING RED CLOVER

If you can not get alfalfa to grow satisfactorily on your farm, I would suggest that you try a field of Red Clover this spring. It yields higher and has more feed value than lespedeza.

Red Clover can be used in short rotations with soybeans, corn, small grain, and hay with red clover alone or with grass as the hay crop. The second cutting may be used for hay, seed production, or pasture. Frequently the late growth is used for pasture.

Red Clover is Adapted to Princess Anne. Red Clover may be grown in all parts of the county. This legume is best adapted to deep, well-drained, heavy textured soils that have been well fertilized. Generally, the pH should be 6.0 or above for maximum growth.

Although highest yields are obtained under the conditions described above, one of the chief advantages of red clover is its ability to tolerate soils of poorer drainage, lower pH, and less fertility than alfalfa. If a soil produces good corn, it will grow red clover.

Under favorable conditions, yields of from 3 to 4 tons of hay per acre may be obtained.

Use an Adapted Variety

The most important single consideration in growing red clover is to choose a variety adapted to this locality. Many of the varieties developed in other regions or from foreign seed have given poor stands and low yields when compared with varieties adapted to Virginia Conditions. The varieties recommended in Virginia are Certified Kenland, and Certified Virginia Adapted, Chesapeake and Pennacott. These varieties have had consistently higher yields by wide margins than unadapted varieties or strains. They are longer lived and have a higher degree of resistance to winter injury and diseases.

Adequate Plant Food Needed. Phosphorus and potash must be adequate if high yields of red clover hay are to be expected, but these macronutrients may be applied to other crops in the rotation rather than to the red clover without lowering the yield or quality of the hay.

Inoculate Red Clover Seed

Always inoculate red clover seed with a good commercial red clover culture according to the directions. Plant as soon as possible after the seed is inoculated, and keep the seed out of the direct sunlight after it is inoculated. Seed held over 24 hours after inoculation should be re-inoculated before planting. If the seed has been chemically treated for disease control, plant within two hours after inoculation.

Seed in Late Winter. Red Clover should be seeded in late winter for best stands. The first to the middle of February is generally preferred.

Usually red clover is seeded in small grain. Seed 12 to 15 pounds per acre alone. Several methods of seeding are used such as broadcast seeding followed by harrowing or disk-ing, seeding with a seeding attachment on a cultipacker or with a roller type seeder, or seeding with a grain drill. Any of these methods may be used successfully. Regardless of the method used, the seed should be covered lightly but never more than 1 inch.

HERE'S HOW TO SEED THAT PASTURE

Time. Take a soil sample. Soil boxes can be obtained from my office. Return these samples to me for analysis and recommendations.

Fertilizer. Apply amount and analysis of fertilizer needed as indicated by soil test. On heavy soils and soils of high fertility this will usually be 800 to 1000 pounds of 2-12-12. On light soils, sandy soils and soils of low fertility, 1000 pounds or more of 5-10-10 will usually be needed. On extremely poor soils, additional phosphate or potash may be needed. If so, apply it and plow down before seeding.

Encourage Deep Root Growth. This may be done by plowing down 1 or more of the line and fertilizer. This is very important on soils of low fertility or in need of a heavy lime application. The portion of fertilizer and lime not plowed down should be applied and harrowed in just before seeding. Harrow and roll until seedbed is firm.

What to Seed. Seed 1 to 2 pounds of certified ladino clover and 12 to 14 pounds of Virginia-grown or domestic orchard grass. Where orchard grass is not adapted use 12 to 14 pounds of certified Ky. 21 fescue in place of orchard grass. For higher yields and more flexible use, 3 pounds red clover or 5 to 8 pounds alfalfa may be added to the above mixture. Always inoculate Legume Seed Immediately Before Seeding.

For hog pasture use 5 pounds of Ladino with no grass.

When to Seed

Seed from February 1 until March 15. Avoid Deep Covering of Seed. Do not cover seed more than 1 inch in heavy soils and 1 inch on lighter sandy soils. Use corrugated roller, spike tooth or seeding harrow to cover seed immediately after seeding.

IRISH POTATO PLANTING TIME IS HERE

If you are going to plant potatoes this spring now is the time to get going. However, if you haven't planted, maybe you are still trying to determine if you should.

I can't give you much help with that decision, but I can relate some facts presented by some folks in the know.

At Mercker of the National Potato Council says that potato stocks are high, and it will be June before the old crop is gone. Then there will be a period of about a month for prices to adjust. If all boils down to a dark outlook for the cobbler variety. Many folks are urging farmers to plant Katahdin and Sebago varieties.

salutes the spring...

Over in her underground den, Gwendoline Groundhog slept the winter through. Groundhog Day came, a crowd gathered for her shadow ceremony—but no Gwendoline!

At last, a bright young chipmunk called her from a public phone. "We're waiting for you," squeaked the chipmunk. "I'll call you back," mumbled Gwendoline sleepily, and she hung up.

Suddenly she called the Weather Bureau. "It's a gray, cloudy day," they told her. "Good," she said, and called the chipmunk back. "Spring's nearly here," she announced. "No shadow!"

As the assembled multitude rejoiced, Gwendoline rolled over for another 40 winks. "Those G&P ads are right," she yawned. "The phone's the handiest thing in my home."
